GOP Accuses JFK Of Police State Methods

Legislators Hit Use Of "Naked Political Power"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Republican leadership accused President Kennedy Thursday of using methods characteristic of a police state to "blackjack' the steel industry into calling off its price increase.

The Republican spokesmen, in a formal statement, said the President directed and supported a series of government actions that "imperilled basic American rights, went far beyond the law, and were more characteristic of a police state than a free government.'

"Naked Political Power"

The statement said nine actions directed or supported by Kennedy were "punitive, heavy-handed and frightening.' It said that, taken together, they amounted to "a display of naked political power never before seen in this nation.'

"We condone nothing in the actions of the steel companies," the statement said, "except their right to make an economic judgment without massive retaliation by the federal government.'

"Temporarily President Kennedy may have won a political victory, but at the cost of doing violence to the fundamental precepts of a free society.

"This nation must realize that we have passed within the shadow of police state methods. We hope that we never again step into those dark regions whatever the controversy of the moment, be it economic or political.'

Fundamental Issue Raised

The statement was issued in behalf of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate Republican Leader, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, party leader in the House, and others who participated in weekly GOP strategy meetings.

It said the administration actions which caused the steel industry to rescind its $6-a-ton price increase raise this fundamental issue: "Should a president of the United States use the enormous powers of the federal government to blackjack any segment of our free society into line with his personal judgment without regard to law.'

U.S. Balance Of Payments Deficit Drops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. balance of payments deficit dropped sharply in the first three months of 1962, it was learned Thursday. The annual rate of the deficit fell from $6 billion to less than $2.5 billion.

The precise amount of improvement as compared with the unusually bad fourth quarter of 1961 is not yet figured. Officials are working with sketchy preliminary figures.

While the official statistics will not be available for about a month, federal experts saw reason to hope that the annual rate for the first quarter might be significantly below $2.5 billion. However, they said it was certain to exceed the $1.4-billion rate of the January-March period last year.

These sources expressed cautious optimism that, for all of 1962, the deficit might be no greater, and perhaps a bit less, than last year's total of $2.5 billion.

The deficit represents the difference between the amount of money leaving the country—to pay for travel, imports, foreign aid, investment and military programs—and the lesser amount being received from foreign sources.

Persistent deficits, such as the United States has experienced for the past decade, constantly add to the fund of dollars which foreigners may use to buy American gold—thus reducing the gold reserves that form the basis for international confidence in the dollar.

The situation was one chief reason cited by president Kennedy in attacking last week's effort by steel companies to add $6 a ton to the price of steel. The President expressed fear that higher prices would make it more difficult for American goods to compete in foreign markets, and easier for foreigners to sell their wares in the United States.

Nehru Charges New Chinese Incursions

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru announced Thursday that Communist Chinese troops have made new incursions into Indian territory. India called the move a "flagrant breach" of Chinese promises to maintain peace in the area.

U.N. Praised By Tshombe

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)President Moise Tshombe returned to his secessionist capital Thursday with high praise for the United Nations, whose forces almost had a fight with Congo government troops who blocked his departure from Leopoldville for 24 hours.

Two Congo fire engines barricaded the runway as Tshombe's U.N.-chartered plane was taxiing for takeoff from Leopoldville, where the secessionist leader had been holding unity talks with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula for more than a month.

The United Nations rushed in Nigerian troops, who occupied the control tower and set up mortars while 150 Congolese reinforcements occupied the main terminal building and the road fronting the airport.

It was Robert Gardiner of Ghana, U.N. chief of operations, who finally gave the word for the Nigerians to clear the runway.

Skybolt Fired Successfully From Bomber

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Skybolt, the air-launched ballistic missile designed to increase the nuclear strike range of United States and British bombers, was fired successfully on its maiden test flight Thursday from a B52 Stratofortress streaking high above the Atlantic Ocean.

The huge jet bomber, escorted by four jet planes, unleashed the two-stage, solid-fuel missile from beneath its wing seconds after sweeping over the tip of Cape Canaveral at an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

The 39-foot, 5½-ton projectile dropped straight down about 500 feet, the first stage flashed to life and the Skybolt shot forward, swooping upward far in front of the plane.

Range and accuracy were not major objectives on the initial flight and the distance traveled was not announced.

In advance of the shot, Brig. Gen. David M. Jones, Skybolt director for the Air Force, said: "There is no target on the first shot. We don't care where it hits as long as it hits in the Atlantic Ocean."

The first flight missile was equipped with most systems intended for the operational Skybolt and conceivably could have flown the maximum 1,150-mile range.

A major component missing was a stellar inertial-guidance system which would enable the missile to take readings from the stars and zero in on its target with extreme accuracy. This system is not expected to be ready for several months. The missile was steered Thursday by a more conventional inertial system.

Cosmonaut Titov May Come To U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gherman S. Titov, Soviet cosmonaut who orbited the earth 17 times, is expected to come to the United States at the end of the month, it was learned Thursday night.

A spokesman for the National Academy of Sciences said in response to questions that the Soviet government had designated Titov as a member of its delegation to the International Space Conference to be held in Washington April 30 to May 9.

NEW YORK (UPI) —Comedian Jackie Gleason underwent surgery Thursday for removal of a cyst on a lymph duct in his month.

Vacationing President Swims In Florida Sun

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy disposed of some document signing Thursday, received an intelligence briefing, and then went for a swim in the sun.

The President and his family—Mrs. Kennedy, the two children and even Charlie the dog — are here for a 10-day holiday. They slipped quickly into the easy ways of a Florida vacation.

But at least for Thursday, an aide said, there was to be no cruising on Lake Worth or the Atlantic, although the presidential yacht Honey Fitz is at its dock and ready any time.

"No boat ride today," said Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretaty. "No official visitors this weekend."

"He'll keep current with happenings of international affairs and he'll have contact with the Washington staff," Hatcher said.

But otherwise there was little business in sight other than the paper work which no president ever escapes completely—and a Saturday date to press a telegraph key opening the Seattle World's Fair with an electrical impulse from a distant star. The President and his family are staying at the oceanfront mansion of friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul, hidden behind palms, hedges and blazing hibiscus. The picture windows of the living room look out over the Atlantic. The beach is only a few steps away, and so is a heated pool.

Soviets Try To Block U.S. Atom Tests

Moves May Keep Parley In Session Through Easter

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union launched an 11th-hour campaign Thursday to block projected U.S. atmospheric nuclear tests in the Pacific. Their maneuvers, foiled at the outset, may keep the 17-nation disarmament conference in session through the Easter weekend.

Zorrin's Sentiment

"Fruitful negotiations on cessation of tests cannot be conducted along with the thunder of nuclear test explosions,' he said.

A similar sentiment was expressed in a statement from Moscow by the Soviet news agency Tass.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said the United States will not accept an unpoliced moratorium on testing under any circumstances — not even during the Easter recess.

"We will not be burned twice by the same fire,' he said, referring to the Soviet Union's violation of a gentlemen's agreement with a series of tests last fall.

West Standing Firm

Both Dean and British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber told Zorin the test series will go ahead unless the Soviet Union promptly accepts na internationally controlled test ban treaty providing for compulsory on-site inspections. The tests, on Christmas and Johnston islands in the Pacific, are expected to begin next week.

Zorin, Dean and Godber spent more than five hours in acrimonious procedural haggling in a plenary session of the conference and a subsequent meeting of the three-nation test ban subcommittee. The argument remained unresolved.

Delegates who had packed their bags in hope of leaving for their Easter recess were notified there will be another plenary meeting Friday.

Algiers Police Keep Moslem Mob In Check

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — A Moslem mob marched on a police station Thursday, shouting threats to take it by storm as 15 persons—all but one of them Moslems—were killed in another day of terrorist action.

Police finally succeeded in dispersing the mob and heavily armed French troops sealed off the turbulent Moslem quarter of Belcourt in an effort to prevent a new outbreak.

The European Secret Army Organization is waging a bitter campaign of terrorist shootings in an effort to incite Moslems to mob action and torpedo the cease-fire signed by the government of France and the Algerian nationalists as a prelude to Algerian independence.

In recent days the Moslems have shown signs of breaking out against the discipline of their leaders who have urged them to avoid retaliation.

Witnesses said several men machine-gunned a Moslem crowd from a speeding car, wounding two persons. The assailants made a getaway in the traffic. A throng quickly gathered around the wounded, and as the crowd grew so did its anger. It finally marched on the nearest police station.

Reds Reportedly Parade GI Captives

SAIGON, South Viet nam (UPI) —Unconfirmed reports from the coastal village of Da Nang said two American Army soldiers captured by the Communists are alive and are being paraded through South Viet Nam villages for propaganda purposes.

The reports were brought here by travelers from Da Nang, a village 350 miles northeast of Saigon and about 100 miles south of the 17th parallel, which divides Viet Nam into the Communist North and free South Viet Nam.

The two missing men are Sgt. 1.C. Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Sgt. George E. Groom of Stewartsville, Mo.

Military Chiefs Demand Guido Curb Peronists

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Armed forces chiefs bore down heavily on President Jose Mario Guido's three-weeks-old government Thursday with demands that Peronist and Communist political activity be suppressed with an iron hand.

Argentine political leaders in and out of the government appeared to despair of maneuvering a comprmoise.

The army ordered reinforcements to Buenos Aires and industrial suburbs and reported it was keeping half its troops in barracks — despite the usual leaves for Holy Week—as a precaution against possible Peronist and Communist demonstrations.

About 400 soldiers left Bahia Blanca by train for the capital, and a number of troops also were no their way. A marine regiment at Puerto Belgrano was under orders to move into Buenos Aires before May 1.

Roberto Echepareborda, appointed by deposed President Arturo Frondizi as federal interventor in Buenos Aires Province, ordered all Peronist committees to end their activities, after he consulted with police and military leaders.

Echepareborda was one of the five interventors named by Frondizi in provinces where Peronists elected governors in elections last March 18. Those were the first elections since former dictator Juan O. Peron was deposed in 1955 in which Peronists were allowed to run for office.

The army, navy and air force chiefs banished Frondizi to a prison island, charging he had blundered by allowing the Peronists to resume political activity.

They are now demanding that Guido appoint interventos in all 17 provinces, void Peronist victories in five governorship and 45 House of Deputies races and outlaw the Peronist and Communist parties.

Cuban Captive Bitter As Wealth Frees One

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Members of the Cuban exile force captured a year ago were reported angered and embittered Thursday at the release of a fellow prisoner ransomed Wednesday by his wealthy father.

Guillermo Alonso Pujol, a former vice president of Cuba, said Wednesday he had deposited $100,000 with a Candaian bank, the price set by the government for the freedom of his son, Jorge Alonso Pujlo.

The captives had agreed to wait until the ransom committee collecting funds in the United States and other countries can free all of them simultaneously or else allow those belonging to poorer families to be ransomed first, informants said.

Army Helicopter Falls; Three Die

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — An Army helicpoter plunged into woods near here Thursday while on a training mission, killing the three crew members aboard.

Rescue workers recovered the bodies from the wreckage after flames had been smothered with chemicals.

An eyewitness said the craft plunged from its trailing position in a line of three troop-carrying helicopters.

They were on a training mission from Ft. Belvoir in northern Virginia to Ft. Eustis, Va.

C Of C Leader Says Steel Row Upset Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president-elect of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, H. Ladd Plumly, said Thursday that last week's steel price tug-of-war has had an increasingly disquieting effect on businessmen and investors.

It resulted, he said, from the shock of the government marshaling so many pressure forces to knock down the $6-a-ton price increase.

This has been partly alleviated, Plumley added, by President Kennedy's assurances that his administration will harbor no ill will and wants close cooperation among business, labor and government to achieve national economic growth and stability.

But for the business community to regain its confidence, Plumly said, "we need now to have a rallying of the forces of business, labor and government.' Businessmen, he said, will be watching Kennedy's actions closely.

Plumley, chairman of the board and president of State Mutual Life Assurance Co. of America, Worcester, Mass., made his views known in a statement and interview after the chamber's board of directors chose him president for a one-year term starting May 2.

Army Suspends Roberts While Speech Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army Thursday night suspended Maj. Arch E. Roberts from his military duties after he asserted that Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles has a "Communist background."

Yorty declared, "I took my public stand against communism many years ago and it has not changed." He said that what he called "such a loose charge" caused confusion which gave aid and comfort to subversives.

Roberts, former information officer for resigned Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, made the charge in an off-the-cuff speech to the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Several hours later, the army issued a one-sentence statement saying he had been "suspended from performance of military duty pending further investigation" of statements in the speech.

An Army spokesman would not elaborate on what the suspension meant to Roberts' future military career. The major is now assigned to plans and operations of the Second Logistical Command at Ft. Lee, Va.

The Army had rejected the original speech Roberts wanted to deliver to the DAR. In the speech he did make, he said his charge about Yorty was documented by material in the files of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Roberts, wearing a beribboned blue Army dress uniform, accused G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs and former governor of Michigan, of "leftist leanings.'

Asked about his statements, the Army said only that it "is studying the case to determine what action is justified under the circumstances.' Officials refused to elaborate.

A DAR spokesman said an Army observer was present for Roberts' speech. The Army said, however, that no one was assigned to monitor the officer's statements and that it had no official record of what he said.

U.S.-Soviet 'Open Cities' Plan Proposed By Prof

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Imagine an invasion of the Soviet Union by 200,000 Americans—not soldiers, but ordinary citizens armed only with ideas and on a 10-day visit in an exchange program that would bring a like number of Russians to this country.

That, in essence, is the "open cities" plan proposed by Edmund Zawacki, a University of Wisconsin professor of Slavic languages.

Zawacki says 12 American communities have formally notified the secretary of state they are ready to exchange delegations with Soviet communities of comparable size.

The list includes eight communities in Wisconsin where in the last four years the 54-year-old professor has lectured on the idea, plus Waverly and Tripoli, Iowa; Northampton, Mass., where Zawacki was born, and its neighbor, Easthampton. The Wisconsin communities are Jefferson, Belleville, Appleton, Verona, Shorewood, Birnamwood, Perry in Dane County, and Madison.

Zawacki claims several House and Senate members of both parties are familiar with the idea and interested in it.

Main arguments raised against it by State Department officials, he says, were the cost, the prospect of Soviet resistance and allegations that no desirable political effects inside the U.S.S.R. are foreseeable.

There are some 20,000 cities and villages in the United States—about the same number as in the U.S.S.R.—and the plan calls for an exchange of representative delegations from each city with the host government paying expenses.

East German Commander Is Replaced

Switch Could Be Significant Event In Berlin Crisis

BERLIN (AP)—Moscow has recalled Marshal Ivan S. Konev as Soviet commander in Germany and retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay is to quit as President Kennedy's Berlin envoy May 6.

There was no evidence that the two tough men of Soviet and American polciy in Germany were withdrawn by agreement. Officials in Berlin thought rather the two actions might ease the way to agreement in the new round of talks on Berlin that began in Washington Monday.

Some Western officials here took the view that Konev's departure was a significant event, an indication the Soviets were turning down the heat.

His successor as Soviet commander in Germany as announced Thursday is Col. Gen. Ivan I. Yakubovski, who was holding the job when Konev took over.

Wall Erected During Tenure

Konev was one of the great Soviet soldiers of World War II. He took command of 20 to 22 Soviet divisions in East Germany last August three days before the Communists began to build the wall through Berlin.

Three weeks later Presiden Kennedy sent Gen. Clay with a unique job—his personal ambassador in Berlin. Clay's mission was to raise morale, and to provide a direct link between the isolated city and the White House.

Clay commanded no troops, nor did he have any executive duties in Berlin, but he had what amounted to a direct line to the President. He was generally credited with taking repeated initiatives to assert American rights in Berlin.

No Limelight Seeker

Konev stayed out of the limelight, made no public appearances in Berlin and kept away from the wall. The Soviets contend that East Berlin belongs to the satellite East German government and is no business of theirs.

Konev came prominently into the news two weeks ago. He and Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, U.S. Army commander in Germany, met and settled a Soviet-American clash which arose when police of the East German Communist regime shot up a sedan of the U.S. liaison mission.

A week later the news was was leaving Berlin. This came as a shock to West Berliners, while the Communists in East Berlin registered satisfaction.

Japanese Ship Captains Freed

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Three Japanese fishing captains were released Thursday under bail on condition their fleet leave Shekilof Strait within five days.

An agreement was concluded before Superior Court Judge James Fitzgerald in Anchorage. Boats and crews held in Kodiak Harbor also were released.

The captains were arrested last weekend and charged with violating Alaska state fishing regulations. The Japanese, fishing for herring, contend the waters of the straight between Kodiak Island and the Alaska Peninsula are international.

A trial is to be held in Anchorage at a date still to be set.

Mongo Hanasaki, skipper of the mother ship Banshu Maru, was freed under $2,500 bond. Bail was $500 each for Tadao Higashima and Satoshi Mine, captains of catcher boats.

The agreement between the state of Alaska and the Eastern Pacific Fisheries Co., Japanese owners of the fishing craft, in no way settled the dispute over the right to fish in the waters of Shelikof Strait, however.

Preparations Rushed For Opening Of Fair

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Seattle's space-age World's Fair entered the final, frenzied hours of preparation Thursday for Saturday's noontime gala opening, to be signaled by President Kennedy.

A tap on a gold telegraph key by the President, vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla., and a brief telephoned message from him will get the Century 21 Exposition off on its six-month run.

Cosmonaut Titov May Come To U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gherman S. Titov, Soviet cosmonaut who orbited the earth 17 times, is expected to come to the United States at the end of the month, it was learned Thursday night.

A spokesman for the National Academy of Sciences said in response to questions that the Soviet government had designated Titov as a member of its delegation to the International Space Conference to be held in Washington April 30 to May 9.

NEW YORK (UPI) —Comedian Jackie Gleason underwent surgery Thursday for removal of a cyst on a lymph duct in his month.

Algiers Police Keep Moslem Mob In Check

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — A Moslem mob marched on a police station Thursday, shouting threats to take it by storm as 15 persons—all but one of them Moslems—were killed in another day of terrorist action.

Police finally succeeded in dispersing the mob and heavily armed French troops sealed off the turbulent Moslem quarter of Belcourt in an effort to prevent a new outbreak.

The European Secret Army Organization is waging a bitter campaign of terrorist shootings in an effort to incite Moslems to mob action and torpedo the cease-fire signed by the government of France and the Algerian nationalists as a prelude to Algerian independence.

In recent days the Moslems have shown signs of breaking out against the discipline of their leaders who have urged them to avoid retaliation.

Witnesses said several men machine-gunned a Moslem crowd from a speeding car, wounding two persons. The assailants made a getaway in the traffic. A throng quickly gathered around the wounded, and as the crowd grew so did its anger. It finally marched on the nearest police station.

Reds Reportedly Parade GI Captives

SAIGON, South Viet nam (UPI) —Unconfirmed reports from the coastal village of Da Nang said two American Army soldiers captured by the Communists are alive and are being paraded through South Viet Nam villages for propaganda purposes.

The reports were brought here by travelers from Da Nang, a village 350 miles northeast of Saigon and about 100 miles south of the 17th parallel, which divides Viet Nam into the Communist North and free South Viet Nam.

The two missing men are Sgt. 1.C. Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Sgt. George E. Groom of Stewartsville, Mo.

Military Chiefs Demand Guido Curb Peronists

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Armed forces chiefs bore down heavily on President Jose Mario Guido's three-weeks-old government Thursday with demands that Peronist and Communist political activity be suppressed with an iron hand.

Argentine political leaders in and out of the government appeared to despair of maneuvering a comprmoise.

The army ordered reinforcements to Buenos Aires and industrial suburbs and reported it was keeping half its troops in barracks — despite the usual leaves for Holy Week—as a precaution against possible Peronist and Communist demonstrations.

About 400 soldiers left Bahia Blanca by train for the capital, and a number of troops also were no their way. A marine regiment at Puerto Belgrano was under orders to move into Buenos Aires before May 1.

Roberto Echepareborda, appointed by deposed President Arturo Frondizi as federal interventor in Buenos Aires Province, ordered all Peronist committees to end their activities, after he consulted with police and military leaders.

Echepareborda was one of the five interventors named by Frondizi in provinces where Peronists elected governors in elections last March 18. Those were the first elections since former dictator Juan O. Peron was deposed in 1955 in which Peronists were allowed to run for office.

The army, navy and air force chiefs banished Frondizi to a prison island, charging he had blundered by allowing the Peronists to resume political activity.

They are now demanding that Guido appoint interventos in all 17 provinces, void Peronist victories in five governorship and 45 House of Deputies races and outlaw the Peronist and Communist parties.

Cuban Captive Bitter As Wealth Frees One

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Members of the Cuban exile force captured a year ago were reported angered and embittered Thursday at the release of a fellow prisoner ransomed Wednesday by his wealthy father.

Guillermo Alonso Pujol, a former vice president of Cuba, said Wednesday he had deposited $100,000 with a Candaian bank, the price set by the government for the freedom of his son, Jorge Alonso Pujlo.

The captives had agreed to wait until the ransom committee collecting funds in the United States and other countries can free all of them simultaneously or else allow those belonging to poorer families to be ransomed first, informants said.

Army Helicopter Falls; Three Die

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — An Army helicpoter plunged into woods near here Thursday while on a training mission, killing the three crew members aboard.

Rescue workers recovered the bodies from the wreckage after flames had been smothered with chemicals.

An eyewitness said the craft plunged from its trailing position in a line of three troop-carrying helicopters.

They were on a training mission from Ft. Belvoir in northern Virginia to Ft. Eustis, Va.

C Of C Leader Says Steel Row Upset Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president-elect of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, H. Ladd Plumly, said Thursday that last week's steel price tug-of-war has had an increasingly disquieting effect on businessmen and investors.

It resulted, he said, from the shock of the government marshaling so many pressure forces to knock down the $6-a-ton price increase.

This has been partly alleviated, Plumley added, by President Kennedy's assurances that his administration will harbor no ill will and wants close cooperation among business, labor and government to achieve national economic growth and stability.

But for the business community to regain its confidence, Plumly said, "we need now to have a rallying of the forces of business, labor and government.' Businessmen, he said, will be watching Kennedy's actions closely.

Plumley, chairman of the board and president of State Mutual Life Assurance Co. of America, Worcester, Mass., made his views known in a statement and interview after the chamber's board of directors chose him president for a one-year term starting May 2.

Army Suspends Roberts While Speech Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army Thursday night suspended Maj. Arch E. Roberts from his military duties after he asserted that Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles has a "Communist background."

Yorty declared, "I took my public stand against communism many years ago and it has not changed." He said that what he called "such a loose charge" caused confusion which gave aid and comfort to subversives.

Roberts, former information officer for resigned Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, made the charge in an off-the-cuff speech to the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Several hours later, the army issued a one-sentence statement saying he had been "suspended from performance of military duty pending further investigation" of statements in the speech.

An Army spokesman would not elaborate on what the suspension meant to Roberts' future military career. The major is now assigned to plans and operations of the Second Logistical Command at Ft. Lee, Va.

The Army had rejected the original speech Roberts wanted to deliver to the DAR. In the speech he did make, he said his charge about Yorty was documented by material in the files of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Roberts, wearing a beribboned blue Army dress uniform, accused G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs and former governor of Michigan, of "leftist leanings.'

Asked about his statements, the Army said only that it "is studying the case to determine what action is justified under the circumstances.' Officials refused to elaborate.

A DAR spokesman said an Army observer was present for Roberts' speech. The Army said, however, that no one was assigned to monitor the officer's statements and that it had no official record of what he said.

Japanese Ship Captains Freed

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Three Japanese fishing captains were released Thursday under bail on condition their fleet leave Shekilof Strait within five days.

An agreement was concluded before Superior Court Judge James Fitzgerald in Anchorage. Boats and crews held in Kodiak Harbor also were released.

The captains were arrested last weekend and charged with violating Alaska state fishing regulations. The Japanese, fishing for herring, contend the waters of the straight between Kodiak Island and the Alaska Peninsula are international.

A trial is to be held in Anchorage at a date still to be set.

Mongo Hanasaki, skipper of the mother ship Banshu Maru, was freed under $2,500 bond. Bail was $500 each for Tadao Higashima and Satoshi Mine, captains of catcher boats.

The agreement between the state of Alaska and the Eastern Pacific Fisheries Co., Japanese owners of the fishing craft, in no way settled the dispute over the right to fish in the waters of Shelikof Strait, however.

Vacationing President Swims In Florida Sun

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy disposed of some document signing Thursday, received an intelligence briefing, and then went for a swim in the sun.

The President and his family—Mrs. Kennedy, the two children and even Charlie the dog — are here for a 10-day holiday. They slipped quickly into the easy ways of a Florida vacation.

But at least for Thursday, an aide said, there was to be no cruising on Lake Worth or the Atlantic, although the presidential yacht Honey Fitz is at its dock and ready any time.

"No boat ride today," said Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretaty. "No official visitors this weekend."

"He'll keep current with happenings of international affairs and he'll have contact with the Washington staff," Hatcher said.

But otherwise there was little business in sight other than the paper work which no president ever escapes completely—and a Saturday date to press a telegraph key opening the Seattle World's Fair with an electrical impulse from a distant star. The President and his family are staying at the oceanfront mansion of friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul, hidden behind palms, hedges and blazing hibiscus. The picture windows of the living room look out over the Atlantic. The beach is only a few steps away, and so is a heated pool.

U.S.-Soviet 'Open Cities' Plan Proposed By Prof

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Imagine an invasion of the Soviet Union by 200,000 Americans—not soldiers, but ordinary citizens armed only with ideas and on a 10-day visit in an exchange program that would bring a like number of Russians to this country.

That, in essence, is the "open cities" plan proposed by Edmund Zawacki, a University of Wisconsin professor of Slavic languages.

Zawacki says 12 American communities have formally notified the secretary of state they are ready to exchange delegations with Soviet communities of comparable size.

The list includes eight communities in Wisconsin where in the last four years the 54-year-old professor has lectured on the idea, plus Waverly and Tripoli, Iowa; Northampton, Mass., where Zawacki was born, and its neighbor, Easthampton. The Wisconsin communities are Jefferson, Belleville, Appleton, Verona, Shorewood, Birnamwood, Perry in Dane County, and Madison.

Zawacki claims several House and Senate members of both parties are familiar with the idea and interested in it.

Main arguments raised against it by State Department officials, he says, were the cost, the prospect of Soviet resistance and allegations that no desirable political effects inside the U.S.S.R. are foreseeable.

There are some 20,000 cities and villages in the United States—about the same number as in the U.S.S.R.—and the plan calls for an exchange of representative delegations from each city with the host government paying expenses.

Preparations Rushed For Opening Of Fair

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Seattle's space-age World's Fair entered the final, frenzied hours of preparation Thursday for Saturday's noontime gala opening, to be signaled by President Kennedy.

A tap on a gold telegraph key by the President, vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla., and a brief telephoned message from him will get the Century 21 Exposition off on its six-month run.

Assateague Takeover Study Ordered By Tawes

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes directed the chairman of the State Roads Commission and head of forests and parks Thursday to carefully scrutinized a federal report recommending that all of Assateague Island be taken into public ownership.

"Since much of this land is privately owned," the governor stated, "there are legal questions that must be thoroughly discussed prior to the state of Maryland taking action in this area."

Gov. Tawes noted that recommendation by National Park Service was only interim.

"I feel it is important that the final recommendations of the National Park Service and the Department of Interior be available for consideration before we in Maryland decide upon a course of action," the governor said.

"Certainly, any action that will serve to mitigate the damage caused by the storms of the type that struck Maryland's east coast on March 6-7 is worthy of serious consideration."

He said he had instructed Roads Chairman John B. S. Funk and Parks Director Joseph Kaylor "to report their findings to me at their earliest convenience."

The report of the National Park Service was distributed to a governors' conference on Atlantic Coast shore protection in Atlantic City, N. J., Wednesday.

Secretary of Interior Stewrt L. Udall expounded on the proposal in Washington Thursday.

He said he considered it a real opportunity for the states to add Assateague Island and others in New York and Virginia to the national system.

"If we move in at state request and the federal government makes the heavy expenditure," he said, "it would permit the states to use their own funds for supplementing park and recreational pruposes."

Maryland has been making title searches for a couple of years on several hundred acres on Assateague Island which it planned to develop into a public beach.

About 20 miles of the island in in Maryland. It extends into Virginia and that area is owned by federal Fish and Wildlife Service which maintains it as a game refuge.

David Hume, a conservationist and also a Democratic candidate for nomination for governor, urged in the wake of the national park report that the state move immediately to acquire rights needed for public recreation.

"When the state abdicates its responsibilities, you find the federal government stepping in where it probably doesn't even want to go," Hume stated.

"This state does not even have to purchase all the land; it can secure easement right. The state could, however, pick up options also. It is imperative that the state move now."

Neutral Burma Bars Two U.S. Foundations

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Gen. Ne Win's revolutionary military government decided Thursday to do away with the activities of two American organizations in Burma, the Ford Foundation and the Asia Foundation.

The foundations, which have been here for eight years, were told to withdraw their staffs of teachers, advisers and specialists by October.

Foundation spokesmen said they were not given the reason for the cutoff but it was reported the government has decided on a policy of accepting foreign technical and other aid only from governments.

This would be in line with Burma's avowed neutral policy, since the Soviet Union and other Communist countries do not have private foundations or agencies to extend foreign assistance.

Gen. Win, who overthrew the government of Premier U Nu on March 2 because of what he called a "vastly deteriorating situation,' is an aggressive anti-Communist domestically.

This has not produced a change in Burma's neutral foreign policy, however. During his previous strongman regime in 1958-60 he carefully adhered to neutrality, and his Revolutionary Council announced the day after the latest coup that it would do likewise.

The Ford and Asia foundations had spent $11.6 million Burma in the last eight years.

House Begins 10-Day Recess; Record Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members have started a 10-day Easter vacation, with their leaders in disagreement over accomplishments during the first 100 days of the new Democratic leadership team.

"A splendid record of substantial accomplishment,' said the new Democratic top command of Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts and Majority Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

"Infinitesimal,' countered veteran Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. "And,' Halleck added, "the country is probably better off for it.'

McCormack took over the speakership on Jan. 10, succeeding the late Sam Rayburn of Texas. Albert moved into the Democratic floor ledaership at the same time, replacing McCormack.

The Senate, which is not taking an official Easter recess, had no changes in its majority leadership.

In a joint statement prepared for the Congressional Record Thursday, McCormack and Albert spoke of "the first hundred days of this historic session." They backed up their claims with statistics and concluded their statement with a glowing appraisal of the nation's economic progress under Democratic leadership.

They made no reference to the big jobs ahead of Congress but expressed confidence the record would continue when the recess ends on April 30.

In the matter of actual legislation, they said, Congress enacted 33 public laws during the first 100 days, or about one enactment every three days.

In addition, they noted, four other major bills are awaiting compromise between the Senate and the House over details, and 21 others of national significance have passed the House and await Senate action.

Petition Would Force S&L Suit

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Three shareholders have started litigation to force the receiver for Military Service Savings & Loan Association to sue the Security Financial Insurance Corp. for fraud.

The shareholders who filed a petition in Montgomery County Circuit Court are Lt. Col. James O. Frazier, Ft. Belvoir, Va., who, according to the petition, had $37,023 in shares in the association; Edward L. Meyer, Silver Spring, $14,160, and Lex W. Barnett, Garrett Park, Md., $1,000.

Purpose of the action is to recover any losses that may be suffered by shareholders (depositors) in the association.

Military Service, of Silver Spring, was placed in receivership on Nov. 2, with approximately $3.6 million in accounts. Earl Nash, a retired telephone company official was appointed receiver.

The association had advertised that each of its accounts was insured up to $20,000 by Security Financial Insurance Corp. of Baltimore.

B&O Told To Keep Two Trains Running

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Public Service Commission ordered the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Thursday to continue operating two trains between Baltimore and Washington.

The B&O had proposed to discontinue Saturday all 12 commuter trains it has been operating between the two cities. The federal Interstate Commerce Commission had not objected.

But the state commission ruled one train leaving Baltimore at 5:10 p.m. and another departing from Washington at 5:35 p.m. should continue.

"It is the conclusion of the commission that the use made of these two trains' justify their continuance, the order stated.

The commission said a survey showed the train leaving Baltimore carried an average of 123 passengers daily and the other an average of 167.

Motor vehicles are the top cause of accidental death up to the age of 65 years. After 65, it is falls.

Consol Stockholders Back Merger

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Approximately 99 per cent of Consolidation Coal Co. stockholders favor a merger with the Truax-Traer Coal Co., board chairman George H. Love announced Thursday at a stockholders meeting.

Love said 8,630,834 Consolidation stockholders favored the plan while 13,570 voted against it.

"That's rather overwhelming approval," Love said.

Love said he has not been informed of the vote by Truax-Traer stockholders. Under the proposal each shareholder of Truax-Traer will receive a share of Consolidation common stock for a share of Truax common.

"We would be happy to effect such a merger. We have always wanted to move into the Midwestern area," Love said. "There is a stronger union situation there but all competitors pay the same wage scale. And it's a region that's sheltered from residual oil."

The long, thin cigars known as "stogies" got their name because they were designed for the needs of the Conestoga wagon drivers who wanted a large, inexpensive cigar.

Last Supper Ritual Held

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The biggest Holy Week crowd in St. Peter's Basilica in recent years pressed shoulder to shoulder around the gold-and-bronze papal altar for Mass on Holy Thursday.

Paolo Cardinal Marella, member of the Vatican Curia, mounted the carpeted altar steps above the crypt where St. Peter was buried. Later he removed his gold-encrusted outer vestment and put on a white apron to wash the feet of 12 student priests—commemorating Christ's action at the Last Supper.

The ritual—a highlight of Holy Thursday ceremonies opening the three-day period before Easter—was repeated in many other churches throughout Rome.

Pope John XXIII, who had washed the feet of seminarians the past three years, did not take part in the ritual in St. Peter's this year.

He consecrated 12 cardinals as bishops earlier in the day in another Holy Thursday service at the basilica of St. John Lateran, his see as bishop of Rome.

Blast Injures Three, Damages Apartment

BALTIMORE (AP)—A propane gas tank exploded in west Baltimore Thursday, injuring three persons and causing heavy damage to a two-story brick apartment house.

Two men, John Dorsey, 32, and William Smith, 25, were treated at Bon Secours Hospital for burns on their hands and faces. Mrs. Bessie J. Harriston, 50, who was in her store on the first floor when the explosion occurred, was treated at the hospital for shock.

Rembrandt On Block

LONDON (AP) —Rembrandt's portrait of St. Bartholomew, one of the few important works by the Dutch master still in private hands, will be sold at a London auction on June 27.

The portrait, dated 1661, is being put up by Maj. Kincaid Lennox, who lives in downtown Castle near Ludlow.

The B&O had proposed to discontinue Saturday all 12 commuter trains it has been operating between the two cities. The federal Interstate Commerce Commission had not objected.

But the state commission ruled one train leaving Baltimore at 5:10 p.m. and another departing from Washington at 5:35 p.m. should continue.

"It is the conclusion of the commission that the use made of these two trains' justify their continuance, the order stated.

The commission said a survey showed the train leaving Baltimore carried an average of 123 passengers daily and the other an average of 167.

Motor vehicles are the top cause of accidental death up to the age of 65 years. After 65, it is falls.

Consol Stockholders Back Merger

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Approximately 99 per cent of Consolidation Coal Co. stockholders favor a merger with the Truax-Traer Coal Co., board chairman George H. Love announced Thursday at a stockholders meeting.

Love said 8,630,834 Consolidation stockholders favored the plan while 13,570 voted against it.

"That's rather overwhelming approval," Love said.

Love said he has not been informed of the vote by Truax-Traer stockholders. Under the proposal each shareholder of Truax-Traer will receive a share of Consolidation common stock for a share of Truax common.

"We would be happy to effect such a merger. We have always wanted to move into the Midwestern area," Love said. "There is a stronger union situation there but all competitors pay the same wage scale. And it's a region that's sheltered from residual oil."

The long, thin cigars known as "stogies" got their name because they were designed for the needs of the Conestoga wagon drivers who wanted a large, inexpensive cigar.

About 60 per cent of the cranberry crop of the United States is grown in Massachusetts.

Last Supper Ritual Held

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The biggest Holy Week crowd in St. Peter's Basilica in recent years pressed shoulder to shoulder around the gold-and-bronze papal altar for Mass on Holy Thursday.

Paolo Cardinal Marella, member of the Vatican Curia, mounted the carpeted altar steps above the crypt where St. Peter was buried. Later he removed his gold-encrusted outer vestment and put on a white apron to wash the feet of 12 student priests—commemorating Christ's action at the Last Supper.

The ritual—a highlight of Holy Thursday ceremonies opening the three-day period before Easter—was repeated in many other churches throughout Rome.

Pope John XXIII, who had washed the feet of seminarians the past three years, did not take part in the ritual in St. Peter's this year.

He consecrated 12 cardinals as bishops earlier in the day in another Holy Thursday service at the basilica of St. John Lateran, his see as bishop of Rome.

Blast Injures Three, Damages Apartment

BALTIMORE (AP)—A propane gas tank exploded in west Baltimore Thursday, injuring three persons and causing heavy damage to a two-story brick apartment house.

Two men, John Dorsey, 32, and William Smith, 25, were treated at Bon Secours Hospital for burns on their hands and faces. Mrs. Bessie J. Harriston, 50, who was in her store on the first floor when the explosion occurred, was treated at the hospital for shock.

Rembrandt On Block

LONDON (AP) —Rembrandt's portrait of St. Bartholomew, one of the few important works by the Dutch master still in private hands, will be sold at a London auction on June 27.

The portrait, dated 1661, is being put up by Maj. Kincaid Lennox, who lives in downtown Castle near Ludlow.

Hoover And Jefferson Candidates In Maryland

By GEORGE A. BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — Herbert Hoover is running for the U.S. Senate—as a Democrat . . . Thomas Jefferson for the House of Delegates . . . A relative of President Kennedy for Congressman — as a Republican.

The Maryland primary elections on May 15 are replete with such miscellany.

There are three Abramsons running for delegate in one Baltimore district and in another two Friedmans, a Freedman, a Freidman and a Frieman.

In another, the Republicans claimed foul. They said Democrats filed candidates for the House on the Republican ticket.

The Hoover running for Senate nomination is a 34-year-old Rockville engineer and no kin to the former Republican president.

Newton I. Steers, one of the Republican candidates for Congressman-at-large, is married to a stepsister of Jacqueline Kennedy.

The Jefferson seeking a seat in the Maryland house from Baltimore's 4th District is a Republican. President Jefferson was called a Republican in his time, but it is now synonymous with Democrat.

Other election potpourri includes:

Three blind men are candidates for the legislature. Charles M. See is a Republican candidate for the House in Allegany County. C. Clifford Virts as Democrat in Frederick and Stanley L. McCready is a candidate for the Democratic state senate nomination in Somerset. The incumbent Republican Somerset senator seeking re-election, Harry T. Phoebus, recently had an eye removed.

See is one of two veteran legislators who decided not to seek re-election to the senate and instead run for the house where he started. The other is Guy Johnson of Cecil.

It is possible that two brothers may be sitting across the hall of the state capitol. Robert P. Dean is a candidate for re-election as state senator from Queen Annes and his brother, Charles, is a candidate for the House from neighboring Caroline County.

A son has hopes of following his father's footsteps in the legislature. J. Glenn Beall Jr. is a Republican candidate for nomination to the House in Allegany. His father, now U.S. Senator, served in the state senate more than a quarter of a century ago.

Neighboring Harford and Cecil counties provide the old and new look of women in politics.

Back in the lists in Harford seeking a seat in the house is Mary E. W. Risteau. She was elected there in 1921 to become the first woman to sit in the Maryland General Assembly. In 1934, she became the first woman elected tot he state senate.

One of candidates for delegate in Cecil is Nancy A. Brown. She's 22 years old and a senior at the University of Maryland — studying to be a lawyer, naturlaly.

And in Garrett County, Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty hopes to give her husband a taste of tending house while she is in Annapolis. She is running for a house seat he occupied during the 1954-58 term.

Thant To Visit Soviet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The United Nations announced Thursday that Acting Secretary General Thant will visit Moscow in August or September at the invitation of the Soviet government.

Tarring and feathering was originated by Richard the Lion Hearted as punishment for robbers.

"Peace Walk" Set Tomorrow In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—A six-hour Peace Walk, aimed at dramatizing a plea for peace, will be staged in Baltimore Saturday by members of an organization known as Turn Toward Peace.

The group plans to walk from Civil Defense state headquarters in suburban Pikesville to the corner of Charles Street and North Avenue in Baltimore. A spokesman said the Civil Defense office would be on the outer perimeter of destruction if a 10-megaton nuclear bomb were exploded at the downtown intersection — "ground zero.'

Mrs. Mary Holmgren of Baltimore, coordinator of the demonstration, said the group would proceed from ground zero to War Memorial Plaza, opposite City Hall, for an open-air meeting at 3 p.m.

Hugh B. Hester, a retired Army brigadier general from Hester, N.C., will address the group on "The Challenge of Our Time.' Other speakers will be Mrs. Mercedes Douglas of Baltimore, who returned last week from the Women's Strike for Peace trip to the Geneva disarmament conference, and Arthur I. Waskow, a former Baltimorean now with James Wadsworth's Peace Research Institute in Washington, D.C.

One purpose of the walk is to demonstrate the usefulness of family and community shelter programs. Signs and leaflets will urge total inspected disarmament by all nations and the end of all nuclear weapons testing.

Relations Reopened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Wednesday formally opened diplomatic relations with the new government of Argentina.

Maryland News In Brief

BALTIMORE (AP) — "It is important now,' says a Maryland railroad executive, "to stop the effort to put the powerful legal device of eminent domain into the hands of pipeline promoters.'

W. Arthur Grotz president of the Western Maryland Railway, made the statement Wednesday at an annual meeting of the railroad's stockholders in Baltimore.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Eight students in the University of Maryland College of Agriculture will be honored for academic achievements at an agricultural convocation Tuesday on the College Park campus.

The students are Linda J. Graf, Mt. Airy, Carroll County; Joseph T. Horman, Adamstown, Frederick County; John E. Hutchison, Cordova, Talbot County; Michael F. Littleford, College Park; Illiot S. Krafsur, Accokeek, Prince Georges County; William E. Noble, Washington; Carroll K. Stottlemyer, Rocky Ridge, Frederick County, and Laurence H. Wessel, Laurel.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Harriet Eleanor Dent Burch, 72, a descendent of one of the first settlers of Maryland, died at University Hospital Wednesday after a long illness.

Mrs. Burch was born in Oakley, St. Marys County. She is survived by her husband and three children.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Michaels and All Angels Church in Baltimore, with burial in All Saints Episcopal Church Cemetery, Oakley.

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Flamburis, 47-year-old bartender, was killed Thursday when his car struck a tree and a utility pole a few blocks from his home in Southwest Baltimore.

It was Maryland's 127th traffic death of the year, 30 more than at the corresponding time a year ago.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Firemen rescued a 65-year-old woman Thursday from a house fire in the Round Bay section of Anne Arundel County.

The woman, Mrs. Lyles Carr, was found lying unconscious in her second-floor bedroom. She was treated at Anne Arundel General Hospital for smoke inhalation.

Mrs. William Chambliss, who occupied the first floor of the home, led her two children to safety.

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Miss Helen Buehm of Bethesda, Md., will be queen of the May Day celebration at Western Maryland College May 5.

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — A 1960 sports car was found Thursday submerged in a pond on the ninth fairway of the Bonnie View Golf Course.

Police ordered the pond drained, to make certain there were no bodies in the car. Officers said the car was stolen from Mrs. Carolyn J. Hyatt of Baltimore, who didn't know it was missing until police informed her of their discovery.

Patrolman Thomas Webster said that when he caught up with the man, wanted for questioning in a grocery store robbery, he found in the wheelchair a jacket wrapped around $11.90 worth of groceries.

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—A two-alarm fire extensively damaged Hunt's Memorial Methodist Church at Riderwood, Baltimore County, Thursday.

PRR-NYC Union Forecast In '63

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—James M. Symes, board chairman of the Pennsylvania Railroad, predicted Thursday the proposed merger with the New York Central would be completed by the middle of 1963 at the latest.

In an interview with the Philadelphia Bulletin, Symes said he didn't expect opposition from stockholders of the two railroads, the Interstate Commerce Commission or the Justice Department.

Railroad unions have expressed opposition to the merger proposal, submitted earlier this year by the nation's two largest carriers to the ICC. The opposition is based in part on expected job losses.

Stockholders of the two roads are to vote on the merger May 8.

Symes said he expected ICC hearings to be under way by mid-summer.

Donations By Children Save Gettysburg Land

WASHINGTON (AP) — Daisy Light of Newport, Pa., presented to Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall Thursday the deed to 55 acres of land to be added to federla holdings in the Gettysburg National Park.

She acted for the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association and for many of the ntaion's school children who contributed to that cost.

Daisy, with members of the eighth grade history class at Newport Union schools, made up the first school group to make a private donation to the association to help acquire lands within the park. The movement was backed by their teacher, Mrs. Mary Wertz.

Maj. William M. Haller, president of the association, said that since 1960 many students throughout the nation have answered the plea for donations to help save the battlefield from commercialism.

He said the Roy Wolf farm lies in the vicinity of Round Top and Devils Den, and had this land not been saved from commercial development the original vista from Round Top would have been destroyed beyond restoration.

Those appointed are Mrs. Lynn Walker, chairman, Mrs. Robert Collins, co-chairman, program committee; Mrs. Allan Staggers, chairman, Mrs. Lester Hudson, co-chairman, ways and means; Mrs. Harold Naughton, chairman, publicity; Mrs. Bernard Whitacre, chairman, cheer, and Mrs. Ernest Vipond, chairman membership.

The club voted a donation to the Cancer Fund. Mrs. George Eyler reported on Girl Scout Camp and the club will decide at the next meeting how it will help the scouts.

It was announced the Opti-Mrs. will assist the Optimist Club in selling tickets for a dance to be held May 26 at Shrine Country Club.

A rummage sale was tentatively set for May 19 with Mrs. Staggers in charge. The business session closed with a reading on Easter by Mrs. Funkhouser.

Decorations in the Easter theme were used for the tables, with bouquets of violets, yellow tapers, lavender eggs and yellow chicks.

Cards featured the entertainment with prizes awarded to Mrs. Eyler, Mrs. Funkhouser and Mrs. Harold Naughton who also won the special prize.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Raymond Hinkle, Mrs. Whitacre and Mrs. Walker. Mrs. Earl Nonnenmann, Mrs. James Honeycutt and Mrs. Staggers will be hostesses for the next meeting May 16.

Mrs. Edith Henry has returned to her home, 715 Maryland, after being a surgical patient at Memorial Hospital.

Hagerstown Included In 1962 Tour

The Maryland House and Garden Pilgrimage, which attracts thousands of visitors each spring, is again offering the opportunity to see many of the finest houses and gardens throughout Maryland, on 12 tours (April 28—May 13) ending with two popular Cruises up the Chester River to Chestertown (May 19 and 20).

Inspired by the goal of Virginia Garden Week, organized in 1928, the proceeds were donated to the Stratford Gardens at the home of General Robert E. Lee, and used to restore the old octagon summer house, which today bears a plaque in recognition of the donation. Since that time, the proceeds of every succeeding Pilgrimage have been dedicated to the preservation of historic landmarks throughout Maryland (the Hammond-Harwood House in Annapolis being the chief beneficiary), as well as to numerous charitable organizations selected by the participating homeowners and garden clubs from their share of the proceeds.

This year the Pilgrimage begins in St. Mary's County, the oldest part of the state, where the first colonists, arriving aboard the "Ark and the Dove," proceeded to establish Maryland's first capital of St. Maries, now St. Mary's City.

Two new walking tours will be offered. Meadow Road in suburban Baltimore winds around two estates, Tyrconnell and Hurstleigh, and homes, The Mt. Vernon District which will show carriage houses and apartments converted to urban living, and several dignified old city houses still unchanged.

New to the Pilgrimage is the village of Kingsville, alive with restorations, a mingling of large estates and small houses.

Hagerstown, laid out in 1762, provides a brand new tour, among vistas of the Blue Ridge Mountains and famous Civil War sites. Town houses and country mansions will be shown, including a house designed by the famous architect, Benjamin Latrobe.

New tours will take place in both Worcester and Montgomery counties, including the Chevy Chase area. Hillwood, the nationally famous estate of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert May in the Washington area, and Harewood, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Acheson, will both be open to the Montgomery County tour.

U.S. Preparing Giant Rocket For Moon Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States is readying a 10-story rocket for another multi-million-dollar attempt to hit its most elusive target in space—the moon.

Scientists plan to fire the silvery Atlas-Agena-B rocket and its 730-pound payload, named "Ranger-4," at earth's nearest neighbor sometime during a four-day "optimum" launching period that starts Monday.

The goal of the complex shot will be to "crash-land" a television-carrying space capsule on the moon.

If all works as planned, Ranger-4 will provde scientists with the most detailed photographs ever taken of the lunar surface.

Ranger-4 is America's gold-plated hope for ending nearly four years of frustrating failures in lunar exploration. The closest that a U.S.-built probe has come to the moon was 22,862 miles.

That was accomplished by Ranger-3, launched aboard a similar Atlas-Agena-B rocket last Jan. 27. The goal of that shot was to take pictures of the moon and to land a small package of instruments on the surface.

But Ranger-3 was plagued by problems from the start. The booster rocket ran "wide open" and sent the probe soaring on its journey at too great a speed. And midway through the flight, an attempt to adjust the flight path was marred by an error which caused the guidance system to correct just the opposite of what it was supposed to.

After missing the moon, Ranger-3 swung into an orbit around the sun as America's second solar satellite.

Scientists said Ranger-4 and its launching vehicle have been corrected to prevent similar mistakes. The Atlas booster this time will carry a mechanism by which a ground station can cut off its thrust, thus preventing a second "open throttle" episode.

The Atlas will attempt to boost the Agena-B second stage and the Ranger spacecraft into a brief "parking orbit" around earth. Minutes later, at the proper time, the Agena-B stage should ignite and send the payload hurtling deep into space at a speed of about 25,000 miles per hour.

If all goes well, Ranger-3 will cross the 240,000-mile gap between earth and moon in about 66 hours. During the last 40 minutes of the flight, it is expected to transmit about 180 television pictures of the moon as it plunges toward the lunar surface.

Focus On Health

By The Associated Press

Borrowed hearts, vacationing hearts and insurance for red blood cells are subjects for Focus on Health.

The Living Heart

There is new evidence that the heart may live on for a time—even after the body is dead.

It has been proved, at least, with the hearts of guinea pigs. Cornell University doctors have been able to revive the hearts of guinea pigs dead for up to 15 minutes.

The results suggest that there is a definite, probably short, period of time after death that a heart can be removed from a human being and still function, reported Drs. S. Frank Redo and Frank Glenn.

Should doctors ever solve the problem of transplanting one person's tissues into another's body, there is the hope that the hearts of newly dead persons might be used to replace diseased hearts in the living. Major obstacle to this, however, is the fact that the human body tends to destroy or reject tissue not its own.

Vacationing Hearts

Can the heart be removed from the living body, repaired and then replaced in the body to take over the monotonous task of living again?

Many scientists are working on new techniques toward that end. Now it is reported that surgeons have borrowed the hearts from dogs for up to two hours, then replaced those hearts in the living animals.

The Stanford University surgeons who performed the operations said the technique may be helpful for some of the 15,000 babies born each year with heart problems that cannot be repaired with the heart in the body.

Red Blood Insurance

Each red blood cell carries a tiny insurance policy to make certain more red blood cells are produced, researchers report.

The insurance policy is a tiny molecule called hemin, found in the skin of each blood cell.

An injection of hemin boosts red cell production some 30 per cent, reported Drs. John A. D. Cooper, Noe Altschuler and James R. Brown of Northwestern University.

The biochemists measured how many blood cells were being produced by the amount of injected radioactive iron used up in the body.

They also discovered that red blood cell production can be boosted by a whole battery of compounds related to hemin, and now they are trying to find out how they coax the bone marrow into producing more cells.

Hormones Curb Heart Attacks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Female sex hormone apparently can give many men extra years of life after a heart attack, a physician reported Wednesday.

Only half as many men taking the hormone died within five years after their heart attacks compared with men not getting it, said Dr. Jeremiah Stamler and associates of Chicago.

Dr. Stamler used a preparation of natural, mixed female hormones, or estrogens, in the five-year study among 275 middle-aged men.

Among men who suffered a single, uncomplicated heart attack, only seven per cent taking the hormone died within five years, compared with 17 per cent not treated, he told a symposium on coronary heart disease sponsored by Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital.

Adopted Child Shares Estate

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals ruled Wednesday that a woman adopted and raised by another family was entitled to a portion of her natural sister's estate, which was received in the absence of a will.

The high court said, "we hold that an adopted child can inherit from its natural relatives as well as from and through its adopting parents."

The decision affirmed a Washington County Orphans' Court ruling that Nancy Pittman, 54, the sister of Jeannette E. Duc but adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pittman in 1909, could share in the estate.

Virginia Mae Bonnaville, a niece of Mrs. Duc who died July 3, 1960, without leaving a will, argued that the lower court decision would have the effect of giving Miss Pittman two families.

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy's new conciliatory attitude toward the steel industry met with skepticism in Wall Street circles Wednesday as far as being an immediate help to the stock market.

The President said at his news conference that he bears no ill will against the steel industry—or any segment of the economy—and plans no punitive action as a result of last week's abortive steel price increase.

The conciliatory attitude will have to be translated into action that will aid business before investors will be willing to come back into the market in substantial numbers, they said.

"Confidence has been severely shaken and a changed psychology has developed," commented Kenneth Ward of Hayde, Stone & Co.

He said something has to be done to correct what he calimed was the current thinking that the stockholder is the forgotten man.

He said stock buyers are ignoring the excellent first quarter corporate earnings reports that are coming out, and blamed it on their psychological attitude toward the market.

William R. White of Hornblower and Weeks said he thinks Kennedy's attitude, as expressed at the news conference, will help the market eventually but said "it will take a while to convince the skeptics that he means it."

Woman To Woman

NEW YORK (UPI) — Today's knowledge explosion makes it imperative that young people have learning opportunities that go beyond the framework of formal education.

Dr. B. J. Chandler, the educator who says so, is professor of education at Northwestern University and a consultant on teenage education.

He reports a way to reach this goal is to have business and industry provide learning incentives to students.

The Illinois educator cited as one example of incentives the Experiment in International Living program in which business firms underwrite scholarships to send young people abroad to experience different aspects of international living.

The young corporate ambassadors spend a month living in the home of a family abroad, then travel a month or more in foreign countries.

As a result, when the young people return home they know firsthand what makes other peoples tick. Their imaginations are sparked to try to implement some of the ideas that percolated through their brains while overseas.

Business and industry also are making their intellectual resources available in schools through participation in seminars. Business leaders thus share their experiences with young people and excite their thinking about the world outside the classroom in a way no book could.

Dr. Chandler said the seminars are a positive approach to aiding young people outside the framework of formal education.

"If a boy or girl can get freshly presented knowledge of the business world that lies around him, his entire life is enriched and things he accepted as matter of fact on new meaning and understanding, thus possibly providing him with an incentive to attain a higher goal in life,' Dr. Chandler said.

The educator also cited on-the-job training programs as another area in which business and industry cooperate with education.

In these cooperative efforts, mainly at the college level, a student attends classes one quarter of a school year and works at a company the second quarter.

U.S. Preparing Giant Rocket For Moon Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States is readying a 10-story rocket for another multi-million-dollar attempt to hit its most elusive target in space—the moon.

Scientists plan to fire the silvery Atlas-Agena-B rocket and its 730-pound payload, named "Ranger-4," at earth's nearest neighbor sometime during a four-day "optimum" launching period that starts Monday.

The goal of the complex shot will be to "crash-land" a television-carrying space capsule on the moon.

If all works as planned, Ranger-4 will provde scientists with the most detailed photographs ever taken of the lunar surface.

Ranger-4 is America's gold-plated hope for ending nearly four years of frustrating failures in lunar exploration. The closest that a U.S.-built probe has come to the moon was 22,862 miles.

That was accomplished by Ranger-3, launched aboard a similar Atlas-Agena-B rocket last Jan. 27. The goal of that shot was to take pictures of the moon and to land a small package of instruments on the surface.

But Ranger-3 was plagued by problems from the start. The booster rocket ran "wide open" and sent the probe soaring on its journey at too great a speed. And midway through the flight, an attempt to adjust the flight path was marred by an error which caused the guidance system to correct just the opposite of what it was supposed to.

After missing the moon, Ranger-3 swung into an orbit around the sun as America's second solar satellite.

Scientists said Ranger-4 and its launching vehicle have been corrected to prevent similar mistakes. The Atlas booster this time will carry a mechanism by which a ground station can cut off its thrust, thus preventing a second "open throttle" episode.

The Atlas will attempt to boost the Agena-B second stage and the Ranger spacecraft into a brief "parking orbit" around earth. Minutes later, at the proper time, the Agena-B stage should ignite and send the payload hurtling deep into space at a speed of about 25,000 miles per hour.

If all goes well, Ranger-3 will cross the 240,000-mile gap between earth and moon in about 66 hours. During the last 40 minutes of the flight, it is expected to transmit about 180 television pictures of the moon as it plunges toward the lunar surface.

Focus On Health

By The Associated Press

Borrowed hearts, vacationing hearts and insurance for red blood cells are subjects for Focus on Health.

The Living Heart

There is new evidence that the heart may live on for a time—even after the body is dead.

It has been proved, at least, with the hearts of guinea pigs. Cornell University doctors have been able to revive the hearts of guinea pigs dead for up to 15 minutes.

The results suggest that there is a definite, probably short, period of time after death that a heart can be removed from a human being and still function, reported Drs. S. Frank Redo and Frank Glenn.

Should doctors ever solve the problem of transplanting one person's tissues into another's body, there is the hope that the hearts of newly dead persons might be used to replace diseased hearts in the living. Major obstacle to this, however, is the fact that the human body tends to destroy or reject tissue not its own.

Vacationing Hearts

Can the heart be removed from the living body, repaired and then replaced in the body to take over the monotonous task of living again?

Many scientists are working on new techniques toward that end. Now it is reported that surgeons have borrowed the hearts from dogs for up to two hours, then replaced those hearts in the living animals.

The Stanford University surgeons who performed the operations said the technique may be helpful for some of the 15,000 babies born each year with heart problems that cannot be repaired with the heart in the body.

City Voting Deadline Near

The city Registration Office which one day recently had 56 new voters sign up for this year's municipal elections reported today that business has declined to practically nothing.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery reminded city residents that registration books will close at 5 p. m., May 15 and those not on the books at that time, will not be eligible to vote in the June 5 primary or the June 19 general election.

After the deadline passes, the books will not be reopened until June 27, he said.

Ullery cautioned voters to remember that because they are registered in the county does not make them eligible for city elections. A resident must register at both places to be eligible for both the city and county, state and national elections, he said. The county's registration books closed last Saturday.

Since the first of the year, 532 new voters have been registered, 200 of them during the past month. The present voting total is 9,427, far below the approximately 14,000 which Ullery estimated are eligible to vote but not registered in the city.

Ullery also reminded prospective candidates for either mayor or council that the filing deadline is May 25 at midnight.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There's A "Colorful" Way To Correct Diet

You hear a great deal these days about the psychology of color, but besides affecting you mentally, color affects you physically and in a very real way.

For instance, did you know that the greater the intensity of a food's color, the higher its health-giving vitamin and mineral content? That is a fact, and one worth remembering.

It is especially important to those of you who are stalking a new, slimmer figure. The highly-colored foods have such stepped-up values that nutritionists refer to them as "protective" foods. "Protective" is a very accurate description, as a sufficient daily intake of these foods gives protection against colds, fatigue and a run-down feeling.

Follow this color scheme in your daily diet and you'll be sure of getting your share:

Green in leafy vegetables is the signal that a rich supply of essential iron, vitamins and bulk is ready to go to work for you. And, just as the rule implies, the greener the leaf, the better it is for you, so never reach for the pale inner leaves of a head of lettuce in preference to the less tender but deeper-hued outer leaves!

Yellow found in vegetables and citrus fruits translates itself into anti-cold vitamin C and also skin-beautifier A.

Red, the color of lean meats, though turned to a rich, golden brown when it reaches the table, is the major source of the highest-quality, tissue-building proteins. It also supplies the B vitamins, especially B1.

White, the color that reflects to the eye all the rays of the sun at one time, is found in whole or skimmed milk, providing the calcium and vitamin D everyone needs every day from babyhood through adulthood.

Summer-fresh beauty . . . the year around! It's yours for the asking — just read SUMMERIZING YOUR BEAUTY. Send for your copy today (enclosing 10c and a stamped return envelope) to "Secrets of Charm," c/o this newspaper.

Modern Day Huck Finns Come Home

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — Two Williamstown area youngsters who took to the Ohio River to run away from home were found safe on a mid-river island Tuesday. They told authorities they wanted to return home but didn't know how.

They are Ronnie Lewis, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lewis, Williamstown, and Ralph D. Shuttleworth, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Shuttleworth of the Williamstown pike section.

Wood County Deputy Sheriff Clifford Masters said the boys spent the night on Buckley's Island and drifted on down to Neal's Island Tuesday.

"They were looking over the island when I spotted them with binoculars," he said. "We yelled at them and told them to row over to shore and they did.

"They spent a pretty cold night on the river and their feet were wet up to their knees," he added.

Masters also said the modern day "Huck Finns" apparently didn't like the idea of running away very much once it got dark but didn't know how to return home.

The youngsters touched off a large scale search with State, county and local police participating.

It was feared that the youths, who were missing for about 15 hours, had drowned.

The word "mushing," which refers to traveling over the snow with sled dogs, is an English corruption of the French "Marchons," (let us march). Early French Canadian woodsmen used the command in the sense of the English "giddap."

"They were looking over the island when I spotted them with binoculars," he said. "We yelled at them and told them to row over to shore and they did.

"They spent a pretty cold night on the river and their feet were wet up to their knees," he added.

Masters also said the modern day "Huck Finns" apparently didn't like the idea of running away very much once it got dark but didn't know how to return home.

The youngsters touched off a large scale search with State, county and local police participating.

It was feared that the youths, who were missing for about 15 hours, had drowned.

The word "mushing," which refers to traveling over the snow with sled dogs, is an English corruption of the French "Marchons," (let us march). Early French Canadian woodsmen used the command in the sense of the English "giddap."

Capitol Comment

by Rep. Charles Mathias

Last week the House of Representatives approved a bill which, if approved by the Senate and signed by the President, will bolster the economy of Maryland and the entire east coast. The bill which the House approved eliminates a twenty-six year old government subsidy to Pacific Coast ship builders. In simple terms, the six-percent preference worked like this — if an east coast and west coast ship builder were bidding to construct or repair a United States Merchant Marine vessel, the west coast could bid six percent higher than the east coast and still get the contract.

When the law establishing the six-percent differential was enacted in 1936, the ship building industry flourished on the eastern seaboard. The government was interested in expanding our merchant fleet and desired to give the west coast some incentive to build ships. Today, the west coast has a great ship building industry and no longer suffers from the drastic cost differential as it did during its beginnings.

I supported the bill to remove the present six-percent preference for the west coast, and I base my argument on grounds which are not tied to the geographical location of Congressional districts.

To maintain and extend the six-percent differential in favor of Pacific coast shipyards, this House would be required to sit as a sort of court. It would have to determine that there is a national need, that Pacific coast shipyards, workers, and communities are making a unique contribution to that need and that such contribution is being made at a financial sacrifice which should be compensated from the National Treasury.

Before this determination could be made the House would have all the facts. The testimony on this bill was voluminous, but not all factual. Such facts as were submitted are complex and, in some instances contradictory. In such a case, it is necessary to turn to the most qualified and least interested witnesses. Among these was George H. Staples, Associated Director, Civil Accounting and Auditing Division, General Accounting Office, who said: "based on our analysis, our opinion is that the information on regional ship-building costs presented by the respective regional ship building interests and the related testimony of these interests, all as contained in the record of the hearings, are not sufficiently complete, reliable, or accurate to support the contentions of the respective interests or to serve as a sound basis for determining relative ship building costs."

What Mr. Staples told the committee and the House is that there is no evidence upon which to grant a verdict against the entire country in favor of the west coast. And what a judgment would follow upon such a verdict. It would not only be a money verdict to be satisfied by tax dollars paid into the Treasury by all of us, but also in jobs, and paychecks and depressed areas created not by economic fluctuations, but by governmental preferences.

Final approval of this bill will mean that the east coast ship builders will be able to compete on an even basis and that more ships will be built, rebuilt, and repaired on the east coast. The effects of this will extend beyond the shipyards to the railroads and industries which support the shipyards.

Area Scout Leaders Hold Outdoor Cooking Practice

Nineteen junior leaders from Nemacolin Trail District of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, braved the high winds of Saturday to hold a "cookeree" or outdoor cooking practice in Constitution Park.

Three types of cooking were utilized, with heavy utensils, aluminum foil and light utensils, the latter using dried or dehydrated foods.

Participating were:

Troop 23, John Humbird School Parent-Teacher Association, William Stevenson, Michael Sirna, David Sirna; Troop 89, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Robert Brinsmade.

Troop 50, St. George Episcopal Church, Mt. Savage; Steven Wilson, John Knepp, Kurtis Rice and Steven Rice; Troop 88, Bedford Road Optimist Club, David Welsh and John Thomas.

Cooking with utensils were Dean, Wilson, Current, Michael Sirna, Steven Wilson, David Welsh and Witt.

Using aluminum foil were Carson, Harbel, Dishong, David Sirna, Knepp and Thomas.

Local Man Jailed In Police Court

A Cumberland man was sentenced to 30 days in the Allegany County Jail and fined $100 Tuesday afternoon in Police Court.

Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt sentenced the man James Ogle, after finding him guilty of disturbance of the peace.

Ogle was arrested on a warrant secured by Capt. Det. James E. Van. The man was accused of attempting to enter a local woman's apartment early Sunday morning.

Magistrate Weatherholt informed the man that unless the $100 fine is paid he will face an additional 30-day term.

Cantata Today In Ridgeley

Combined choirs of Calvary Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches of Ridgeley will present the Easter cantata, "Hail The Victor" by Norman Stewart today at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of Calvary Methodist Church.

Familiar and traditional Easter hymns make up the major part of the service. Illuminated, full-color religious paintings will be shown through a slide-projector at appropriate times during the cantata.

Soloists will be Mrs. Margaret Powers, soprano, singing "Bells of Easter"; Miss Kathleen High, alto, singing "Calvary"; Frank Benson, bass, singing "The Great Redeemer Comes." A trebel trio, composed of Mesdames Jane Phillips, Josephine Swadley and Verna Skidmore, will sing "Magdalene." A mixed quarter of Miss Kay Baker, Miss Mary Hammond, Phillip Smith and Raymond Swadley will sing "Tenderly They Bore Him," and Arthur Swadley and Marion Phillips will sing a duet "Rest Thee, Redeemer."

Rev. George Widmyer and the Rev. Benjamin Hartley will assist with the service. Miss High is director and Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond accompanist.

ABL To Appraise Nearby Land

The Navy has let a contract for the appraisal of approximately 200 acres adjacent to Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-2nd W. Va.) said yesterday.

The Keyser Congressman said the area under consideration will be used as a buffer zone between the plant property and other privately owned land in the area.

Before the project can be approved, the appraisal must be submitted to Congress. Negotiations will take approximately 60 to 90 days.

Earlier this week, the Navy requested the House appropriations committee for funds to acquire additional land at ABL.

Rep. Staggers said the land is necessary for expansion of the plant.

Colleges Get Grants

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ford Foundation announced Thursday award of $180,000 to six colleges in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The money will be used to support a cooperative program for faculty training and development of library resources in international studies.

476 Forest Fires Listed In West Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A total of 476 forest fires have burned over about 9,200 acres of woodland in West Virginia with the spring forest fire season only at the half-way point, assistant state forester Asher Kelly said Thursday.

Kelly said the last week of March was the most critical period so far this year. He said overall damage was "about average" so far.

Greatest damage occurred in the fifth district which comprises 10 southwestern counties. Two hundred seventy two fires burned over 6,530 acres there. The least damage was done in District 2 where 9 fires burned 28 acres.

More than three millions Americans now live on wheels.

CHARLES E. WILMOTH

Charles E. Wilmoth, 519 Park Avenue, Morgantown, W. Va., died yesterday in University Hospital there where he had been a patient two weeks.

A frequent visitor to Cumberland, he formerly headed the Reiner and Core clothing establishment in Morgantown.

Survivors include a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Scott Bowie, the former Miss Joanne Walker of Cumberland.

The body is at the Davidson Funeral Home there where services will be conducted Saturday. Interment will be in a Morgantown cemetery.

MRS. MALINDA WAGERMAN

HYNDMAN, Pa. — Mrs. Malinda B. Wagerman, 76, a native of RD 1, Buffalo Mills, died yesterday in Bedford Memorial Hospital.

Born July 7, 1886, she was the daughter of the late Philip Franklin Wagerman and Ellen (Troutman) Wagerman.

She was the widow of John Corley and was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Gravel Pit.

Surviving are a son, Frank Corley, at home; a brother, Samuel B. Johns of Warren, Ohio; and three grandchildren.

The body is at the Ziegler Funeral Home where friends will be received from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the funeral home with the Rev. J. L. Tenney and the Rev. A. F. Thomas officiating. Interment will be in Lybarger Cemetery.

Easter Week Services Planned

Special Easter week services are being planned by the First Church of God, Lagonda and Delaware avenues, according to Rev. M. J. King, pastor.

Services will be held beginning Easter Sunday at 7:30 p. m. and continue to April 29. Howard Kidd, of North Carolina, will be the evangelist. Special music will be provided.

Fromer President W.Va. Republican Women's Clubs Dies

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — Mrs. Alice Oates, former president of the West Virginia Federation of Republican Women's Clubs and active for many years in GOP affairs at the local and state level, died at a hospital here Thursday following an illness of several years.

A daughter of Robert F. Davis, one of the leaders in the glass industry in this area, Mrs. Oates attended Ohio University and earned a degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

Following the death of her father, founder of the Universal Glass Products Co., she took over as president of the firm and later served as board chairman.

She was a social and civic leader here in addition to her work in Republican party politics.

Mrs. Oates, who was divorced, is survived by a son, Dr. Robert Oates of Boston, Mass. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

BENJAMIN F. RYAN

NESTERVILLE, W. Va.—Benjamin Franklin (Paddy) Ryan, 95, died Tuesday at his home here.

Born at Cobuns Creek, he was a son of the late Benjamin F. and Nancy (Brady) Ryan.

A retired employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, Mr. Ryan had worked as an engineer on the Cumberland Division. He held membership in Loch Lynn (Md.) Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ethel (England) Ryan; two sons, Charles Ryan, Elyria, Ohio, and William Ryan, Keyser; two daughters, Miss Grace F. Ryan, at home, and Mrs. Beatrice Rowan, Cresaptown, Md.; a sister, Mrs. Bessie Wilson, Uniontown, Pa.; 12 grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren and a great-great-granddaughter.

Services will be conducted today at 1:30 p.m. at Nesterville Methodist Church and interment will be in Donaldson Cemetery, Cheat Neck, Pa.

JOHN E. STOKES

John Edward Stokes, of Rocky River, Ohio, died Wednesday in a Cleveland hospital. Mr. Stokes was a former resident of the Frostburg area.

He was a son of John and Elsie (Cline) Stokes. Also surviving are his widow and three children and an aunt, Miss Daisy Cline, formerly of Lonaconing.

Private services will be conducted today in Rocky River.

MRS. T. BAILEY HUNTER

Mrs. Matilda Hunter, wife of Dr. T. Bailey Hunter, former residents, died Wednesday at her home in Towanda, Pa.

The body will be taken to Latrobe, Pa., where services will be conducted Sunday afternoon.

MISS RUTH MALONE

Miss Ruth Malone, 67, of 1923 23rd Street, Cleveland, died yesterday at the Dunbar Nursing Home there.

A native of Cumberland, she was a daughter of the late Charles and Georgianna (Denson) Malone. Miss Malone was a member of St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Surviving are five sisters, Mrs. Irene Byrd, Mrs. Columbia Martin, Mrs. Julia Jackson and Mrs. Iva Atkinson, all of Cumberland, and Mrs. Alice Beasley, Washington; a brother, Denson Malone, Toledo, Ohio, and a number of nieces and nephews.

TABLER INFANT

Michael Dale Tabler, two-day-old son of Dale R. and Lucy (Goldizen) Tabler, Haddon Avenue, died yesterday in Memorial Hospital.

Also surviving is a sister, Debra Ann Tabler, at home.

Graveside services will be conducted Saturday at 10 a.m. at Sunset Memorial Park by Rev. Frank Wanek. The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home.

Mining Museum Is In Making

STOTESBURY, W. Va. (UPI)—Coal mining equipment—the older the better—is in demand by the Stotesbury Improvement Association.

The community, near Beckley, is working to become a tourist attraction and made the request in line with that project.

The once-bustling mining town received a 10-room building in the town this week from Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates for use as a mining museum. Some mine relics already have been received but more are needed, association president Calvin Moran said.

Moran said relic will be received by lease, donation or loan. He said they will be catalogued and put on display in the new museum.

The president asked any interested person or firm which has equipment to contact the improvement association.

The greatest majority of American Indians learned the practice of scalping their slain foes from the white man. Scalping spread rapidly among Indians when European rivals in the northeast began offering bounties for enemy trophies.

Colon, Mich., is known as the "Magic Captial of the World" because its leading industry is the manufacture of magicians' equipment.

476 Forest Fires Listed In West Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A total of 476 forest fires have burned over about 9,200 acres of woodland in West Virginia with the spring forest fire season only at the half-way point, assistant state forester Asher Kelly said Thursday.

Kelly said the last week of March was the most critical period so far this year. He said overall damage was "about average" so far.

Greatest damage occurred in the fifth district which comprises 10 southwestern counties. Two hundred seventy two fires burned over 6,530 acres there. The least damage was done in District 2 where 9 fires burned 28 acres.

More than three millions Americans now live on wheels.

City Marbles Tournament Is Scheduled

The annual marbles championship will be staged May 28 at Gephart School playground, according to the Recreation Department.

Preliminary steps have already been taken for conducting elimination rounds at 16 city schools, C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, said. Copies of rules and marbles to be used in the playoffs have been distributed to schools, he said, adding it is expected eliminations will get underway after the school Easter recess.

Individual school champions will be named by May 25. In holding playoffs, schools must provide rings 10 feet in diameter and 13 marbles must be placed in the ring. It is hoped that schools will provide a teacher or teachers in a supervisory capacity when determining their champion.

Age limit for the tourney is 9 to 14 years and Mason emphasized that competition is open to both boys and girls.

Last year nearly 1,800 children participated in the preliminary rounds to find the 16 school representatives.

The winner was Robert Powell of Allegany High School, and the runnerup, Frank Watson of St. Mary's. Both are expected to be eligible for this year's competition.

In addition to local prizes, to be announced, the local winner will represent Cumberland in the national marbles finals at Asbury Park, N. J.

This is the fourth year that the Recreation Department has joined in sponsoring the marbles play. Prior to that time, it was sponsored by the Times-News.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥	Double
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♣

The declarer turned in a very neat performance today when he effectively combined an elimination play with a loser-on-loser to throw his opponent in the lead at the crucial moment.

The bidding was direct. East's hand contained attractive distribution to compensate for its minimum high card values, so that his double after North's single raise was thoroly justified even tho partner is forced to speak at a higher level. South's hand revalued to 20 points when hearts were raised, so he proceeded directly to game. West would have liked to compete, but a bid at the five level appeared too risky and the auction quietly subsided.

The opening lead was the queen of clubs and, as declarer surveyed his prospects, it looked as if he might have to lose four tricks, one club and three spades, since the ace of that suit must be consigned to East on the bidding. The best chance appeared to be the hope that the ace of clubs was only twice guarded and could be ruffed away to establish the dummy's king.

The queen of clubs was therefore permitted to hold and declarer ducked the continuation, ruffing in his hand. The ace of hearts was led to clear up the trump situation, followed by the diamond ace and a ruff. Now the third club was trumped, but unfortunately the ace held firm. However, South saw an end play in the making at this point.

He ruffed away his last diamond and then led the king of clubs. As East covered with the ace, declarer merely permitted him to hold the trick shedding a small spade. East was confronted with the unpleasant choice of giving South a ruff and a sluff, if he led a diamond, or else establishing dummy's king of spades if he opened up that suit.

County Workers To Get Holiday Today

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners passed a motion yesterday giving all county employes a holiday on Good Friday.

John J. Rowan, board president, pointed out that this is done annually by motion to supplement an inadvertant omission when the Civil Service regulations were drawn up.

Court House employes always have Good Friday off, while workers in the roads department and at the institutions do not have it unless by motion.

The motion was made by Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon and seconded by Rowan. Commissioner John T. Mason was unable to attend and at 10:05 a.m. Rowan adjourned the meeting for the lack of a quorum when Shinnamon had to leave.

One letter was received and it referred to the sewage problem outlined in a letter to the board Tuesday by J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian.

That was for the area in LaVale between Campground Road and West Street. Submitting a complaint on raw sewage being dumped in natural storm drains near his property was Ralph Raphael D. Rice, 18 Campground Road.

Super Market Remodeling Nearing Completion Here

The interior of the supermarket has been completely redone and all new cases and shelving installed. The ceiling has been dropped and additional fluroescent lighting installed.

At the entrance a vestibule is being installed and "magic carpet" doors which open electronically are provided. The vestibule will add to the comfort of customers during inclement weather, McElfish said.

The front section of the supermarket has baked enamel paneling in white and early American style signs. A canopy over the bakery goods section is of gold design and the shelving is blue. The coffee section is adjacent.

The dairy and frozen food section has walls of yellow enameled paneling. A green color is used for the wall paneling in the fruit and vegetable department. This section also has a salad bar with refrigerated items.

Around the section where the fish and meats are sold the walls are shrimp colored. The entire store is air conditioned. Plans are to install a new floor with marbelized style material. The center part of the market contains stables and other food products.

At the parking lot as one enters the building a large canopy of corrugated plastic will be installed. The exterior of the building along Wineow Street will be covered with paneling and contain large A&P signs in early American style.

The work was done by carpenters, electricians and plumbers hired through the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street. The project is under the supervision of Gail Sheffield of the Altoona district headquarters of the A&P firm.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥	Double
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♣

The declarer turned in a very neat performance today when he effectively combined an elimination play with a loser-on-loser to throw his opponent in the lead at the crucial moment.

The bidding was direct. East's hand contained attractive distribution to compensate for its minimum high card values, so that his double after North's single raise was thoroly justified even tho partner is forced to speak at a higher level. South's hand revalued to 20 points when hearts were raised, so he proceeded directly to game. West would have liked to compete, but a bid at the five level appeared too risky and the auction quietly subsided.

The opening lead was the queen of clubs and, as declarer surveyed his prospects, it looked as if he might have to lose four tricks, one club and three spades, since the ace of that suit must be consigned to East on the bidding. The best chance appeared to be the hope that the ace of clubs was only twice guarded and could be ruffed away to establish the dummy's king.

The queen of clubs was therefore permitted to hold and declarer ducked the continuation, ruffing in his hand. The ace of hearts was led to clear up the trump situation, followed by the diamond ace and a ruff. Now the third club was trumped, but unfortunately the ace held firm. However, South saw an end play in the making at this point.

He ruffed away his last diamond and then led the king of clubs. As East covered with the ace, declarer merely permitted him to hold the trick shedding a small spade. East was confronted with the unpleasant choice of giving South a ruff and a sluff, if he led a diamond, or else establishing dummy's king of spades if he opened up that suit.

County Workers To Get Holiday Today

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners passed a motion yesterday giving all county employes a holiday on Good Friday.

John J. Rowan, board president, pointed out that this is done annually by motion to supplement an inadvertant omission when the Civil Service regulations were drawn up.

Court House employes always have Good Friday off, while workers in the roads department and at the institutions do not have it unless by motion.

The motion was made ♥ Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamon and seconded by Rowan. Commissioner John T. Mason was unable to attend and at 10:05 a.m. Rowan adjourned the meeting for the lack of a quorum when Shinnamon had to leave.

One letter was received and it referred to the sewage problem outlined in a letter to the board Tuesday by J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian.

That was for the area in LaVale between Campground Road and West Street. Submitting a complaint on raw sewage being dumped in natural storm drains near his property was Ralph Raphael D. Rice, 18 Campground Road.

Super Market Remodeling Nearing Completion Here

The interior of the supermarket has been completely redone and all new cases and shelving installed. The ceiling has been dropped and additional fluroescent lighting installed.

At the entrance a vestibule is being installed and "magic carpet" doors which open electronically are provided. The vestibule will add to the comfort of customers during inclement weather, McElfish said.

The front section of the supermarket has baked enamel paneling in white and early American style signs. A canopy over the bakery goods section is of gold design and the shelving is blue. The coffee section is adjacent.

The dairy and frozen food section has walls of yellow enameled paneling. A green color is used for the wall paneling in the fruit and vegetable department. This section also has a salad bar with refrigerated items.

Around the section where the fish and meats are sold the walls are shrimp colored. The entire store is air conditioned. Plans are to install a new floor with marbelized style material. The center part of the market contains stables and other food products.

At the parking lot as one enters the building a large canopy of corrugated plastic will be installed. The exterior of the building along Wineow Street will be covered with paneling and contain large A&P signs in early American style.

The work was done by carpenters, electricians and plumbers hired through the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street. The project is under the supervision of Gail Sheffield of the Altoona district headquarters of the A&P firm.

Communion Service Today At Church

The quarterly Communion service will be observed at Southminster Presbyterian Church today at 7:30 p.m.

Music will be provide by the choir. Elders serving will be Chester See, Donald Bucy, Vincent Cooper, John V. Hanifin and H. Vernon Adams, according to the pastor, Rev. John Miller.

Nineteen new members who were received into the church Palm Sunday will receive Communion for the first time.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD. — William Gargan, whose career was derailed in August, 1960, by cancer of the larynx, makes his first acting appearance since then as guest star in the part of the clown, a mute, on Broderick Crawford's "King of Diamonds" TV show Saturday.

After his operation, Bill refused to use a mechanical voice box and fought hard to communicate without one. How well he succeeded is seen in the fact that he cut a 15 minute tape for radio on behalf of the cancer drive just recently.

His devoted wife Mary says the thing that pleases Bill most is that the mute clown role was NOT written especially for him but is an integral part of the story.

Emphatic denial of abdication was made by Prince Rainier of Monaco in an interview he gave to Noel Barker of the London Daily Mail and France Soir. Said the Prince:

"Above all, one thing must be perfectly clear: The rumors that have come to me on the subject of my eventual abdication are absolutely stupid and certainly without foundation. I have no reason to abdicate. I will never do it. Such an idea has never come into my mind.

"When I say that I shall let nothing interfere with the sovereignty of Monaco, I am not thinking only of myself and of my personal position, but also of my people who love this small part of the world, where they enjoy so many privileges denied to others. And I am thinking also of my son who will succeed me one day."

It was a completely charmed Kirk Douglas who had tea with Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy at the White House during the seven hours he was in Washington, D.C. as chairman of the Freedom Bond Drive, the first bond drive in 12 years, Kirk had planed to Washington to address 2,000 federal employees. Speaker of the House John McCormack later presented Kirk with a plaque of appreciation.

But the highlight of the flying trip was the visit at the White House where the First Lady conducted Kirk on a tour including a visit to the President's office, followed by tea in their private quarters. From Washington, Kirk flew back to Hollywood to start "The Hook" for Perlberg-Seaton.

Quite a talk Roz Russell and Gypsy Rose Lee had in Roz's dressing room when Gypsy came visiting the set of her life story at Warners. And what did Rosalind and the ex-stripper talk about? Their children.

Gypsy further proved she is a complete sentimentalist by bursting into tears of nostalgia when Mervyn Leroy showed her the replica of the old Minsky Burlesque Theatre where she once queened it as the highest paid undresser in the world. "It's just like coming home," blubbered Gypsy to Mervyn.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Eleanor Powell will be touring, so Glenn Ford planes back to Hollywood in June to represent the family at son Peter's graduation from Chadwick High School.

Debbie Loew and Brett Halsey, who are on-again-off-again romantically, were on-again at the Round Table in Santa Monica and getting a lot of laughs over the antics of comedian Bob Newhart, another diner.

Two of the handsomest couples in town, Gig Young and Elizabeth, and Anne Jeffreys and Bob Sterling, paying no attention to their diets sampling the delicious food at the Wilshire Terrace.

The bat is the only mammal that can fly.

Former Pastor To Speak Here

Rev. Donald Furniss, former pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church here, will be the speaker at the 21st annual Missionary Conference of the church today at 7:30 p.m.

After leaving the local pastorate, Rev. Mr. Furniss was sent as a missionary to Cambodia in Southeast Asia, where he ministered five years.

He and his wife, following a required two years of language study, were assigned a mission station at Takeo, in Cambodia. They were assisted in evangelical work there by a native of the country.

Much of his time there, Rev. Mr. Furniss reports, is spent traveling by boat on the many rivers and marshes in the Takeo area.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Ever since I was a little girl I have wanted to be a hospital nurse. When I graduated from high school I went into nurse's training. I tried terribly hard but some of the subjects were just too difficult for me. I couldn't make the grade and flunked out.

This was a big disappointment not only to me but to my parents. Our minister suggested that I become a practical nurse if I couldn't be an R.N. So I took a course in practical nursing and that's what I am doing right now. I can truthfully say I love my work and look forward to every new day. Because I show so much interest the head nurse on the floor lets me do some of the little things that R.N.'s do.

My problem, Ann, is my friends are forever reminding me that I'm only a flunky and that I do all the dirty work. They say I'm crazy to stay with such a lowly job. What can I say to defend myself?—MISS NO CAP

DEAR MISS NO CAP: You don't NEED to defend yourself, and when you stop trying you'll have won the battle

Many people fail to achieve the goal they set for themselves, but they don't curl up and die. They do the next best thing and give it everything they've got.

Consider yourself blessed to be in work that you love and turn a deaf ear to your needling friends.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm aching to give some advice to the young man who is considering marrying the "middle-class girl with simple tastes." She's the easy-going, slob type who thought it was perfectly all right to put catsup bottles, sour cream cartons and pickle jars on the dinner table. "Why make extra work?" was her excuse. He said he didn't like to eat like that.

Keep looking, fella. This girl is not for you. Let her find someone like herself. The world is filled with uncouth boors who go to the table in undershirts and drink beer straight out of the bottle.

The wife who feeds her family on oilcloth and saves the linen napkins for company shows she thinks more of outsiders than of her own family. I'm not suggesting that she haul out the crystal and sterling silver every night, particularly if there are small children, but it costs no more to set a charming table. It just takes a little more thought and energy.

Children who see nicely arranged food and flowers on a dinner table when there is no company, learn something about gracious living.—CHIPPENDALE SOUL

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Has the telephone become a weapon of war? Is it to be used for sadistic and moronic people to annoy peace-loving citizens who are trying to get a night's rest?

For eight months someone has been keeping us up night after night: Our telephone rings and then—deep silence on the other end. It's making nervous wrecks out of my husband and me. We've asked the telephone company to watch our line and catch the culprit, but they say there is no way they do it.

We have seriously considered having the telephone disconnected but it would be a terrible inconvenience. Can you suggest something short of this drastic measure?—WEARY BONES

DEAR WEARY: There are two alternatives. You can have your telephone put on a wall-jack and plug it out at night. Or you can change your number and keep the new number out of the telephone book. Give it out only to those you wish to have it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ON THE SPOT: Nothing is for nothing, Toots. When you accept such favors you oblige yourself right up to your vulnerable neck.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rescue Swiss Guard

MARTIGNY, Switzerland (UPI) — Swiss border guard Edy Bridy, 25, was dug out alive and only slightly injured Thursday after spending 16 hours beneath 26 feet of snow. He was buried by an avalanche Wednesday near the northern end of the Grand St. Bernard Road Tunnel.

The sparrow hawk's name belies its nature. This handsome little bird rarely attacks sparrows or other birds, but lives largely on insects. Sparrow hawks often circle the edges of brush fires, catching insects flushed by the flames.

The broad, shallow root systems of a saguaro cactus may absorb a ton of water after rain fall. This moisture is stored up in the plant's sponglike tissue.

Wilkinson Named Chamber Director

John R. Wilkinson, advertising manager of the Times and Alleganian Company, yesterday was elected a director of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

During the director's meeting, three members were taken into the Chamber. They are the Sweene Paint and Supply Company, Dr. James P. Hallinan and Butcher and Sherrerd.

Reports were presented by Samuel Moses for the Downtown Cumberland Business Association, Harry Kauffman for the Taxpayers and Property Owners League, and Miles G. Thompson Jr., for the annual dinner meeting on May 9.

Plans for representation at the 50th annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber which opens in Washington April 29 were outlined by Karl W. Bachman, president.

Canoeists Start Three-Day Trip

Some 29 members of Explorer Post 10, sponsored by the LaVale Methodist Church, started their three-day canoe trip from Moorefield, W. Va., to Hancock, yesterday.

They intended spending the night last night at Blue Beach along Route 28 near Springfield, W. Va., but stopped four miles farther upstream.

Yesterday afternoon's rain brought with it high winds and the canoeists decided it was better to stop their first day's trip about 4 p. m. They had started at 8 a. m. on the South Branch near Moorefield.

Today they hope to reach Paw Paw.

Youth Is Jailed In Larceny Case

Junior Edward Crawford, 18, LaVale, Wednesday was committed to the County Jail for 15 days in default of a $50 fine imposed on a petty larceny charge in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate Paul W. Barnett found Crawford guilty of taking a manifold with two carburetors from Dave Miller, 1415 Virginia Avenue, about March 30.

Capt. James E. Van of the City Police said Crawford sold the auto part to another youth for $10. Capt. Van said the stolen goods had been recovered.

Excavation To Start On Searstown Center

Workmen of the George F. Hazelwood Company yesterday began moving equipment onto the Winchester Road site of the proposed Searstown Shopping Center.

Samuel Moses, manager of the local Sears, Roebuck and Company store, said that the Hazelwood firm has the contract to remove some 800,000 cubic yards of dirt from the site across Winchester Road from Coverwood.

Formal groundbreaking ceremonies at Searstown are expected in early May.

CHOIR WILL SING HERE TOMORROW — "The King's Chor-aliers," a 29-voice a cappella choir from Central Bible Institute, Springfield, Mo., will sing at Central Assembly of God, Johnson and Fayette streets, tomorrow at 7 p. m. The institute, a four-year college with graduate division, is operated by the Assemblies of God. Its primary purpose is the training of ministers, missionaries, directors of religious education and sacred music and other Christian workers.

Allender To Attend District Meeting

F. Patrick Allender, business agent, will represent Carpenters Local 1024 at a Second District conference to be held May 11 and 12 in the new Carpenters Headquarters in Washington.

The agenda for the conference includes discussions on legal problems confronting labor and jurisdictional agreements. Panel discussions are set on apprentice training, millwright work and welfare and pension plans.

"Late In Coming"

Gleason, a 40-year-old Montgomery County lawyer, said Blair Lee's criticism of Daniel Brewster in regards to an Assateague Island land transaction was "a little late in coming."

Lee and Brewster both are seeking the U.S. Senate nomination in the Democratic primary—Lee on the ticket headed by George P. Mahoney and Brewster as a member of the Tawes ticket.

Gleason claimed that Lee "either was terribly naive in not knowing about Brewster and Assateague at the time in 1961 when he voted for bills that would have enhanced the value of the property in which Brewster had an interest, or else his protestations at this late date are something less than sincere."

Gleason, speaking before the Young Republican Club of Prince Georges County, said Brewster admitted in October, 1960, his interest in Assateague property and offered to sell it to the state for $500,000. The property was owned at the time by the Cecil Amusement Co., Gleason said.

". . . I must point out that as early as Dec. 27, 1956, as published in the press, Brewster told how he and his partner, John Grason Turnbull, not only represented the Cecil Amusement Co., but also loaned it $10,000," said Gleason.

"These facts," he added, "were on the record long before Lee voted for the Assateague bridge bills. What kind of Maryland public officer was he that he maintained his silence, only to erupt in protest now that he is engaged in a violent primary contest with Daniel Brewster?" he asked.

Enlists In Army

Robert L. Ruby, Flintstone, enlisted in the Army Wednesday for assigned to Air Defense Command. Following basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and a leave, he will report directly to Lockport, N. Y., according to Sgt. Thomas Walbert, local Army recruiter.

Hearing Deferred

A hearing for Sterling W. Judy, Plesaant Dale, W. Va., and Frank Bennett, city, on charges of failure to obey a reasonable order by a police officer has been postponed until April 25.

Will Show Film

"Centerville Awakening," a 73-minute film, will be shown at the Ellerslie E. U. B. Church today at 7:30 p. m., according to Rev. R. C. Chambers, pastor.

Service Planned

The annual Ellerslie Good Friday service will be held today at 10 a. m. in the E. U. B. Church. Rev. Richard C. Chambers, Methodist pastor, will speak.

VA Representative To Be Here Today

Sam Weston, VA representative, will be at the Cumberland Post Office today from 8:50 a.m. to 5 p.m.

He will be available at the office on the third floor of the post office to assist veterans, including filing applications for direct home loans.

The Veterans Administration Mr. Weston said, will distribute $75,000,000 to field offices on July 2 for making direct home loans.

He said VA officials estimate it will be possible next month to notify field offices of their allotments. At that time, VA regional offices will be authorized to furnish direct loan applications to veterans on their waiting list in advance of the distribution on July 2.

Canoeists Start Three-Day Trip

Some 29 members of Explorer Post 10, sponsored by the LaVale Methodist Church, started their three-day canoe trip from Moorefield, W. Va., to Hancock, yesterday.

They intended spending the night last night at Blue Beach along Route 28 near Springfield, W. Va., but stopped four miles farther upstream.

Yesterday afternoon's rain brought with it high winds and the canoeists decided it was better to stop their first day's trip about 4 p. m. They had started at 8 a. m. on the South Branch near Moorefield.

Today they hope to reach Paw Paw.

Youth Is Jailed In Larceny Case

Junior Edward Crawford, 18, LaVale, Wednesday was committed to the County Jail for 15 days in default of a $50 fine imposed on a petty larceny charge in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate Paul W. Barnett found Crawford guilty of taking a manifold with two carburetors from Dave Miller, 1415 Virginia Avenue, about March 30.

Capt. James E. Van of the City Police said Crawford sold the auto part to another youth for $10. Capt. Van said the stolen goods had been recovered.

Excavation To Start On Searstown Center

Workmen of the George F. Hazelwood Company yesterday began moving equipment onto the Winchester Road site of the proposed Searstown Shopping Center.

Samuel Moses, manager of the local Sears, Roebuck and Company store, said that the Hazelwood firm has the contract to remove some 800,000 cubic yards of dirt from the site across Winchester Road from Coverwood.

Formal groundbreaking ceremonies at Searstown are expected in early May.

"Late In Coming"

Gleason, a 40-year-old Montgomery County lawyer, said Blair Lee's criticism of Daniel Brewster in regards to an Assateague Island land transaction was "a little late in coming."

Lee and Brewster both are seeking the U.S. Senate nomination in the Democratic primary—Lee on the ticket headed by George P. Mahoney and Brewster as a member of the Tawes ticket.

Gleason claimed that Lee "either was terribly naive in not knowing about Brewster and Assateague at the time in 1961 when he voted for bills that would have enhanced the value of the property in which Brewster had an interest, or else his protestations at this late date are something less than sincere."

Gleason, speaking before the Young Republican Club of Prince Georges County, said Brewster admitted in October, 1960, his interest in Assateague property and offered to sell it to the state for $500,000. The property was owned at the time by the Cecil Amusement Co., Gleason said.

". . . I must point out that as early as Dec. 27, 1956, as published in the press, Brewster told how he and his partner, John Grason Turnbull, not only represented the Cecil Amusement Co., but also loaned it $10,000," said Gleason.

"These facts," he added, "were on the record long before Lee voted for the Assateague bridge bills. What kind of Maryland public officer was he that he maintained his silence, only to erupt in protest now that he is engaged in a violent primary contest with Daniel Brewster?" he asked.

Enlists In Army

Robert L. Ruby, Flintstone, enlisted in the Army Wednesday for assigned to Air Defense Command. Following basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and a leave, he will report directly to Lockport, N. Y., according to Sgt. Thomas Walbert, local Army recruiter.

Hearing Deferred

A hearing for Sterling W. Judy, Plesaant Dale, W. Va., and Frank Bennett, city, on charges of failure to obey a reasonable order by a police officer has been postponed until April 25.

Will Show Film

"Centerville Awakening," a 73-minute film, will be shown at the Ellerslie E. U. B. Church today at 7:30 p. m., according to Rev. R. C. Chambers, pastor.

Service Planned

The annual Ellerslie Good Friday service will be held today at 10 a. m. in the E. U. B. Church. Rev. Richard C. Chambers, Methodist pastor, will speak.

VA Representative To Be Here Today

Sam Weston, VA representative, will be at the Cumberland Post Office today from 8:50 a.m. to 5 p.m.

He will be available at the office on the third floor of the post office to assist veterans, including filing applications for direct home loans.

The Veterans Administration Mr. Weston said, will distribute $75,000,000 to field offices on July 2 for making direct home loans.

He said VA officials estimate it will be possible next month to notify field offices of their allotments. At that time, VA regional offices will be authorized to furnish direct loan applications to veterans on their waiting list in advance of the distribution on July 2.

Upward And Onward Faster And Faster

It's risky business to comment on new speed records these days because they have become highly perishable. But the 19-mile climb in six minutes by a U. S. Navy Phantom II supersonic jet plane should stand as a record long enough to mention that it's pretty fast climbing.

It wasn't too long ago that wise men discounted the practicality of the automobile on the ground that the human body couldn't stand such speeds as 20 miles an hour and more. There are probably other wise men who will discount the practicality of a jet plane that can dart to a height of 19 miles in six minutes, and some day those doubts may seem comical, too.

Military men, of course, know the value of getting a warplane into the sky as quickly as possible and every accomplishment in this area sooner or later affects commercial flying. One of the problems of commercial jet plane operation is to get high fast, both to ease noise discomfort around airports and to reach the altitude at which their engines perform most efficiently.

The feat of the Navy Phantom II and other feats bound to follow are not stunts, any more than the early airplane races and Lindbergh's lonely transatlantic flight were stunts. Thus in this new jet-climbing record seized by the Navy (more than halving the record set by the Air Force) there is more than pride of being first.

There is the satisfaction of watching man's eternal discontent with inventions and methods he knows he can improve.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Expansion Of Power

In retrospect, the only real significance of the case of Kennedy v Steel is that by a single act the President has expanded the power of his office without legislation. This was attempted by Franklin D. Roosevelt throughout his regime, but no matter where else Roosevelt succeeded, he never actually gained complete control of the economy. The National Recovery Act was an attempt in that direction but the NRA was declared unconstitutional in the Sick Chicken Case. It was beyond question a fascistic measure and it is interesting to note that its true nature was not generally recognized until it reached the Supreme Court.

President Kennedy has been able to gain control of the economy because the government is the principal customer of manufactured goods. Roosevelt sought to establish a similar control by creating "yardstick" businesses: that is, companies engaged in manufacturing heavy goods in competition with existing companies. At first it was contemplated that the government would own such companies, but wiser counsel prevailed and loans were made through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other agencies to accomplish the same end. The various Kaiser enterprises started that way.

President Kennedy has developed a different concept. The government will neither own nor operate these enterprises, but it will control prices. The United States Steel Corporation precipitated this by its inept and inopportune announcement that it would raise prices. Good public relations indicated that such an announcement would only have been sound after the new wage agreement had been in operation some time and the evidence was clear that the price was insufficient to maintain efficient plant and equipment.

The President was able to ignore this question because the industry failed to make it clear to the people. Businessmen usually do not grasp the essence of public relations and therefore failed to prove their point or to have any sense of timing.

The President was able to mobilize his entire Cabinet, particularly the Departments of Justice and Defense to fight this battle which soon enough involved the questions of inflation, of trusts, of cartels to control prices, of defense contracts. It was on the rock of defense contracts that the steel industry split, for if some companies did not receive defense contracts, their production would be trivial. After all, the steel industry was hardest hit during the Depression and was rescued by government contracts and by war.

A government contract is rarely beneficial for any business, what with shifting specifications, whimsical controls, and renegotiations long after the goods have been delivered. Nevertheless when it is the best business available, it becomes prime. Today, the American steel industry exports about as much steel as is imported. The peril is that we shall import so much steel as to endanger our home industry. This the Department of Defense can hold over the head of the industry. Therefore, companies largely or wholly dependent on government must function on the principle that the customer is always right.

The President has won a victory in the expansion of Presidential powers and has established the fact that his hold on his Cabinet and on Congress is complete, but he has frightened privately-owned enterprise and the private investor beyond anything that had heretofore been experienced. This is a by-product of the President's press conference and his implied attack on profits which did not go over well.

The President does not have Roosevelt's gift of sarcasm. When Roosevelt employed this rhetorical device, it was like a piercing rapier. President Kennedy can display anger but not nastiness. Therefore, his reference to profits only frightened. This is unfortunate at a time when the country requires unity of purpose in the face of our enemy.

It will take a great effort on the part of the President to re-establish a sense of confidence in the business world, particularly as his enemies now have a slogan to use against him, namely, that he is opposed to the profit system. The alternative to the profit system is Socialism. President Kennedy, having definitely indicated what he can do if necessary, is too smart to upset the economic apple-cart and will undoubtedly take reparative measures. His greatest task now is to control those who will take advantage of this fracas to so alter our economic system as to make it unworkable. That may be a more difficult task than defeating the steel industry.

Where Are The Conservatives In Congress?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Maybe the conservatives in Congress in both political parties will wake up in due time and put up a fight against the dictatorship complex that seems to have seized the Kennedy Administration. For the way the steel dispute was almost entirely neglected last week by those who customarily criticize the arbitrary use of power by government is disquieting to the many people who still believe in a government of laws and a written constitution.

Congress has a duty to expose usurpation of power when it develops anywhere in this country. It has a right to investigate the facts. Will it now summon all the Cabinet secretaries and their assistants to find out just what did happen in the 72 hours between the time the U. S. Steel Corporation announced a price increase and the time the same company capitulated, as its competitors were subjected to pressure and intimidation unparalleled in American history? If the executive branch of the government should order its officials to take the "Fifth Amendment" and to refuse to give the information on the ground that it is "privileged," this in itself would be significant. Meanwhile, this will not stop the press from finding out the facts and telling them to the American people.

The whole situation is best described in a "Wall Street Journal" editorial on Monday of this week, which said in part:

"In a long life not without its share of amazements, we never saw anything like it.

"On Tuesday one of the country's steel companies announced it was going to try to get more money for its product. And promptly all hell busted loose....

"The President of the United States went into what can only be described as a tirade. Not only had the company changed its price list without consulting him but it had also set a price which, in his opinion, was 'wholly unjustified.' With a long preamble in which he rang in the Berlin Crisis, the soldiers killed the other day in Vietnam, the wives and mothers separated from their husbands by the reserve call-up — all of which he cast at the feet of these 'irresponsible' steel officials — he wound up by crying that these men had shown their 'utter contempt' for the welfare of the country.

"The response in Washington was instantaneous. The Justice Department, the Federal Trade Commission, the Congressional inquisitors all leaped to arms.

"Then came the night riders. At three a. m. Thursday a reporter for the Associated Press was awakened by government agents unable to wait even for regular office hours in their driven haste to find out what testimony he could give about the criminal conduct of these steel officials. At five a. m. it was the turn of our own reporter in Philadelphia. At six-thirty a. m. the scene was repeated in Wilmington, Delaware, for a reporter on the Evening Journal. All this without any warrants, only orders from the Attorney General of the United States.

"By mid-Thursday morning the U. S. Steel Corporation had been subpoenaed for all documents bearing on the crime and had learned that a federal grand jury would move swiftly to see what laws had been violated by asking three tenths of a cent a pound more for a piece of steel. . .

"In such a climate it was not at all surprising what the mailed fist could do. All day Friday steel company offices were awash with government agents,, while the threats of punishment were mingled with promises of reward for doing the rulers' bidding. It is a technique of government not unknown elsewhere in the world, and it is a combination almost irresistible. So by Friday night Mr. Kennedy had his victory."

There were some caustic comments from other cities across the nation. The Tampa, Florida, "Times" in an editorial said that President Kennedy "has taken unto himself a veto power fully as weighty as that exercised by the Soviet Union in the United Nations." The editorial aded:

"The efforts last night of some radio commentators to impart a sense of delicacy to the President's crackdown on big steel was almost laughable. He wade in with both fists flying and never mind the low blows. . . .

"Big steel may yet salvage something out of this and may, at a later date, justify and secure the price increase it claims essential. But it will do so only with the concurrence of the man in the White House. Like the song goes: Big John! Big John! Big John!"

Here in Washington, the "Evening Star" in an editorial decried the routing out of reporters at three o'clock in the morning and the activities of government agencies, including the orders given by the President's brother to a federal grand jury. The editorial added:

"This power should be exercised only to investigate a suspected criminal offense and to prosecute the offender if evidence of crime is developed. It should never be used as an instrument of retaliation by an outraged President or an angered Attorney General."

Where, however, are the conservatives of both the Democratic and Republican parties, the men who have hitherto championed the Constitution and fought against autocracy in any form? They surely cannot succumb to the doctrine that, because price rises are unpopular, the "end justifies the means." For what's "popular" today will not always be popular tomorrow as the people ultimately get all the facts. If price and wage controls are necessary, Congress alone has the power to impose them by law. It certainly isn't the function of a President to make the laws without Congress — at least not yet.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

TAXING OF INTEREST—Reading of the progress of a tax bill as it makes its way through Congress can be pretty tiring, particularly when it deals mostly with complex matters pertaining to corporate finance.

However, this year's effort, already approved by the House, is of more than passing interest for the many millions of American taxpayers who maintain accounts in banks or savings and loan associations. For, if the bill is finally approved, and its chances are better than good, the federal government will begin withholding taxes on interest payments made to depositors.

For many years, the Internal Revenue Service has ruled that interest payments to depositors must be considered as income and become subject to federal income taxes, but as a matter of general practice, most taxpayers have been ignoring or "forgetting" to pay this portion of their federal tax liability. Once withholding is instituted, however, the tax will be paid in advance and individuals will have to make claims for any refunds they may be able to justify.

Legislators are at a loss to explain the lack of public indignation over this closing of a tax "loophole" except for the belief that most depositors have no inkling of what is about to happen to them.

Lacking a major upswelling of adverse public sentiment, the bill glided through the House with a comfortable majority with most of the legislators being influenced in their voting by the desires of some businessmen.

The bill contains a proposal to lower corporate tax payments for companies that invest in new equipment to make their manufacturing operations more efficient. While divided on this issue, some industries, notably in the South, were in favor of the procedure, and this was the big factor in lining up Southern Democratic House votes in favor of passage.

Near Collision Over Washington Illustrates Air Traffic Problems

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—For 41 tense minutes during the morning of March 21, two great airliners played tag with death in the murky clouds over the Washington suburbs.

On the ground, the control tower operator finally broke down under the pressure of coordinating a sky full of planes, circling in dizzy, whirling, geometric patterns. A substitute had to take over.

The untold drama illustrated the increasingly hazardous problem of air traffic which has become just as serious in the air over big cities as automobile traffic is on the ground—at times more so.

The two airliners that came so close to tragedy were an Eastern Electra (Flight 404) and a United Viscount (Flight 322). Both were ordered to the same altitude and holding pattern.

It was a miracle that they didn't collide.

The man who issued the near-fatal order was Bernard Isralow, a conscientious, competent coordinator, who had never committed an error in his nine years in the hectic control tower at Washington National Airport.

But the traffic on March 21 became more than he could handle. During one 60-second period, he barked directions to eight separate planes. This is probably too much for any man's nerves.

Here are the events that led up to what might have been a major air disaster:

Isralow ordered an approaching Beechcraft to circle over Springfield, Va., a Washington suburb, at 6,000 feet. Suddenly the Eastern Electra, approaching from Louisville at about 10:33 a. m., mistakenly radioed that it was also over Springfield at 6,000 feet.

Isralow urgently ordered the Eastern pilot to pull up to 7,000 feet but failed to note the new altitude on his records.

Meanwhile, the pilot corrected his navigation and radioed the control tower to disregard the Springfield position. But he continued his climb to 7,000 feet.

A few minutes later, Isralow noted that the Beechcraft was still circling at 6,000 feet and directed the United Viscount arriving from Knoxville at 10:45 to move into the Springfield pattern at 7,000 feet.

He started bringing the Beechcraft in for a landing as the Electra approached Springfield. But this time it was no mistake.

Control Tower Cracks

By now, Isralow's problems were piling up. He was frantically trying to track, separate, and direct planes coming in from all directions. The pilot of the Beechcraft chose this moment to start needling the control tower with sarcastic comments.

Hastily, Isralow checked the records which still showed the Electra at 6,000 feet and directed it to circle Springfield. Actually, of course, the Eastern Electra had moved to 7,000 feet which put it on a collision course with the United Viscount.

In the control tower, the tense Isralow began to come apart. He brought two planes down for abortive landings and had to send them back into the cluttered sky.

Seeing that Isralow was losing control over the traffic, the watch supervisor ordered James Krantz to take over. Of course, Krantz relied upon the control tower records, which incorrectly showed the Eastern Electra at 6,000 feet.

Finally, Krantz ordered the Electra to descend to 5,000 feet. The pilot reported leaving 7,000 feet. The startled Krantz promptly asked the Viscount for its altitude, which was also 7,000 feet.

When the watch supervisor was notified, he immediately relieved both Isralow and Krantz of all control duties until the records could be played back to determine who was at fault.

Krantz has now been returned to duty, but Isralow remains on suspension. He has a good record and it has been recommended that he be reduced in grade and transferred to a less nerve-racking post.

Note—When this column queried the Federal Aviation Administration, its chief, Najeeb Halaby, immediately ordered the same full-scale investigation that would have followed if a collision had actually occurred.

Envoys From Hiroshima

Miyoko Matsubara, aged 29, was with 320 Japanese schoolgirls about a mile from Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945, the day the first atomic bomb in history was exploded. She was one of 55 who survived. The scars of the explosion are on her face and arms.

Very quietly she told Washingtonians last week why she hoped the United States and Russia would not resume nuclear testing.

"The survivors of Hiroshima are all radioactive," she explained. "We have reached the danger point where more radioactivity causes death. Last year when the Russians tested, 50 of us died.

"It is very difficult for us girls to get married anyway," explained Miyoko, who, except for her scarred eye, is not unattractive. "The girls are conscious of their disfigurement, and there is a high incidence of miscarriage among bomb survivors. Also many women who have survived give birth to small-headed babies. Our life is not easy.

"It is not easy for the young men either," she said, motioning toward Hiromasa Hanabusa, 19, who was only 15 months old when the bomb exploded. Both parents were killed, and he is a Moral Adoption Orphan sponsored by Rotary International.

The two Hiroshima survivors are enroute through the United States urging the end of nuclear testing. They had hoped to see President Kennedy—or Mrs. Kennedy—but now will go on to Russia where Mrs. Khrushchev plans to see them.

The Japanese press, extremely sensitive about atomic testings, has played up the fact that they were not received at the White House.

THIRTY - ONE THOUSAND FEET OVER TULSA — This is the final leg of the Around-the-World trip. The Rockies are behind us. The Great Plains are ahead. Four hours and 20 minutes after leaving Los Angeles, this jet — United Airlines Flight 816 — will roll into New York. We left there 29 days and 22 hours ago.

In that time, we have flown 22,775 miles. Ordinarily, statistics have no fascination for me. But there is a point to be proved. The total time in flight was only 39 hours, 51 minutes. Thus, although we have been gone from home only 30 days, it required less than two of them to make the trip.

The rest of the time was spent in Paris, Beirut, Jerusalem, New Delhi, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Honolulu and Los Angeles. Nine stops spread over 27 days gave us an average of three days at each place. And three days is just enough to get around, see the sights, meet the people, do some shopping, and see some of the country.

The weather was fair and the flights smooth all the way. The only rain we saw was one day in Honolulu. The longest time in transit was six hours and 25 minutes — Pan-American Flight two, N. Y. to Paris. The distance was 3,661 miles. The trip from Tokyo to Honolulu was 3,900 miles and was completed in six hours and 20 minutes. Strange? Hardly. We flew east all the way, with the jet stream. Sometimes you find it; sometimes you don't.

The highest we flew was between Teheran and New Delhi — 38,000 feet. The fastest was between New Delhi and Bangkok — 750 miles per hour. There are vast differences between the curiosity — or lack of it — in passengers. I have to know everything that is going on. My friend Jack Sullivan, who is aboard the same plane, said: "Don't tell me what's going on up front. I don't want to hear it."

We made one side trip which was not part of the global voyage. This was from Beirut to Jerusalem — 300 miles each way. It is worth it. More than worth it. The Christian shrines are on the Jordan side of the border rather than the Israel side. The airport is the only one I've seen which is on an incline.

It also has a sheep crossing gate in the middle of the runway. Shepherds taking their flocks from one pasture to another, walk them across the airport. If a Middle East Airways Viscount is coming in, it is told to wait until the sheep have departed.

The town directly below right now is Louisville, Kentucky. In an hour, the trip will be over. Walter Shea will meet us with a car. The trip from Sea Bright to Idlewild requires two hours, so he left home when we were over Oklahoma. Walter and United 816 should arrive at the same time.

I always marvel at the progress of flight, and I am more than casually interested in safety features. When I first flew, in an OX-9 at Newark in 1929, it was easy to get killed. Now, you would have to fly scores of millions of miles before the law of averages would catch you.

The airlines cannot afford negligence anymore. The price is too high. A pure jet costs from $3,500,000 up, and the loss of one, with attendant lawsuits, can bankrupt a good airline. Matters are so strict that I saw Lew Diamond of National hold a DC-8 on the ground because a small part of one generator wasn't functioning. It had nothing to do with sustaining flight.

Kelly is awake now. She comes out of sleep at about the same speed as a butterfly coming out of a coccoon. "Where are we?" she says. I tell her Allentown, Pennsylvania. We're starting to let down. At once, she is off to the rest room armed with lipstick, comb, powder and all the commercial deceptions women use to be what they ain't.

I sit back and watch the white fleece of clouds come up to meet us. There are a lot of thoughts to think. Magellan's ship took three years to make this trip. Nelly Bly did it in 72 days. Dorothy Kilgallen was a child when she wrote herself into overnight fame by flying around the world. Wiley Post, a one-eyed wizard, made it in eight days in the Winnie Mae.

By the time Kelly comes back, the DC-8 is whipping the froth off the clouds and the "Fasten Seat Belts" sign goes on. I want to say something monumental, but there is nothing to say. So I grab her hand, and hold it tight.

Two years ago, she made her first flight and was terrified. She sat rigid and staring. Now she computes flying time with a pencil. "This captain did all right," she says. "He averaged 565 miles per hour, including slow climb and slow descent."

The ship comes in like a ballerina doing Swan Lake on marshmallows. The trip is over. Sullivan taps me. "I can't wait," he says, "until somebody in my joint says 'What's new?'"

Functional And Organic Heart Murmurs

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Dear Dr. Van Dellen: What is a systolic heart murmur? Can a 25 year old person with this condition participate actively in golf and other slightly strenuous activity? Is he likely to develop more serious heart trouble in the future?"

These questions about exercise and the future should be answered by the physician who heard the murmur; he knows whether the heart is enlarged and whether the electrocardiogram is normal. It may interest others to know more about murmurs and what they can mean to physicians.

The normal heart makes two sounds as it beats—lub dub, lub dub, lub dub. The first sound (systolic) is caused by the blood rushing out of the heart as it contracts. The second (diastolic) occurs during relaxation, when the ventricles are filling with blood.

A murmur is an abnormal heart sound and is called systolic when it replaces the lub, and diastolic when it replaces the dub. The heart of a person with a systolic murmur sounds like—swish dub, swish dub, swish dub.

There are two main types of systolic murmur. The functional kind stems from noises originating in a normal heart. A swish represents eddy currents that develop as the blood rushes into the large aorta. In other instances, they are created from sounds made as the heart rubs against the lungs. These murmurs are harmless and never lead to disability or shortening of life. If the murmur mentioned by our reader is functional he can climb mountains, run miles, or swim Lake Michigan without fear of hurting his heart.

Organic murmurs stem from defects in the valve (leakage) or from congenital defects, enlargement, or arteriosclerosis. This is a louder murmur than the functional and usually is associated with changes in the size or shape of the heart.

The victim may have a history of rheumatic fever or the physician may find evidence of high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries. At any rate, the murmur is abnormal and the person must learn to live with it.

On the other hand, this type of murmur may exist for decades without causing symptoms or disability. But the heart should be spared unnecessary exertion and strenuous activity. There is no objection to golf or most noncompetitive sports such as swimming, bowling, or bicycling, provided they do not lead to shortness of breath, chest pain, or rapid heartbeat.

Upward And Onward Faster And Faster

It's risky business to comment on new speed records these days because they have become highly perishable. But the 19-mile climb in six minutes by a U. S. Navy Phantom II supersonic jet plane should stand as a record long enough to mention that it's pretty fast climbing.

It wasn't too long ago that wise men discounted the practicality of the automobile on the ground that the human body couldn't stand such speeds as 20 miles an hour and more. There are probably other wise men who will discount the practicality of a jet plane that can dart to a height of 19 miles in six minutes, and some day those doubts may seem comical, too.

Military men, of course, know the value of getting a warplane into the sky as quickly as possible and every accomplishment in this area sooner or later affects commercial flying. One of the problems of commercial jet plane operation is to get high fast, both to ease noise discomfort around airports and to reach the altitude at which their engines perform most efficiently.

The feat of the Navy Phantom II and other feats bound to follow are not stunts, any more than the early airplane races and Lindbergh's lonely transatlantic flight were stunts. Thus in this new jet-climbing record seized by the Navy (more than halving the record set by the Air Force) there is more than pride of being first.

There is the satisfaction of watching man's eternal discontent with inventions and methods he knows he can improve.

These Days

The Expansion Of Power

In retrospect, the only real significance of the case of Kennedy v Steel is that by a single act the President has expanded the power of his office without legislation. This was attempted by Franklin D. Roosevelt throughout his regime, but no matter where else Roosevelt succeeded, he never actually gained complete control of the economy. The National Recovery Act was an attempt in that direction but the NRA was declared unconstitutional in the Sick Chicken Case. It was beyond question a fascistic measure and it is interesting to note that its true nature was not generally recognized until it reached the Supreme Court.

President Kennedy has been able to gain control of the economy because the government is the principal customer of manufactured goods. Roosevelt sought to establish a similar control by creating "yardstick" businesses; that is, companies engaged in manufacturing heavy goods in competition with existing companies. At first it was contemplated that the government would own such companies, but wiser counsel prevailed and loans were made through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other agencies to accomplish the same end. The various Kaiser enterprises started that way.

President Kennedy has developed a different concept. The government will neither own nor operate these enterprises, but it will control prices. The United States Steel Corporation precipitated this by its inept and inopportune announcement that it would raise prices. Good public relations indicated that such an announcement would only have been sound after the new wage agreement had been in operation some time and the evidence was clear that the price was insufficient to maintain efficient plant and equipment.

The President was able to ignore this question because the industry failed to make it clear to the people. Businessmen usually do not grasp the essence of public relations and therefore failed to prove their point or to have any sense of timing.

The President was able to mobilize his entire Cabinet, particularly the Departments of Justice and Defense to fight this battle which soon enough involved the questions of inflation, of trusts, of cartels to control prices, of defense contracts. It was on the rock of defense contracts that the steel industry split, for if some companies did not receive defense contracts, their production would be trivial. After all, the steel industry was hardest hit during the Depression and was rescued by government contracts and by war.

A government contract is rarely beneficial for any business, what with shifting specifications, whimsical controls, and renegotiations long after the goods have been delivered. Nevertheless when it is the best business available, it becomes prime. Today, the American steel industry exports about as much steel as is imported. The peril is that we shall import so much steel as to endanger our home industry. This the Department of Defense can hold over the head of the industry. Therefore, companies largely or wholly dependent on government must function on the principle that the customer is always right.

The President has won a victory in the expansion of Presidential powers and has established the fact that his hold on his Cabinet and on Congress is complete, but he has frightened privately-owned enterprise and the private investor beyond anything that had heretofore been experienced. This is a by-product of the President's press conference and his implied attack on profits which did not go over well.

The President does not have Roosevelt's gift of sarcasm. When Roosevelt employed this rhetorical device, it was like a piercing rapier. President Kennedy can display anger but not nastiness. Therefore, his reference to profits only frightened. This is unfortunate at a time when the country requires unity of purpose in the face of our enemy.

It will take a great effort on the part of the President to re-establish a sense of confidence in the business world, particularly as his enemies now have a slogan to use against him, namely, that he is opposed to the profit system. The alternative to the profit system is Socialism. President Kennedy, having definitely indicated what he can do if necessary, is too smart to upset the economic apple-cart and will undoubtedly take reparative measures. His greatest task now is to control those who will take advantage of this fracas to so alter our economic system as to make it unworkable. That may be a more difficult task than defeating the steel industry.

Where Are The Conservatives In Congress?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Maybe the conservatives in Congress in both political parties will wake up in due time and put up a fight against the dictatorship complex that seems to have seized the Kennedy Administration. For the way the steel dispute was almost entirely neglected last week by those who customarily criticize the arbitrary use of power by government is disquieting to the many people who still believe in a government of laws and a written constitution.

Congress has a duty to expose usurpation of power when it develops anywhere in this country. It has a right to investigate the facts. Will it now summon all the Cabinet secretaries and their assistants to find out just what did happen in the 72 hours between the time the U. S. Steel Corporation announced a price increase and the time the same company capitulated, as its competitors were subjected to pressure and intimidation unparalleled in American history? If the executive branch of the government should order its officials to take the "Fifth Amendment" and to refuse to give the information on the ground that it is "privileged," this in itself would be significant. Meanwhile, this will not stop the press from finding out the facts and telling them to the American people.

The whole situation is best described in a "Wall Street Journal" editorial on Monday of this week, which said in part:

"In a long life not without its share of amazements, we never saw anything like it.

"On Tuesday one of the country's steel companies announced it was going to try to get more money for its product. And promptly all hell busted loose....

"The President of the United States went into what can only be described as a tirade. Not only had the company changed its price list without consulting him but it had also set a price which, in his opinion, was 'wholly unjustified.' With a long preamble in which he rang in the Berlin Crisis, the soldiers killed the other day in Vietnam, the wives and mothers separated from their husbands by the reserve call-up — all of which he cast at the feet of these 'irresponsible' steel officials — he wound up by crying that these men had shown their 'utter contempt' for the welfare of the country.

"The response in Washington was instantaneous. The Justice Department, the Federal Trade Commission, the Congressional inquisitors all leaped to arms.

"Then came the night riders. At three a. m. Thursday a reporter for the Associated Press was awakened by government agents unable to wait even for regular office hours in their driven haste to find out what testimony he could give about the criminal conduct of these steel officials. At five a. m. it was the turn of our own reporter in Philadelphia. At six-thirty a. m. the scene was repeated in Wilmington, Delaware, for a reporter on the Evening Journal. All this without any warrants, only orders from the Attorney General of the United States.

"By mid-Thursday morning the U. S. Steel Corporation had been subpoenaed for all documents bearing on the crime and had learned that a federal grand jury would move swiftly to see what laws had been violated by asking three tenths of a cent a pound more for a piece of steel. . .

"In such a climate it was not at all surprising what the mailed fist could do. All day Friday steel company offices were awash with government agents,, while the threats of punishment were mingled with promises of reward for doing the rulers' bidding. It is a technique of government not unknown elsewhere in the world, and it is a combination almost irresistible. So by Friday night Mr. Kennedy had his victory."

There were some caustic comments from other cities across the nation. The Tampa, Florida, "Times" in an editorial said that President Kennedy "has taken unto himself a veto power fully as weighty as that exercised by the Soviet Union in the United Nations." The editorial aded:

"The efforts last night of some radio commentators to impart a sense of delicacy to the President's crackdown on big steel was almost laughable. He wade in with both fists flying and never mind the low blows. . . .

"Big steel may yet salvage something out of this and may, at a later date, justify and secure the price increase it claims essential. But it will do so only with the concurrence of the man in the White House. Like the song goes: Big John! Big John! Big John!"

Here in Washington, the "Evening Star" in an editorial decried the routing out of reporters at three o'clock in the morning and the activities of government agencies, including the orders given by the President's brother to a federal grand jury. The editorial added:

"This power should be exercised only to investigate a suspected criminal offense and to prosecute the offender if evidence of crime is developed. It should never be used as an instrument of retaliation by an outraged President or an angered Attorney General."

Where, however, are the conservatives of both the Democratic and Republican parties, the men who have hitherto championed the Constitution and fought against autocracy in any form? They surely cannot succumb to the doctrine that, because price rises are unpopular, the "end justifies the means." For what's "popular" today will not always be popular tomorrow as the people ultimately get all the facts. If price and wage controls are necessary, Congress alone has the power to impose them by law. It certainly isn't the function of a President to make the laws without Congress — at least not yet.

TAXING OF INTEREST—Reading of the progress of a tax bill as it makes its way through Congress can be pretty tiring, particularly when it deals mostly with complex matters pertaining to corporate finance.

However, this year's effort, already approved by the House, is of more than passing interest for the many millions of American taxpayers who maintain accounts in banks or savings and loan associations. For, if the bill is finally approved, and its chances are better than good, the federal government will begin withholding taxes on interest payments made to depositors.

For many years, the Internal Revenue Service has ruled that interest payments to depositors must be considered as income and become subject to federal income taxes, but as a matter of general practice, most taxpayers have been ignoring or "forgetting" to pay this portion of their federal tax liability. Once withholding is instituted, however, the tax will be paid in advance and individuals will have to make claims for any refunds they may be able to justify.

Legislators are at a loss to explain the lack of public indignation over this closing of a tax "loophole" except for the belief that most depositors have no inkling of what is about to happen to them.

Lacking a major upswelling of adverse public sentiment, the bill glided through the House with a comfortable majority with most of the legislators being influenced in their voting by the desires of some businessmen.

The bill contains a proposal to lower corporate tax payments for companies that invest in new equipment to make their manufacturing operations more efficient. While divided on this issue, some industries, notably in the South, were in favor of the procedure, and this was the big factor in lining up Southern Democratic House votes in favor of passage.

Near Collision Over Washington Illustrates Air Traffic Problems

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—For 41 tense minutes during the morning of March 21, two great airliners played tag with death in the murky clouds over the Washington suburbs.

On the ground, the control tower operator finally broke down under the pressure of coordinating a sky full of planes, circling in dizzy, whirling, geometric patterns. A substitute had to take over.

The untold drama illustrated the increasingly hazardous problem of air traffic which has become just as serious in the air over big cities as automobile traffic is on the ground—at times more so.

The two airliners that came so close to tragedy were an Eastern Electra (Flight 404) and a United Viscount (Flight 322). Both were ordered to the same altitude and holding pattern.

It was a miracle that they didn't collide.

The man who issued the near-fatal order was Bernard Isralow, a conscientious, competent coordinator, who had never committed an error in his nine years in the hectic control tower at Washington National Airport.

But the traffic on March 21 became more than he could handle. During one 60-second period, he barked directions to eight separate planes. This is probably too much for any man's nerves.

Here are the events that led up to what might have been a major air disaster:

Isralow ordered an approaching Beechcraft to circle over Springfield, Va., a Washington suburb, at 6,000 feet. Suddenly the Eastern Electra, approaching from Louisville at about 10:33 a. m., mistakenly radioed that it was also over Springfield at 6,000 feet.

Isralow urgently ordered the Eastern pilot to pull up to 7,000 feet but failed to note the new altitude on his records.

Meanwhile, the pilot corrected his navigation and radioed the control tower to disregard the Springfield position. But he continued his climb to 7,000 feet.

A few minutes later, Isralow noted that the Beechcraft was still circling at 6,000 feet and directed the United Viscount arriving from Knoxville at 10:45 to move into the Springfield pattern at 7,000 feet.

He started bringing the Beechcraft in for a landing as the Electra approached Springfield. But this time it was no mistake.

Control Tower Cracks

By now, Isralow's problems were piling up. He was frantically trying to track, separate, and direct planes coming in from all directions. The pilot of the Beechcraft chose this moment to start needling the control tower with sarcastic comments.

Hastily, Isralow checked the records which still showed the Electra at 6,000 feet and directed it to circle Springfield. Actually, of course, the Eastern Electra had moved to 7,000 feet which put it on a collision course with the United Viscount.

In the control tower, the tense Isralow began to come apart. He brought two planes down for abortive landings and had to send them back into the cluttered sky.

Seeing that Isralow was losing control over the traffic, the watch supervisor ordered James Krantz to take over. Of course, Krantz relied upon the control tower records, which incorrectly showed the Eastern Electra at 6,000 feet.

Finally, Krantz ordered the Electra to descend to 5,000 feet. The pilot reported leaving 7,000 feet. The startled Krantz promptly asked the Viscount for its altitude, which was also 7,000 feet.

When the watch supervisor was notified, he immediately relieved both Isralow and Krantz of all control duties until the records could be played back to determine who was at fault.

Krantz has now been returned to duty, but Isralow remains on suspension. He has a good record and it has been recommended that he be reduced in grade and transferred to a less nerve-racking post.

Note—When this column queried the Federal Aviation Administration, its chief, Najeeb Halaby, immediately ordered the same full-scale investigation that would have followed if a collision had actually occurred.

Envoys From Hiroshima

Miyoko Matsubara, aged 29, was with 320 Japanese schoolgirls about a mile from Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945, the day the first atomic bomb in history was exploded. She was one of 55 who survived. The scars of the explosion are on her face and arms.

Very quietly she told Washingtonians last week why she hoped the United States and Russia would not resume nuclear testing.

"The survivors of Hiroshima are all radioactive," she explained. "We have reached the danger point where more radioactivity causes death. Last year when the Russians tested, 50 of us died.

"It is very difficult for us girls to get married anyway," explained Miyoko, who, except for her scarred eye, is not unattractive. "The girls are conscious of their disfigurement, and there is a high incidence of miscarriage among bomb survivors. Also many women who have survived give birth to small-headed babies. Our life is not easy.

"It is not easy for the young men either," she said, motioning toward Hiromasa Hanabusa, 19, who was only 15 months old when the bomb exploded. Both parents were killed, and he is a Moral Adoption Orphan sponsored by Rotary International.

The two Hiroshima survivors are enroute through the United States urging the end of nuclear testing. They had hoped to see President Kennedy—or Mrs. Kennedy—but now will go on to Russia where Mrs. Khrushchev plans to see them.

The Japanese press, extremely sensitive about atomic testings, has played up the fact that they were not received at the White House.

THIRTY - ONE THOUSAND FEET OVER TULSA — This is the final leg of the Around-the-World trip. The Rockies are behind us. The Great Plains are ahead. Four hours and 20 minutes after leaving Los Angeles, this jet — United Airlines Flight 816 — will roll into New York. We left there 29 days and 22 hours ago.

In that time, we have flown 22,775 miles. Ordinarily, statistics have no fascination for me. But there is a point to be proved. The total time in flight was only 39 hours, 51 minutes. Thus, although we have been gone from home only 30 days, it required less than two of them to make the trip.

The rest of the time was spent in Paris, Beirut, Jerusalem, New Delhi, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Honolulu and Los Angeles. Nine stops spread over 27 days gave us an average of three days at each place. And three days is just enough to get around, see the sights, meet the people, do some shopping, and see some of the country.

The weather was fair and the flights smooth all the way. The only rain we saw was one day in Honolulu. The longest time in transit was six hours and 25 minutes — Pan-American Flight two, N. Y. to Paris. The distance was 3,661 miles. The trip from Tokyo to Honolulu was 3,900 miles and was completed in six hours and 20 minutes. Strange? Hardly. We flew east all the way, with the jet stream. Sometimes you find it; sometimes you don't.

The highest we flew was between Teheran and New Delhi — 38,000 feet. The fastest was between New Delhi and Bangkok — 750 miles per hour. There are vast differences between the curiosity — or lack of it — in passengers. I have to know everything that is going on. My friend Jack Sullivan, who is aboard the same plane, said: "Don't tell me what's going on up front. I don't want to hear it."

We made one side trip which was not part of the global voyage. This was from Beirut to Jerusalem — 300 miles each way. It is worth it. More than worth it. The Christian shrines are on the Jordan side of the border rather than the Israel side. The airport is the only one I've seen which is on an incline.

It also has a sheep crossing gate in the middle of the runway. Shepherds taking their flocks from one pasture to another, walk them across the airport. If a Middle East Airways Viscount is coming in, it is told to wait until the sheep have departed.

The town directly below right now is Louisville, Kentucky. In an hour, the trip will be over. Walter Shea will meet us with a car. The trip from Sea Bright to Idlewild requires two hours, so he left home when we were over Oklahoma. Walter and United 816 should arrive at the same time.

I always marvel at the progress of flight, and I am more than casually interested in safety features. When I first flew, in an OX-9 at Newark in 1929, it was easy to get killed. Now, you would have to fly scores of millions of miles before the law of averages would catch you.

The airlines cannot afford negligence anymore. The price is too high. A pure jet costs from $3,500,000 up, and the loss of one, with attendant lawsuits, can bankrupt a good airline. Matters are so strict that I saw Lew Diamond of National hold a DC-8 on the ground because a small part of one generator wasn't functioning. It had nothing to do with sustaining flight.

Kelly is awake now. She comes out of sleep at about the same speed as a butterfly coming out of a coccoon. "Where are we?" she says. I tell her Allentown, Pennsylvania. We're starting to let down. At once, she is off to the rest room armed with lipstick, comb, powder and all the commercial deceptions women use to be what they ain't.

I sit back and watch the white fleece of clouds come up to meet us. There are a lot of thoughts to think. Magellan's ship took three years to make this trip. Nelly Bly did it in 72 days. Dorothy Kilgallen was a child when she wrote herself into overnight fame by flying around the world. Wiley Post, a one-eyed wizard, made it in eight days in the Winnie Mae.

By the time Kelly comes back, the DC-8 is whipping the froth off the clouds and the "Fasten Seat Belts" sign goes on. I want to say something monumental, but there is nothing to say. So I grab her hand, and hold it tight.

Two years ago, she made her first flight and was terrified. She sat rigid and staring. Now she computes flying time with a pencil. "This captain did all right," she says. "He averaged 565 miles per hour, including slow climb and slow descent."

The ship comes in like a ballerina doing Swan Lake on marshmallows. The trip is over. Sullivan taps me. "I can't wait," he says, "until somebody in my joint says 'What's new?'"

McCoole School Stages Easter Play, Program

Create Mural C Life Of Christ

McCOOLE — The intermediate grades of McCoole School presented an Easter assembly program at the school a recent afternoon.

The flag salute was led by Wilson Riggleman, followed by the reading of the Scripture by Darlene Flick and Deborah Hotchkiss.

Following this portion of the program the sixth grade of Mrs. Francis O'Rourke in keeping with the Easter season planned and created a mural depicting the adult life of Christ.

The class drew and colored pictures symbolizing several incidents in the life of Christ, as well as the passion and death of Christ on calvary.

The program closed with the singing of three Easter hymns by the fifth grade of Mrs. Alyce Wills, teacher. Songs included: "Christ Arose," "Above the Hills," and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

Summer Playhouse Seen At Bedford Springs Hotel

BEDFORD — Charles Flynn, executive producer, in conjunction with the Bedford Springs Hotel has announced the formation of The Bedford Springs Playhouse, an equity resident stock company.

The playhouse opens on the grounds of Bedford Springs Hotel on Monday, June 18, and will present 13 weeks of plays, with the accent on comedy. No matinees are scheduled. The plays will run Mondays through Saturdays.

The presentations will be made three-quarters arena style in a large tent, adjacent to the hotel golf course, and specially made by Ted Strickland. Washington.

Flynn has selected Cliff Tobey of New York City to direct the season, which will open with the Broadway hit, "Harvey." Nine actors, all of them professional Equity actors, will comprise the company. There will be at least six apprentices from surrounding colleges. Flynn is also expecting to use local jobbers, such as members of community theatre in Bedford, Johnstown, Cumberland and Altoona.

The cast is set and contracted for in New York City and the season's schedule of plays is as follows:

Harvey, June 18-23; Breath of Spring, June 25-30; The Mousetrap, July 2-7; Lo and Behold, July 9-14; Papa is All, July 16-21; Send Me No Flowers, July 23-28.

The Curious Savage, July 30-August 4; Sabrina Fair, August 6-11; Fools Paradise, August 13-18; to be announced, August 20-25; The Moon is Blue, August 27-September 1; Affairs of State, September 3-8; Springtime for Henry, September 10-15.

Flynn is no newcomer to show business. Before entering the announcing profession, he was a professional singer-actor. He was in the cast of two Michael Todd productions in New York City, "Something For The Boys" and "Mexican Hayride." He also sang leading roles in most of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas for the Savoy Opera Company.

Flynn did extensive USO work and has sung in some of the leading clubs in the United States.

McCoole School Stages Easter Play, Program

Create Mural C Life Of Christ

McCOOLE — The intermediate grades of McCoole School presented an Easter assembly program at the school a recent afternoon.

The flag salute was led by Wilson Riggleman, followed by the reading of the Scripture by Darlene Flick and Deborah Hotchkiss.

Following this portion of the program the sixth grade of Mrs. Francis O'Rourke in keeping with the Easter season planned and created a mural depicting the adult life of Christ.

The class drew and colored pictures symbolizing several incidents in the life of Christ, as well as the passion and death of Christ on calvary.

The program closed with the singing of three Easter hymns by the fifth grade of Mrs. Alyce Wills, teacher. Songs included: "Christ Arose," "Above the Hills," and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

Dans Mountain Area Inspected by Committee

These two photos show a group of officials and interested citizens as they visited the Dans Mountain Recreation Area in the Georges Creek Region, to study, on the ground, plans for state financed improvements to the park. In the upper photo the group is going over drawings and plans inside the park pavilion, while in the lower photo the entire committee is seen assembled outside the pavilion. The group included Joseph Kaylor, director of forests and parks; Ralph Peace district park supervisor; State Senator Charles M. See, Delegates Lester B. Reed, Fred B. Driscoll, Noel Speir Cook, Thomas F. Conlon Jr. and William Walsh; Postmaster Edward McPartland of Lonaconing; Clint Irwin, district forester; and committee members from the Georges Creek Improvement Association, Felix Foote, Ervin Lewis, William Rankin, Rev. Leslee Schwindt, Robert Hadley and George Hughes. Mr. Kaylor assured the group that work on a play area, parking area sanitary facilities and other improvements will be started in June. Gov. J. Millard Tawes has made funds available for this purpose.

Bible Institute Choir To Sing At Midlothian Church On Easter Sunday

FROSTBURG — "The King's Choraliers," a 29-voice a cappella choir fgrom Central Bible Institute, will sing at Trinity Assembly of God Church, Midlothian on Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Following the service of sacred music, there will be student testimonies and gospel messages by student speakers John Yergan, Cumberland and Edmund Tedeschi, student government president, from Tampa, Fla.

Repertoire of the group includes standard choral numbers, Easter anthems, special arrangements and spirituals sung in a traditional style. Rev. John Leverett, head of the school's sacred music department, is conductor.

Central Bible Institute, a four-year college with graduate division, is operated by the Assemblies of God. Its primary purpose is the training of ministers, missionaries, directors of religious education and sacred music, and other Christian workers.

Approximately 4,000 alumni have graduated from Central Bible Institute since it was founded in 1922. Spring enrollment at the school is 470.

At 6:30 a.m., the church will hold its regular Easter Sunrise Service at which time William Smith, Gilmore; William Walker, Gilmore; Ruth James, Midlothian; Lynn Chapman, Shaft; Rebecca Robertson, Mt. Savage; Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Clark, Lonaconing; Gertrude Broadwater, Mt. Savage; Mrs. William W. Gordon, Mt. Savage, William Gordon, Mt. Savage; and James Ritchie, Frostburg will be received into membership. Preceding their reception into the church, the pastor, Rev. James L. Tate, will bring a message on, "The Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the Dead!" The evening service will be at 7:30 p.m.

PSC Freshman Heads Circle K In W. Virginia

Bingman was named to the office last weekend during a gathering of Circle K Clubs on the campus of Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi. Succeeding Rhodes Marston, president of the Potomac State Club, as District Governor next year is John Casto II, a student at Alderson-Broaddus.

Twenty-three Potomac State students, accompanied by their faculty advisor and Kiwanis representative, William E. Michael, attended the two-day meet. All clubs in the district were represented with the exception of Shepherd and Beckley.

LONACONING—The Lonaconing Lions Club met a recent evening in the Pythian Hall. The nominating committee, composed of Simeon Hutcheson, John Eichhorn, Harry S. Bosley, James S. Getty and Raymond Bampton, submitted the following nominees for office:

Wilbur Lancaster, lion tamer; Paul Footen, tail twister; Simeon Hutcheson and Jack Stakem, directors.

The club had as dinner guests the basketball teams, soccer squad, and cheerleaders of Valley High School. Paul D. Beable, principal; John Meyers, coach; Mrs. Pauline Hamilton, girls' coach, and G. Louis Baker, radio sports announcer, also were guests.

It was announced by Robert Robertson, club president, that there would be a zone dinner meeting Tuesday at the Westernport American Legion Hall. The zone is comprised of clubs from Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Oakland, Lonaconing and Westernport.

R. D. Peebles Recommended For Tax Group

LONACONING — The Mayor and Council has recommended that Robert D. Peebles, a former mayor of Lonaconing, be appointed to a tax structure committee which is to be set up by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

The name of the Celanese staffer was submitted to the county after he was recommended for the post at a meeting of Mayor Harold W. Moyer and Council Monday night.

The county commissioners agreed recently to set up a five-man committee to study the tax structure of the county as it affects incorporated towns.

Officials granted requests made by John A. Eichhorn, president of Good Will Volunteer Fire Company, to use town streets for a street carnival July 12-14 for the Lonaconing Civic Improvement Association, and a street carnival to be staged August 3-5 by the fire company.

Lonaconing police were asked to check and prosecute after council was told load limit signs have been forcibly removed from bridges in the community.

Police Commissioner Alex Patton, who also serves as community Civil Defense officer, reported that CD radios have been ordered by the fire company and that within a month the town's fire equipment will be linked to the county Civil Defense radio net.

Officials discussed a proposal affecting the time limit and price of parking meters. The plan was taken under consideration and will be discussed again at the next meeting of the Mayor and Council May 7 at 7:30 p. m.

KHS Groups Plan Dinner - Dance

Dans Mountain Area Inspected by Committee

These two photos show a group of officials and interested citizens as they visited the Dans Mountain Recreation Area in the Georges Creek Region, to study, on the ground, plans for state financed improvements to the park. In the upper photo the group is going over drawings and plans inside the park pavilion, while in the lower photo the entire committee is seen assembled outside the pavilion. The group included Joseph Kaylor, director of forests and parks; Ralph Peace district park supervisor; State Senator Charles M. See, Delegates Lester B. Reed, Fred B. Driscoll, Noel Speir Cook, Thomas F. Conlon Jr. and William Walsh; Postmaster Edward McPartland of Lonaconing; Clint Irwin, district forester; and committee members from the Georges Creek Improvement Association, Felix Foote, Ervin Lewis, William Rankin, Rev. Leslee Schwindt, Robert Hadley and George Hughes. Mr. Kaylor assured the group that work on a play area, parking area sanitary facilities and other improvements will be started in June. Gov. J. Millard Tawes has made funds available for this purpose.

Bible Institute Choir To Sing At Midlothian Church On Easter Sunday

FROSTBURG — "The King's Choraliers," a 29-voice a cappella choir fgrom Central Bible Institute, will sing at Trinity Assembly of God Church, Midlothian on Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Following the service of sacred music, there will be student testimonies and gospel messages by student speakers John Yergan, Cumberland and Edmund Tedeschi, student government president, from Tampa, Fla.

Repertoire of the group includes standard choral numbers, Easter anthems, special arrangements and spirituals sung in a traditional style. Rev. John Leverett, head of the school's sacred music department, is conductor.

Central Bible Institute, a four-year college with graduate division, is operated by the Assemblies of God. Its primary purpose is the training of ministers, missionaries, directors of religious education and sacred music, and other Christian workers.

Approximately 4,000 alumni have graduated from Central Bible Institute since it was founded in 1922. Spring enrollment at the school is 470.

At 6:30 a.m., the church will hold its regular Easter Sunrise Service at which time William Smith, Gilmore; William Walker, Gilmore; Ruth James, Midlothian; Lynn Chapman, Shaft; Rebecca Robertson, Mt. Savage; Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Clark, Lonaconing; Gertrude Broadwater, Mt. Savage; Mrs. William W. Gordon, Mt. Savage, William Gordon, Mt. Savage; and James Ritchie, Frostburg will be received into membership. Preceding their reception into the church, the pastor, Rev. James L. Tate, will bring a message on, "The Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the Dead!" The evening service will be at 7:30 p.m.

PSC Freshman Heads Circle K In W. Virginia

Bingman was named to the office last weekend during a gathering of Circle K Clubs on the campus of Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi. Succeeding Rhodes Marston, president of the Potomac State Club, as District Governor next year is John Casto II, a student at Alderson-Broaddus.

Twenty-three Potomac State students, accompanied by their faculty advisor and Kiwanis representative, William E. Michael, attended the two-day meet. All clubs in the district were represented with the exception of Shepherd and Beckley.

PSC Awards Eight Students Scholarships

Keyser High Receives Four

KEYSER — Eight Mineral County students, including four from Keyser High School, have been named recipients of two-year scholarships to Potomac State College.

The announcement was made today by Norman E. Rodgers, chairman of the scholarship committee, who was assisted in making the selections by Dr. Nancy M. Miller and Miss Margaret Rafter.

He explained that many students now attending the college on scholarships provided by the Board of Governors of West Virginia University will undoubtedly continue for another year, but that several other scholarships will be awarded in the near future.

Miss Anna Kathryn Snider, daughter of Mrs. Marea Snider and Dr. Bruce Snider, North Main Street, has been awarded the Faculty Scholarship, and Harold Lynn Grayson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Grayson, 146 West Piedmont Street, has been granted the Stanley Scholarship, given by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll T. Stanley of Keyser.

Six scholarships, provided by the Benedum Foundation, go to:

Miss Mary Augusta Handlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Handlan, 200 A Street, and Miss Paula Sue McDowell, daughter of Mrs. Maxwell Whipp, Burlington, both students at Keyser High.

Miss Barbara Lou Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Malone, of RD 1, a student at Fort Ashby High School; Miss Elinor Jane Drane, Piedmont High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Drane, 105 East Hampshire Street, Piedmont.

Paul E. Gates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Gates, 29 Pearl Street, Piedmont, Piedmont High, and Robert Dennie Alderton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall D. Alderton, RD 1, Elk Garden, a student at Elk Garden High School.

New Scout Troop Instituted At Shaft

Timber Work, Stave Mill Under Way

MOOREFIELD, W.Va.—Branch Mountain Timber Farms, Inc., leased offices in the American Legion home from John M. Golliday Post. Both the front office spaces will be used by the timber firm.

W. O. McKinney & Son has leased land from Donald J. Baker near Ft. Run and has established a stave mill which will process staves from timber being cut from the Branch Mountain operation. Mr. McKinney said that about 15 acres would be necessary to store and air dry the staves before marketing. The staves will be air dried for approximately a year before being marketed to an affiliate of Seagrams distilleries.

Dr. Wylie Russell, J. A. Whitehead and Frederick A. Humm, officials of the timber company, have been in Moorefield during the past week interviewing applicants for jobs with the firm. Additional employes will be added as the firm enlarges its operations.

Whitehead said that local farmers would have a market for white oak logs for processing into staves. Both Dr. Russell and Whitehead are negotiating for an operator for a flooring and finishing mill, plans are going ahead to establish a series of charcoal kilns to process the waste hardwoods for the Kingsford processors and plans are continuing for a furniture factory to be established in the Moorefield area.

The officials of the firm are seeking to lease houses for living quarters and will eventually establish homes here.

Tri-Towns Soroptimists Re-Elect Miss Kitzmiller

PIEDMONT — Miss Maizie Kitzmiller, was reelected president of the Tri-Towns Soroptimist Club for the second term at a dinner meeting at St. Ann Hotel, recently.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Roberta Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Lois Bell, treasurer; Mrs. Thelma Wilson, recording secretary and Mrs. Velma Wilson, corresponding secretary.

Miss Ann Kelley was elected a member of the board of directors for three years; Mrs. Margaret Maylury was named to fill out the two-year unexpired term of Mrs. Johnson.

Miss Hazel Inskeep, was selected a regional representative.

The report of the nominating committee was made by Mrs. Stella Carey, chairman. Miss Pauline Whiteman and Miss Kelley are the other two members of the committee.

Newly elected officers will be installed at a joint installation with the Keyser Club at the Shrine Club near Burlington, June 9.

Donations authorized by the club included $100 to Soroptimist Foundations in memory of Miss Leonora Burns, the local club's first president. Donations for the UNESCA project, to Heart, Cancer and the League for Crippled Children were also approved.

The next meeting of the club will be May 15 at 6 p.m. at St. Ann Hotel.

PSC To Send Four To Conference On Physical Fitness

KEYSER — Invited to participate in Gov. W. W. Barron's statewide Conference on Youth Fitness in Charleston next Wednesday are four staff members from Potomac State College, Coach Dana G. Lough, Assistant Coach John D. Fox, Miss Margaret E. Rafter, of the physical education staff, and Prof. William E. Michael.

In his letter, Gov. Barron pointed out, "much interest has developed recently in the fitness of American youth. There is increasing evidence that a problem exists concerning the fitness (physical, social, emotional, spiritual) of our young people."

PSC Awards Eight Students Scholarships

Keyser High Receives Four

KEYSER — Eight Mineral County students, including four from Keyser High School, have been named recipients of two-year scholarships to Potomac State College.

The announcement was made today by Norman E. Rodgers, chairman of the scholarship committee, who was assisted in making the selections by Dr. Nancy M. Miller and Miss Margaret Rafter.

He explained that many students now attending the college on scholarships provided by the Board of Governors of West Virginia University will undoubtedly continue for another year, but that several other scholarships will be awarded in the near future.

Miss Anna Kathryn Snider, daughter of Mrs. Marea Snider and Dr. Bruce Snider, North Main Street, has been awarded the Faculty Scholarship, and Harold Lynn Grayson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Grayson, 146 West Piedmont Street, has been granted the Stanley Scholarship, given by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll T. Stanley of Keyser.

Six scholarships, provided by the Benedum Foundation, go to:

Miss Mary Augusta Handlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Handlan, 200 A Street, and Miss Paula Sue McDowell, daughter of Mrs. Maxwell Whipp, Burlington, both students at Keyser High.

Miss Barbara Lou Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Malone, of RD 1, a student at Fort Ashby High School; Miss Elinor Jane Drane, Piedmont High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Drane, 105 East Hampshire Street, Piedmont.

Paul E. Gates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Gates, 29 Pearl Street, Piedmont, Piedmont High, and Robert Dennie Alderton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall D. Alderton, RD 1, Elk Garden, a student at Elk Garden High School.

New Scout Troop Instituted At Shaft

Timber Work, Stave Mill Under Way

MOOREFIELD, W.Va.—Branch Mountain Timber Farms, Inc., leased offices in the American Legion home from John M. Golliday Post. Both the front office spaces will be used by the timber firm.

W. O. McKinney & Son has leased land from Donald J. Baker near Ft. Run and has established a stave mill which will process staves from timber being cut from the Branch Mountain operation. Mr. McKinney said that about 15 acres would be necessary to store and air dry the staves before marketing. The staves will be air dried for approximately a year before being marketed to an affiliate of Seagrams distilleries.

Dr. Wylie Russell, J. A. Whitehead and Frederick A. Humm, officials of the timber company, have been in Moorefield during the past week interviewing applicants for jobs with the firm. Additional employes will be added as the firm enlarges its operations.

Whitehead said that local farmers would have a market for white oak logs for processing into staves. Both Dr. Russell and Whithead are negotiating for an operator for a flooring and finishing mill, plans are going ahead to establish a series of charcoal kilns to process the waste hardwoods for the Kingsford processors and plans are continuing for a furniture factory to be established in the Moorefield area.

The officials of the firm are seeking to lease houses for living quarters and will eventually establish homes here.

New Teen Club Is Operating In Moorefield

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Calvin 'Sparky' Rohrbaugh has opened his new Teen Canteen Club in the old Post Office building. The Teen Canteen Club is open to the public each day from 6 a.m. until 3 p.m. after which the club is open to members only. Short orders, plate lunches, soft drinks and snacks are served.

Mr. Rohrbaugh has redecorated the room, installed additional toilet facilities, removed all the partitians and laid a new floor, in cooperation with the owner of the building Boyd McWhorter.

The first dance was held Thursday night in the club quarters. A juke box and pin ball machine are available for use. On each Thursday night the parents of the club members and brothers and sisters of members are invited to attend. The Teen Club is open to the members from 3 p.m. until midnight.

Tri-Towns Soroptimists Re-Elect Miss Kitzmiller

PIEDMONT — Miss Maizie Kitzmiller, was reelected president of the Tri-Towns Soroptimist Club for the second term at a dinner meeting at St. Ann Hotel, recently.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Roberta Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Lois Bell, treasurer, Mrs. Thelma Wilson, recording secretary and Mrs. Velma Wilson, corresponding secretary.

Miss Ann Kelley was elected a member of the board of directors for three years; Mrs. Margaret Maylury was named to fill out the two-year unexpired term of Mrs. Johnson.

Miss Hazel Inskeep, was selected a regional representative.

The report of the nominating committee was made by Mrs. Stella Carey, chairman. Miss Pauline Whiteman and Miss Kelley are the other two members of the committee.

Newly elected officers will be installed at a joint installation with the Keyser Club at the Shrine Club near Burlington, June 9.

Donations authorized by the club included $100 to Soroptimist Foundations in memory of Miss Leonora Burns, the local club's first president. Donations for the UNESCA project, to Heart, Cancer and the League for Crippled Children were also approved.

The next meeting of the club will be May 15 at 6 p.m. at St. Ann Hotel.

PSC To Send Four To Conference On Physical Fitness

KEYSER — Invited to participate in Gov. W. W. Barron's statewide Conference on Youth Fitness in Charleston next Wednesday are four staff members from Potomac State College, Coach Dana G. Lough, Assistant Coach John D. Fox, Miss Margaret E. Rafter, of the physical education staff, and Prof. William E. Michael.

In his letter, Gov. Barron pointed out, "much interest has developed recently in the fitness of American youth. There is increasing evidence that a problem exists concerning the fitness (physical, social, emotional, spiritual) of our young people."

Fort Hill Beats Allegany In City Championship Meet, 82-55

Sentinels Sweep All Relays, Grab 12 Of 17 First Places

Win Six Field Tests, Rich Robinson, Davis, Norris Post Doubles

Copping 12 out of a possible 17 first places, including sweeps in four relays and all six field events, Fort Hill High School's trackmen launched their 1962 campaign with a 82-55 triumph over the thinclads of Allegany High School in the city championship meet staged yesterday at Fort Hill Stadium.

Richard Robinson, of Fort Hill, won the 100 yard dash and the hop, step and jump, a new event on this year's program. Robinson ran the 100 in 10.3 seconds and copped the hop, step and jump with a performance of 39 feet, 4¾ inches, a new record. He also was on two winning relay teams.

Allegany athletes scoring "doubles" were Jeff Norris and Kenny Davis. Norris took the half mile and mile runs in 2:17.2 and 4:55.5, respectively. Davis won both hurdles tests, the high in 15.5 seconds and the low in 22.3 seconds.

Fort Hill won the 440, 880, mile and two mile relays, Robinson, Jack Williams, Jack Wallace, Ronnie White, Jerry Shook and Howser accounted for six firsts in the hop, step and jump, broad jump, pole vault, high jump, shot put and discus throw, respectively.

BELMONT WINNERS

NEW YORK (UPI) —Eddie Arcaro and James McLaughlin share the jockey record for the Belmont Stakes with six winners each. Arcaro is undisputed champ of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness.

West Virginia Nine Routs Bridgewater

The Mountaineers were given a fast start by rightfielder Bill Smith who poked a homer in the top of the first to give WVU a 1-0 lead.

Cardinals Reschedule Two Postponed Tilts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals announced Thursday that the postponed game of April 10 with the New York Mets in St. Louis has been rescheduled as part of a July 29 doubleheader.

A washed out game of April 15 at Chicago will be played as part of a twinbill on June 27, the Cardinals said.

Local Moose Tops Keyser Shufflers

Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose defeated the Keyser Moose by 51 points in a six-game shuffleboard match, 186 to 113. The locals rallied in the final three games last night at Cumberland to beat Keyser 113-50 after losing last week by 12 pins, 85-73, in the West Virginia city.

Ed Roberts topped the Cumberland Moose scorers with 21 points last night. John Staggers had 18 for Keyser.

Capon Bridge Bows, 8-4, In 12-Inning Tilt

John Mosby High of Front Royal, Va., pushed over four runs in the 12tth inning yesterday to hand Capon Bridge High's tossers their fourth straight setback this season, 8-4.

Singles by O'Bannon, Junior Allison, John Allison, Settle and Fry accounted for the four runs to break up a tight pitching duel between Capon Bridge's Calvin Slonaker and Mathews of John Mosby. Both hurlers wen the route in the overtime tilt.

Capon Bridge, trailing 4-1, rallied for three runs in the fifth to tie the score. Larry Whitacre singled, Jim Northcraft was hit by a pitch and Phil Spaid doubled two runs home. Larry Heishman's bingle scored Spaid with the third run of the inning.

Phil Spaid had three hits for Capon Bridge while Junior Allison and Fry each had three for John Mosby. The lineups:

Stone Blanks Chicago, 6-0

Lefty Hurls 2nd Shutout For Colts

CHICAGO (AP) — Lefty Dean Stone, reclaimed by the Houston Colts after a 4-season minor league sojourn, hurled his second successive shutout victory over the Chicago Cubs 6-0 Thursday.

It was a fitting 47th birthday present for Colts Manager Harry Craft, who unfortunately wasn't around at the finish. Stone scattered five hits, almost matching his three-hit, 2-0 blanking of the Cubs a week ago in Houston.

Craft and outfielder Roman Mejias were tossed out of the game by umpire Ken Burkhart in a fourth inning dispute. Mejias doubled, but was called out after over-running second and the dispute flared.

But Mejias' replacement, Johnny Weekly made his first major league hit, a seventh-inning homer for the second Houston run.

Fort Hill Beats Allegany In City Championship Meet, 82-55

Sentinels Sweep All Relays, Grab 12 Of 17 First Places

Win Six Field Tests, Rich Robinson, Davis, Norris Post Doubles

Copping 12 out of a possible 17 first places, including sweeps in four relays and all six field events, Fort Hill High School's trackmen launched their 1962 campaign with a 82-55 triumph over the thinclads of Allegany High School in the city championship meet staged yesterday at Fort Hill Stadium.

Richard Robinson, of Fort Hill, won the 100 yard dash and the hop, step and jump, a new event on this year's program. Robinson ran the 100 in 10.3 seconds and conped the hop, step and jump with a performance of 39 feet, 4¾ inches, a new record. He also was on two winning relay teams.

Allegany athletes scoring "doubles" were Jeff Norris and Kenny Davis. Norris took the half mile and mile runs in 2:17.2 and 4:55.5, respectively. Davis won both hurdles tests, the high in 15.5 seconds and the low in 22.3 seconds.

Fort Hill won the 440, 880, mile and two mile relays, Robinson, Jack Williams, Jack Wallace, Ronnie White, Jerry Shook and Howser accounted for six firsts in the hop, step and jump, broad jump, pole vault, high jump, shot put and discus throw, respectively.

West Virginia Nine Routs Bridgewater

The Mountaineers were given a fast start by rightfielder Bill Smith who poked a homer in the top of the first to give WVU a 1-0 lead.

Cardinals Reschedule Two Postponed Tilts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals announced Thursday that the postponed game of April 10 with the New York Mets in St. Louis has been rescheduled as part of a July 29 doubleheader.

A washed out game of April 15 at Chicago will be played as part of a twinbill on June 27, the Cardinals said.

Local Moose Tops Keyser Shufflers

Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose defeated the Keyser Moose by 51 points in a six-game shuffleboard match, 186 to 113. The locals rallied in the final three games last night at Cumberland to beat Keyser 113-50 after losing last week by 12 pins, 85-73, in the West Virginia city.

Ed Roberts topped the Cumberland Moose scorers with 21 points last night. John Staggers had 18 for Keyser.

Capon Bridge Bows, 8-4, In 12-Inning Tilt

John Mosby High of Front Royal, Va., pushed over four runs in the 12tth inning yesterday to hand Capon Bridge High's tossers their fourth straight setback this season, 8-4.

Singles by O'Bannon, Junior Allison, John Allison, Settle and Fry accounted for the four runs to break up a tight pitching duel between Capon Bridge's Calvin Slonaker and Mathews of John Mosby. Both hurlers wen the route in the overtime tilt.

Capon Bridge, trailing 4-1, rallied for three runs in the fifth to tie the score. Larry Whitacre singled, Jim Northcraft was hit by a pitch and Phil Spaid doubled two runs home. Larry Heishman's bingle scored Spaid with the third run of the inning.

Phil Spaid had three hits for Capon Bridge while Junior Allison and Fry each had three for John Mosby. The lineups:

Stone Blanks Chicago, 6-0

Lefty Hurls 2nd Shutout For Colts

CHICAGO (AP) — Lefty Dean Stone, reclaimed by the Houston Colts after a 4-season minor league sojourn, hurled his second successive shutout victory over the Chicago Cubs 6-0 Thursday.

It was a fitting 47th birthday present for Colts Manager Harry Craft, who unfortunately wasn't around at the finish. Stone scattered five hits, almost matching his three-hit, 2-0 blanking of the Cubs a week ago in Houston.

Craft and outfielder Roman Mejias were tossed out of the game by umpire Ken Burkhart in a fourth inning dispute. Mejias doubled, but was called out after over-running second and the dispute flared.

But Mejias' replacement, Johnny Weekly made his first major league hit, a seventh-inning homer for the second Houston run.

Frostburg State Defeats Montgomery Nine, 11-6

Concludes Road Trip With Fourth Win Of Campaign

The win was the fourth in six games for the Bobcats and marked their third win in four tilts on an eastern swing this week.

Frostburg, trailing 4-0, pushed over four runs in the fifth inning to tie the score then broke the deadlock with two more in the sixth, two in the seventh and three in the ninth.

The Bobcats scored twice in the sixth inning to go ahead for keeps when, with two out, Ronnie Mann walked and took second on a passed ball. Ronnie Broadwater's single scored Mann and Hank Winner then plated Broadwater with another one-base blow.

Montgomery rallied in the eighth to send Wood to the showers, scoring two runs before Evans put out the fire. Evans took over with one run home and Montgomery runners on first and third with one out. He struck out the first man, then balked a run in. After loading the bases with a pair of walks, the hard-throwing righthander got Donnelly to ground out to end the inning. Evans fanned the side in the ninth to preserve the win for Wood.

Ziegler's home run in the fourth for the losers was the game's only extra base hit. The lineups:

Mathias Cops Lead In PVC

Romney Triumphs Over Moorefield

Mathias High School's defending champions took over the leadership of the Potomac Valley Conference with a 4-1 record by defeating the Franklin High School Panthers yesterday at Franklin by the score of 8-5, in nine innings.

Coach Hoy Dave's tossers won it the hard way, trailing 3-0 for six innings, knotting the count in the seventh and putting the game on ice with a 5-run explosion in the ninth frame.

Albert Makowski, who has pitched all of the games played by Mathias, yielded eleven hits, failed to issue a pass and fanned 10 to register his fourth win against a single loss.

Richard Delawder's double with the bases loaded sent over three runs and tied the score in the 7th. Rodney Sherman led off the 9th with a triple and five successive singles by Steve Taylor, Ed Mongold, Gary Strawderman, Gary Wilkins and Makowski featured the five-run rally.

Circleville High's Indians defeated Petersburg, 6-4, and Romney's Pioneers downed Moorefield, 4-3 in other games played yesterday.

Moorefield Drops Out Of Pen-Mar Loop

Moorefield's All-Stars will not twinkle in the Pen-Mar Baseball League this season, according to Howard L. Northcraft, secretary of the circuit.

Northcraft was advised yesterday that the Moorefield team is withdrawing from the league because of "lack of interest." Several practice sessions have been called by the team but only a few players reported, Northcraft was told.

Dodgers Win, 4-3

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Ron Perranoski rescued Sandy Koufax in the eighth inning Thursday night by striking out Gordon Coleman with two men on base to preserve the Los Angeles Dodgers' 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Ralph Terry Limits Birds To Six Blows

Mantle Hits Homer, John Blanchard's Double Breaks Tie

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Mickey Mantle's home run and triple, Johnny Blanchard's tie-breaking double and Ralph Terry's six-hit pitching gave the New York Yankees a 3-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Thursday night.

Terry, gaining his third win without defeat, was the first Yankee pitcher to go the distance this season as he struck out 10.

Blanchard broke a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning when he doubled inside first base to score Tom Tresh, who had doubled to open the inning. The Yankees scored their third run in the ninth when Mantle tripled and scored on Elston Howard's infield out.

Baltimore tied the score when Jackie Brandt led off the second inning with a single, stole second and scored on Jerry Adair's two-out double over Mantle's head.

Mantle drew seven walks in 13 trips to the plate during the three-game Oriole series and now has 12 walks in 26 appearances this season. He has only 14 official at-bats in six games.

Bedford Beats Hyndman, 12-2

Hornets Suffer 4th Defeat In League

Hyndman High School's Hornets went down to defeat for the fourth straight time in a Bedford County League game yesterday when the Bedford High School Bisons won at Hyndman by the score of 12-2.

Bedford collected 15 hits off Howard Clites, who fired the third strike past 12 batsmen. Five of the Bison' hits were two-baggers.

Faust started on the rubber for Bedford and got by the first inning but in the second after he walked four successive batsmen he was derricked in favor of Ely, who yielded three hits over the remaining six innings, whiffed ten and received credit for the victory.

Hyndman's three hits were singles by Don Logue, John Hoffman and Kinton.

Frostburg State Defeats Montgomery Nine, 11-6

Concludes Road Trip With Fourth Win Of Campaign

The win was the fourth in six games for the Bobcats and marked their third win in four tilts on an eastern swing this week.

Frostburg, trailing 4-0, pushed over four runs in the fifth inning to tie the score then broke the deadlock with two more in the sixth, two in the seventh and three in the ninth.

The Bobcats scored twice in the sixth inning to go ahead for keeps when, with two out, Ronnie Mann walked and took second on a passed ball. Ronnie Broadwater's single scored Mann and Hank Winner then plated Broadwater with another one-base blow.

Montgomery rallied in the eighth to send Wood to the showers, scoring two runs before Evans put out the fire. Evans took over with one run home and Montgomery runners on first and third with one out. He struck out the first man, then balked a run in. After loading the bases with a pair of walks, the hard-throwing righthander got Donnelly to ground out to end the inning. Evans fanned the side in the ninth to preserve the win for Wood.

Ziegler's home run in the fourth for the losers was the game's only extra base hit. The lineups:

Mathias Cops Lead In PVC

Romney Triumphs Over Moorefield

Mathias High School's defending champions took over the leadership of the Potomac Valley Conference with a 4-1 record by defeating the Franklin High School Panthers yesterday at Franklin by the score of 8-5, in nine innings.

Coach Hoy Dave's tossers won it the hard way, trailing 3-0 for six innings, knotting the count in the seventh and putting the game on ice with a 5-run explosion in the ninth frame.

Albert Makowski, who has pitched all of the games played by Mathias, yielded eleven hits, failed to issue a pass and fanned 10 to register his fourth win against a single loss.

Richard Delawder's double with the bases loaded sent over three runs and tied the score in the 7th. Rodney Sherman led off the 9th with a triple and five successive singles by Steve Taylor, Ed Mongold, Gary Strawderman, Gary Wilkins and Makowski featured the five-run rally.

Circleville High's Indians defeated Petersburg, 6-4, and Romney's Pioneers downed Moorefield, 4-3 in other games played yesterday.

Moorefield Drops Out Of Pen-Mar Loop

Moorefield's All-Stars will not twinkle in the Pen-Mar Baseball League this season, according to Howard L. Northcraft, secretary of the circuit.

Northcraft was advised yesterday that the Moorefield team is withdrawing from the league because of "lack of interest." Several practice sessions have been called by the team but only a few players reported, Northcraft was told.

Dodgers Win, 4-3

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Ron Perranoski rescued Sandy Koufax in the eighth inning Thursday night by striking out Gordon Coleman with two men on base to preserve the Los Angeles Dodgers' 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Mantle Hits Homer, John Blanchard's Double Breaks Tie

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Mickey Mantle's home run and triple, Johnny Blanchard's tie-breaking double and Ralph Terry's six-hit pitching gave the New York Yankees a 3-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Thursday night.

Terry, gaining his third win without defeat, was the first Yankee pitcher to go the distance this season as he struck out 10.

Blanchard broke a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning when he doubled inside first base to score Tom Tresh, who had doubled to open the inning. The Yankees scored their third run in the ninth when Mantle tripled and scored on Elston Howard's infield out.

Baltimore tied the score when Jackie Brandt led off the second inning with a single, stole second and scored on Jerry Adair's two-out double over Mantle's head.

Mantle drew seven walks in 13 trips to the plate during the three-game Oriole series and now has 12 walks in 26 appearances this season. He has only 14 official at-bats in six games.

Bedford Beats Hyndman, 12-2

Hornets Suffer 4th Defeat In League

Hyndman High School's Hornets went down to defeat for the fourth straight time in a Bedford County League game yesterday when the Bedford High School Bisons won at Hyndman by the score of 12-2.

Bedford collected 15 hits off Howard Clites, who fired the third strike past 12 batsmen. Five of the Bison' hits were two-baggers.

Faust started on the rubber for Bedford and got by the first inning but in the second after he walked four successive batsmen he was derricked in favor of Ely, who yielded three hits over the remaining six innings, whiffed ten and received credit for the victory.

Hyndman's three hits were singles by Don Logue, John Hoffman and Kinton.

Donnie Raines Blanks Valley Knights, 4-0

Flintstone Whipped By Campers, 17-6; Beall Rained Out

Donnie Raines, hard-luck right-hander for Bruce High's Bulldogs last year turned the tables as he blanked Valley High's Black Knights, 4-0, in the opening game of the County Baseball League's Western Division at Detmold yesterday.

Beaten five times in six decisions in 1961 — four times when Bruce failed to score a run for him — Raines posted the whitewashing this time as he tossed a three-hitter for Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs in a contest called after six innings because of rain.

Raines Fans Seven

Donnie fired the third strike past seven Valley batters and walked three to best Wheeler Clark who held Bruce in check except for the third inning when the Bulldogs scored all four runs.

Bruce combined two singles, a walk and an error in the big frame to post the four tallies, although the Bulldogs obtained only four hits off Clark.

A second Western Division contest at Frostburg between Mt. Savage High's Indian and the Beall Mountaineers was called off because of rain and was rescheduled for 4 p.m. on Monday.

In the Eastern Division, Coach Chet Payne's Allegany High Campers walloped the hapless Flintstone Aggies, 17-6, at Flintstone. The visitors took advantage of 13 Flintstone errors, seven walks and nine hits to register the easy victory.

Stewart Is Winner

The Campers spotted Flintstone a 2-0 lead in the first inning, then exploded for seven in the fourth and six more in the seventh to win handily.

Jim Stewart picked up the win for Allegany, allowing four hits and all of Flintstone's runs in five innings. He struck out six. Roger Flanagan blanked the Aggies on one hit over the last two frames, whiffing five.

Stewart was Allegany's leading slugger with three hits, including a double and a triple. Flanagan also belted a three-bagger and a single for the winners. Kinton and Smith had two hits apiece for Flintstone. The lineups:

Duquesne Announces 23-Game Cage Card

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —The University of Duquesne's basketball team will play a 23-game schedule during the 1962-63 season.

Among the top teams that will play on the Dukes' home court are Dayton, Villanova, Bradley, Seton Hall and St. Bonaventure. New opponents are Kent State, Bethany and Kentucky Wesleyan.

Appearances in the New York Holiday Festival and Pitt's Steel Bowl are included on the Duquesne schedule. The Dukes have dropped four opponents from last year's schedule. They are Cincinnati, Westminster, St. Vincent, and St. Francis of Brooklyn.

Oksanen Cops Boston Marathon

BOSTON (UPI) — Finnish police detective Eino Oksanen captured his third Boston A.A. Marathon crown so easily Thursday that he used his wrist watch and a Finnish running mate in place of American competition.

Oksanen, 31,a former Finnish national marathon champion, and 30-year-old countryman Paavo Pystenen, an Army sergeant, ran away from the rest of the 179-man international field in the 66th running of the Kopkinton-to-Boston race.

After the pair had run the last American challenger, Marine Lt. Alex Breckenridge, into the pavement, they fled the final five miles in a medium to heavy rain shower. Oksanen winning by 300 yards in 2:23:48, well off the record of 2:20:05.

Breckenridge finished third in 2:27:17, while the only U. S. runner to win the 26-mile, 385-yar race in the last 16 years, Connecticut schoolteacher Johnny Kelley, was fourth in 2:28:37, more than eight minutes off the course record he set to win in 1957.

Toronto Takes Lead

TORONTO (UPI)—Led by bull-shouldered Bob Pulford's three-goal "hat trick," the Toronto Maple Leafs bombed the Chicago Black Hawks, 8-4, Thursday night to take a 3-2 lead in the finals of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Roman Line Wins

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Roman Line ran away from a top six-horse field, including three other Kentucky Derby eligibles, to take the $7,500 Forerunner Purse at Keeneland Race Course Thursday.

BOSTON (UPI) —The National League played a split season in 1892. Boston won the first half and Cleveland the second. Boston then won the playoff in 5 straight games.

Clinton's Grand Slam Beats Detroit, 9 To 5

Boston's Gene Conley Wins First Victory Over Tigers

BOSTON (UPI) — A grandslam home run by Lou Clinton powered the Boston Red Sox to a 9-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers Thursday in a game delayed for 1 hour, 15 minutes by rain.

Clinton's homer in the fifth inning sparked a six-run rally to break open a duel between starting pitchers Phil Regan of Detroit and Gene Conley.

A sudden loss of control ruined Regan in the fifth. Conley singled and Regan walked the next three batters to force in a run. Former Red Soxer Jerry Casale relieved Regan. Frank Malzone greeted him with an infield single to drive in another run.

Scott's One-Day Way to improve your lawn

It doesn't take hard work or expert skill to transform a frustrating lawn into a satisfying one. It doesn't even take a lot of time. In just one afternoon you can keep crabgrass from plaguing you again this year, and plant that better lawn you want. The answer to crabgrass is HALTS. It lies in wait, kills crabgrass as it sprouts. Yet HALTS lets good grass sprout unharmed, so you can sow all-perennial SCOTTS SEED the same day. Non-burning TURF BUILDER completes the job, gives new and established grass the protein-building nutrition it needs to thrive.

Ask us about the Scotts guarantee . . . a better lawn or your money back!

Donnie Raines Blanks Valley Knights, 4-0

Flintstone Whipped By Campers, 17-6; Beall Rained Out

Donnie Raines, hard-luck right-hander for Bruce High's Bulldogs last year turned the tables as he blanked Valley High's Black Knights, 4-0, in the opening game of the County Baseball League's Western Division at Detmold yesterday.

Beaten five times in six decisions in 1961 — four times when Bruce failed to score a run for him — Raines posted the whitewashing this time as he tossed a three-hitter for Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs in a contest called after six innings because of rain.

Raines Fans Seven

Donnie fired the third strike past seven Valley batters and walked three to best Wheeler Clark who held Bruce in check except for the third inning when the Bulldogs scored all four runs. Bruce combined two singles, a walk and an error in the big frame to post the four tallies, although the Bulldogs obtained only four hits off Clark.

A second Western Division contest at Frostburg between Mt. Savage High's Indian and the Beall Mountaineers was called off because of rain and was rescheduled for 4 p.m. on Monday.

In the Eastern Division, Coach Chet Payne's Allegany High Campers walloped the hapless Flintstone Aggies, 17-6, at Flintstone. The visitors took advantage of 13 Flintstone errors, seven walks and nine hits to register the easy victory.

Stewart Is Winner

The Campers spotted Flintstone a 2-0 lead in the first inning, then exploded for seven in the fourth and six more in the seventh to win handily.

Jim Stewart picked up the win for Allegany, allowing four hits and all of Flintstone's runs in five innings. He struck out six. Roger Flanagan blanked the Aggies on one hit over the last two frames, whiffing five.

Stewart was Allegany's leading slugger with three hits, including a double and a triple. Flanagan also belted a three-bagger and a single for the winners. Kinton and Smith had two hits apiece for Flintstone. The lineups:

Oksanen Cops Boston Marathon

BOSTON (UPI) — Finnish police detective Eino Oksanen captured his third Boston A.A. Marathon crown so easily Thursday that he used his wrist watch and a Finnish running mate in place of American competition.

Oksanen, 31,a former Finnish national marathon champion, and 30-year-old countryman Paavo Pystenen, an Army sergeant, ran away from the rest of the 179-man international field in the 66th running of the Kopkinton-to-Boston race.

After the pair had run the last American challenger, Marine Lt. Alex Breckenridge, into the pavement, they fled the final five miles in a medium to heavy rain shower. Oksanen winning by 300 yards in 2:23:48, well off the record of 2:20:05.

Breckenridge finished third in 2:27:17, while the only U. S. runner to win the 26-mile, 385-yar race in the last 16 years, Connecticut schoolteacher Johnny Kelley, was fourth in 2:28:37, more than eight minutes off the course record he set to win in 1957.

Toronto Takes Lead

TORONTO (UPI)—Led by bull-shouldered Bob Pulford's three-goal "hat trick," the Toronto Maple Leafs bombed the Chicago Black Hawks, 8-4, Thursday night to take a 3-2 lead in the finals of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Roman Line Wins

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Roman Line ran away from a top six-horse field, including three other Kentucky Derby eligibles, to take the $7,500 Forerunner Purse at Keeneland Race Course Thursday.

BOSTON (UPI) —The National League played a split season in 1892. Boston won the first half and Cleveland the second. Boston then won the playoff in 5 straight games.

Clinton's Grand Slam Beats Detroit, 9 To 5

Boston's Gene Conley Wins First Victory Over Tigers

BOSTON (UPI) — A grandslam home run by Lou Clinton powered the Boston Red Sox to a 9-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers Thursday in a game delayed for 1 hour, 15 minutes by rain.

Clinton's homer in the fifth inning sparked a six-run rally to break open a duel between starting pitchers Phil Regan of Detroit and Gene Conley.

A sudden loss of control ruined Regan in the fifth. Conley singled and Regan walked the next three batters to force in a run. Former Red Soxer Jerry Casale relieved Regan. Frank Malzone greeted him with an infield single to drive in another run.

Scott's One-Day Way to improve your lawn

It doesn't take hard work or expert skill to transform a frustrating lawn into a satisfying one. It doesn't even take a lot of time. In just one afternoon you can keep crabgrass from plaguing you again this year, and plant that better lawn you want. The answer to crabgrass is HALTS. It lies in wait, kills crabgrass as it sprouts. Yet HALTS lets good grass sprout unharmed, so you can sow all-perennial SCOTTS SEED the same day. Non-burning TURF BUILDER completes the job, gives new and established grass the protein-building nutrition it needs to thrive.

Ask us about the Scotts guarantee . . . a better lawn or your money back!

— SPECIAL OFFER —

Game Halted By Rain In Fourth

Fort Hill High opened its 1962 baseball season by turning back an Alumni aggregation, 3-0, yesterday in an abbreviated contest halted after 3½ innings because of wind and rain at Fort Hill.

Coach Bobby Cavanaugh's Sentinels scored single runs in the first three innings as Kenny Deatelhouser blanked the Grads on three hits before the rains came. Weaver had two hits, including a double for the losers.

Landis Sparks Chisox Victory

Hits Two Homers As Twins Bow, 10-3

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Jim Landis smashed two home runs, including his first grand slam in the majors to cap a nine-run first inning, as the Chicago White Sox swept a three-game series by ripping the Minnesota Twins 10-3.

The White Sox paraded 12 men to the plate in the first. The run total fell short of matching Cleveland's league record of 14 for a first inning, set June 18, 1950.

But the Chisox did tie another record by not leaving a single man on base. Several teams share that mark.

Knudson Leads Houston Golf

Canadian Fires 66, Holds Stroke Edge

HOUSTON (UPI) — Canadian George Knudson, looking for his first U.S. win this year, fired a 4-under-par 66 Thursday to lead a par-shattering assault on the Memorial Park course in the opening round of the $50,000 Houston Classic golf tournament.

The 24-year-old Knudson, whose only U.S. win was last year's Coral Gables Open, carded a 32-34—66. The rugged Memorial Course also saw 14 others come in under par and 10 more equal par.

Jackie Cupit, former University of Houston star who was the rookie of the year in 1961, and defending champion Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La., were tied at 3-under-par 67 just behind Knudson.

Eight other players were bunched at 1-under-par. These included Bruce Crampton, Billie Maxwell, Fred Hawkins, Don January, Joe Campbell, Bo Wininger, Paul Harney and Dave Marr.

Ft. Hill Tops Alumni, 3-0

Game Halted By Rain In Fourth

Fort Hill High opened its 1962 baseball season by turning back an Alumni aggregation, 3-0, yesterday in an abbreviated contest halted after 3½ innings because of wind and rain at Fort Hill.

Coach Bobby Cavanaugh's Sentinels scored single runs in the first three innings as Kenny Deatelhouser blanked the Grads on three hits before the rains came. Weaver had two hits, including a double for the losers.

Carry Back To Run At Aqueduct Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back, 1961 champion 3-year-old, will oppose 10 rivals Friday in the $10,000 Marriage Purse at Aqueduct as a final tuneup for the $75,000-added Grey Lag Handicap April 28.

Colt Rookies Meet At WM July 19

Knudson Leads Houston Golf

Canadian Fires 66, Holds Stroke Edge

HOUSTON (UPI) — Canadian George Knudson, looking for his first U.S. win this year, fired a 4-under-par 66 Thursday to lead a par-shattering assault on the Memorial Park course in the opening round of the $50,000 Houston Classic golf tournament.

The 24-year-old Knudson, whose only U.S. win was last year's Coral Gables Open, carded a 32-34—66. The rugged Memorial Course also saw 14 others come in under par and 10 more equal par.

Jackie Cupit, former University of Houston star who was the rookie of the year in 1961, and defending champion Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La., were tied at 3-under-par 67 just behind Knudson.

Eight other players were bunched at 1-under-par. These included Bruce Crampton, Billie Maxwell, Fred Hawkins, Don January, Joe Campbell, Bo Wininger, Paul Harney and Dave Marr.

Mears To Coach Tennessee Cagers

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (AP) — Ray Mears of Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio, was hired Thursday as University of Tennessee basketball coach. Mears succeeds John Sines, 47, who resigned Sunday to enter private business.

Here is a car as big as a panel truck (but no blind spots). Here you have glass all the way around the car. You can load from the rear or walk in from the right side. You can carry 5 passengers plus a large cargo. This vehicle has been checked through the garage and is in A-1 condition. It is a beautiful two tone of brown and beige finish. It is a V-8 with automatic transmission and easy to handle in traffic. The equipment includes radio, heater, defroster, signal lights, outside mirror, plus the small accessories . . . Landis Sparks Chisox Victory

Hits Two Homers As Twins Bow, 10-3

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Jim Landis smashed two home runs, including his first grand slam in the majors to cap a nine-run first inning, as the Chicago White Sox swept a three-game series by ripping the Minnesota Twins 10-3.

Landis, hitting only .167 entering the game, had a single besides his homers and drove in five runs in boosting his average to .294.

The White Sox paraded 12 men to the plate in the first. The run total fell short of matching Cleveland's league record of 14 for a first inning, set June 18, 1950.

But the Chisox did tie another record by not leaving a single man on base. Several teams share that mark.

Third Straight Advance Posted By Stock Market

NEW YORK (UPI)— Stocks scored their third consecutive advance Thursday spearheaded by point-sized gains in oils. Trading in the pre-holiday session remained moderate.

Brokers attributed the gain to news of an increase in short interest, favorable first quarter earnings reports, news that Reynolds metals was stepping up aluminum output and American Telephone's report of a "healthy" increase in telephone use.

Also contributing to the brighter market outlook, experts noted, is President Kennedy's relaxation of tension between government and the steel industry.

Dow-Jones industrial average rose 3.24 and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index advanced 0.32. Trading dipped to 3,100,000 shares from 3,350,000 in the previous session.

A total of 1,278 issues were traded Thursday of which 655 advanced and 384 declined. Of these 40 hit new 1962 lows and 33 new highs.

Steels were mixed with Republic off 1¼ and Lukens ⅞ but Continental was up 1½ and Youngstown 1¾. U.S. Steel dipped fractionally most of the day on talk that the company may cut the dividend at its quarterly meeting next week, but recovered to close unchanged.

Motors were errtaic with Chrysler up a point on higher earnings. In the chemicals DuPont tacked on 2½ on higher earnings. Oils, which have announced a series of acquisitions, were higher. Barber climbed 2, Amerada 1¼, Ohio 2⅛ and General American 2¾.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Wheat and rye futures fell back from early peaks, but other grains closed mostly higher Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with corn leading the advance.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ⅜; corn up ⅝ to 1⅝; oats up ⅛ to ¾; rye off ½ to up ¼ and soybeans up ⅛ to 1¼.

Trading was moderately active in most grains and heavy in corn despite some dealers being absent for religious observances. The market will be closed Friday for Good Friday.

Wheat, oats and rye firmed early on a report showing sharp reductions in Cnadian grain stocks. Rye supplies were only half those of a year ago.

Trading slowed down in wheat after the upswing, and prices receded under scattered selling. Early buying came from local and commisson interests. Complaints of winter damage in some wheat states were also a factor.

May and July corn gained up to 1½ cents a bushel on general demand from commercial, commisson and local short interests. The buying was stimulated by reports the Commodity Credit Corp. would temporarily halt domestic corn sales in round lots to catch up on bookkeeping.

A leading processor bought May soybeans and local shorts covered in the July. Soybean meal was firm and the May reached a new high for the season.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Third Straight Advance Posted By Stock Market

NEW YORK (UPI)— Stocks scored their third consecutive advance Thursday spearheaded by point-sized gains in oils. Trading in the pre-holiday session remained moderate.

Brokers attributed the gain to news of an increase in short interest, favorable first quarter earnings reports, news that Reynolds metals was stepping up aluminum output and American Telephone's report of a "healthy" increase in telephone use.

Also contributing to the brighter market outlook, experts noted, is President Kennedy's relaxation of tension between government and the steel industry.

Dow-Jones industrial average rose 3.24 and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index advanced 0.32. Trading dipped to 3,100,000 shares from 3,350,000 in the previous session.

A total of 1,278 issues were traded Thursday of which 655 advanced and 384 declined. Of these 40 hit new 1962 lows and 33 new highs.

Steels were mixed with Republic off 1¼ and Lukens ⅞ but Continental was up 1½ and Youngstown 1¾. U.S. Steel dipped fractionally most of the day on talk that the company may cut the dividend at its quarterly meeting next week, but recovered to close unchanged.

Motors were errtaic with Chrysler up a point on higher earnings. In the chemicals DuPont tacked on 2½ on higher earnings. Oils, which have announced a series of acquisitions, were higher. Barber climbed 2, Amerada 1¼, Ohio 2⅛ and General American 2¾.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Wheat and rye futures fell back from early peaks, but other grains closed mostly higher Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with corn leading the advance.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ⅜; corn up ⅝ to 1⅝; oats up ⅛ to ¾; rye off ½ to up ¼ and soybeans up ⅛ to 1¼.

Trading was moderately active in most grains and heavy in corn despite some dealers being absent for religious observances. The market will be closed Friday for Good Friday.

Wheat, oats and rye firmed early on a report showing sharp reductions in Cnadian grain stocks. Rye supplies were only half those of a year ago.

Trading slowed down in wheat after the upswing, and prices receded under scattered selling. Early buying came from local and commisson interests. Complaints of winter damage in some wheat states were also a factor.

May and July corn gained up to 1½ cents a bushel on general demand from commercial, commisson and local short interests. The buying was stimulated by reports the Commodity Credit Corp. would temporarily halt domestic corn sales in round lots to catch up on bookkeeping.

Oats moved higher with corn as commission buying touched off stoploss orders.

A leading processor bought May soybeans and local shorts covered in the July. Soybean meal was firm and the May reached a new high for the season.

Grains at outside markets were mostly higher.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland did, in regular session Monday, March 26, 1962, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of an unnamed fifteen (15) foot alley as shown on a map in the Engineer's office and known as "Map of the Cumberland Improvement Company's Eastern Addition and Eastern Addition Annex to Cumberland, Maryland."

After meeting on the premises (10:00 A. M., March 12, 1962) and remaining there for a period in excess of one-half (½) hour; and after considering the entire matter and all persons who were heard at the time and place heretofore mentioned; and after walking over the entire area, the following was the unanimous opinion of the commissioners appointed to close the aforementioned alley:

"That there are no damages or benefits to the owners of lots binding on the fifteen (15) foot alley running in an Easterly direction across part of Lot No. 378, and all of Lots Nos. 377, 376, 375, 374 and 373 of the Cumberland Improvement Co's. Eastern Addition and Eastern Addition Annex, from the Southeasterly side of Pine Avenue to the Southwesterly side of Monroe Street, a distance of approximately 300 feet. Also, since the alley is being closed at the request of Mr. Herman Meekins, the Commissioners feel that he should be required to pay all costs incurred by the City of Cumberland in connection with the closing of said alley."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after March 26 1962, and filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

N O T I C E

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland did, in regular session Monday, March 26, 1962, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of an unnamed fifteen (15) foot alley as shown on a map in the Engineer's office and known as "Map of the Cumberland Improvement Company's Eastern Addition and Eastern Addition Annex to Cumberland, Maryland."

After meeting on the premises (10:00 A. M., March 12, 1962) and remaining there for a period in excess of one-half (½) hour; and after considering the entire matter and all persons who were heard at the time and place heretofore mentioned; and after walking over the entire area, the following was the unanimous opinion of the commissioners appointed to close the aforementioned alley:

"That there are no damages or benefits to the owners of lots binding on the fifteen (15) foot alley running in an Easterly direction across part of Lot No. 378, and all of Lots Nos. 377, 376, 375, 374 and 373 of the Cumberland Improvement Co's. Eastern Addition and Eastern Addition Annex, from the Southeasterly side of Pine Avenue to the Southwesterly side of Monroe Street, a distance of approximately 300 feet. Also, since the alley is being closed at the request of Mr. Herman Meekins, the Commissioners feel that he should be required to pay all costs incurred by the City of Cumberland in connection with the closing of said alley."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after March 26 1962, and filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

Jurors Will Get Murder Case Today

Mason Begins Closing Argument Before Trial Is Recessed Overnight

The murder case in which Mrs. Garnette Bennett, 39, of 300 Willowbrook Road, is accused of fatally wounding her husband, Moses S. Bennett, 43, on January 31 is expected to go to the petit jury in Allegany County Circuit Court this morning.

Closing arguments in the trial, which opened Wednesday morning, began late yesterday afternoon after Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris gave the instructions to the jurors. The court has been jammed with spectators both days.

This morning, George Thomas, Washington, D.C. and John C. Sullivan, co-counsel for the defendant, will give their closing arguments, which will be followed by the final argument of State's Attorney James S. Getty.

Six Rebuttal Witnesses

Among the witnesses was Melvin Bible, 219 Willowbrook, a neighbor of the Bennetts with whom the deceased had stayed for a period of time prior to the fatal shooting on the morning of January 31.

He recalled an incident when the accused reportedly threw a jar of face cream at her husband while he was staying at the Bible dwelling. Mr. Bible testified Mr. and Mrs. Bennett had gotten into arguments on various occasions, although he had never seen him assault her.

The face cream jar incident was also recalled by Clifton Bennett, 15, son of the accused. He added that afterward his father grabbed his mother and told her to go home.

"Had Difficulties"

Samuel Clopper, Christie Road, brother of the accused, said that during January, prior to the shooting, he and his mother were driving to town when they saw Mrs. Bennett and stopped the car near the Bible home.

Clopper, who said his sister has a "terrible temper," said she had a knife on that particular day and was "going up home and cut every tire off his car."

He told the court that the four children of the accused thought she should be punished before he had expressed such an opinion in their presence.

Plant Record

Lindsay M. Bray, who keeps employment records at the Kelly Springfield Tire Company plant, where the deceased had been employed, pointed out that Bennett's record at the plant was "average" and he had "no black marks."

The final witness to testify in the case was 17-year-old Raymond Bennett who said his parents had done no "real fighting" but argued. On such occasions, he said, the father would usually walk out.

Raymond said that about five years ago on a New Year's night, his mother had stabbed his father in the arm with a fork. He said they were drinking at that time.

He testified that during the past year his mother would leave the house after Bennett went to work. He said she went "pretty often through the week," and would return about midnight or afterwards although he did not know where she would go.

ACCUSED TESTIFIED

Yesterday morning the accused took the stand and testified for about an hour and a half. She described how she "had been afraid of him" and loaded a shotgun for protection.

She recounted her married life of the past 19 years saying that her husband had beaten her often while he was drunk and neglected her during her pregnancies with their four children.

Under vigorous cross-examination by Mr. Getty, she sobbed and cried out " I don't care what you do to me."

"Are your children against you?" Getty asked.

"Yes," she sobbed, "because they have been 'poisoned' against me."

County Gets $9,000 Fund In Interest

$37,478 Realized This Fiscal Year

Allegany County earned another $9,000 in interest this week on some $400,000 of county funds which had been on interest-bearing deposit since about last July 1, County Commissioner John T. Mason reported last night.

Mr. Mason said that this $9,000 brings to $37,478.62 the interest received so far in this fiscal year. Another $15,000 is anticipated before June 30.

This is the third year that the county has been collecting interest on county funds until they are needed in a program instituted by Mr. Mason, who is in charge of the county's finance department.

The $9,000 received this week brings to $107,191.58 the interest yield in less than three full fiscal years. This year some $2,350,000 was deposited in interest-bearing accounts, primarily funds collected in June when a five per cent discount is allowed on county real estate and personal property taxes.

During the current fiscal year these funds have been deposited in the second National Bank and Cumberland Savings Bank.

Before this program was started the funds were placed in a checking account and no interest was received by the county, Mr. Mason pointed out.

New Optimist Club To Start Next Monday

Official organization of the new Optimist Club of Bowling Green and Potomac Park has been rescheduled for Monday, April 23, according to Bernard DeLisle, chairman pro tem of the new club, and W. Lester Hudson, president of the Optimist Club of Cumberland, sponsor of the new group.

The week's delay was caused by the inability of George Williams, field representative of Optimist International, to attend last Monday. He will be here on Monday, accompanied by Sidney Kaplan, Baltimore, governor of District 33, and Frank Beachley, Braddock Heights, lieutenant governor of Zone B. District 33.

Because of the delay, charter memberships in the new club will be available for the remainder of this week.

At the last meeting of the new club, Ed Daugherty of Frederick, a former president of the Frederick Optimist Club and a past governor of District 16, Optimist International. He spoke on the significance of the Optimist Creed, written by Christian D. Larson in 1922.

Mr. DeLisle requests that men interested in charter membership in the new club contact him immediately.

Reimbursement To Investors Seen Unlikely

Frank Small Denies Withdrawal Yarn

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Frank Small Jr., candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said Thursday he believed it would be difficult for the state to reimburse investors who lost funds in savings and loan failures.

But Small, a former congressman from Southern Maryland's 5th District, said there was a definite possibility that persons responsible for the savings and loan scandals could be prosecuted.

Small and two other Republican candidates, Edward T. Miller for U.S. senator and Rogers C. B. Morton for 1st District congressman, spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Dorchester County Republican State Central Committee.

A Clinton businessman, Small said it was unfortunate that soundly operated savings firms were given what he called a black eye by a few financially precarious ones.

Small, himself a director of a savings and loan association, claimed that no candidate in the Democratic and Republican primary campaign was benefitting from the savings and loan scandals.

Small also laid to rest reports that—if he is nominated—he might withdraw from the general election race and pave the way for the statewide GOP organization to name former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin as the nominee.

Small said flatly that he would not withdraw in favor of any other Republican. McKelind, who served two terms from 1950-1958, has said he would run if Small withdrew.

Morton, brother of Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said many Maryland Republicans were defeatists and that the state needs a strong two party system.

"I am willing to wager that within three to four years we will have a vigorous Republican Party on the Eastern Shore,' Morton said.

Reminded that unions were working hard for a heavy Democratic registration on the Eastern Shore, Morton said:

"It is easy enough to blame the Republican Party's problems on the unions more than on the Democrats, but our concern is what the Republican Party is going to do to combat them.'

Miller was more optimistic. When the opposition controls the District of Columbia, the Maryland Republican Party is at its best," he said.

Miller said he was concerned with the serious national problems, particularly the size of the federal bureaucrcay. "Creeping socialism is not creeping any any more,' Miller said.

He described the Kennedy Administration's medical are for the aged bill the "most iniquitous bill ever offered' because it would not provide insurance for some 4.5 million needy persons.

Small, Miller and Morton ended a two-day tour on the Eastern Shore Thursday. It wsa the final visit here by Small and Miller before the primary next month.

Meanwhile, another Republican

Celanese Contract Is Signed

Extortion Case Will Go Before Grand Jurors

Zihlman Man Out On Bond

A case involving the alleged violation of the Federal Extortion Statute by a 19-year-old Frostburg area youth in March is expected to be presented to a federal grand jury next week in Baltimore.

James William Haupt, Zihlman, was arrested early March 30 by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and was later released under $5,000 bond after being arraigned before U.S. Commissioner James A. Avirett.

If indicted on the federal charge, Haupt is expected to be tried in Baltimore during the first part of May, authorities said.

The U.S. District Attorney's Office and Federal District Court authorities will present the case to the grand jury, they added.

A special agent of the FBI said Haupt had sent three unsigned letters through the mail during the period March 17 to March 26 demanding $25,000 from Joseph H. Kruson, retired executive of Frostburg.

The agent said in the third unsigned letter, Haupt threatened Mr. Kruson's life and directed him to deliver the money at the Kaiser Refractories brickyard in Zihlman at 11:30 p.m. March 29. Mr. Kruson managed the plant until his retirement.

The FBI was notified upon receipt of the letter by Mr. Kruson and Haupt was identified when he appeared at the pay-off scene and was arrested.

The threatening letter was postmarked from Frostburg, according to the agent, who said Haupt was arrested on authority of Assistant U.S. District Attorney Stephen H. Sachs, Baltimore. The complaint was filed the morning of March 30 by he FBI before Mr. Avirett.

Ralph Beard Night Set By Rubber Workers Union

Ralph Beard Night will be observed tomorrow by Local 26, Rubber Workers Union.

The ceremonies honoring Mr. Beord, a veteran member and officer of the Kelly local, will be held in conjunction with the regular membership meeting of the local Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

He will be presented a certificate and plaque by John House, Akron, a member of the staff of the URWA's Education department, according to James Stein, president.

Mr. Beard retired in January after 37 years of service in the Curing department of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here.

His union activities began in 1933 under Federal Labor Union 19007, which became Local 26, URWA, in 1935. He has served continuously in some office of Local 26 since 1935, including two terms as president.

For many years, he served as Executive Board member and Western Maryland vice president of the old Maryland State and District of Columbia Industrial Union Council.

He has served since 1938 on the Advisory Board of the Department of Employment Security and has been a member of Selective Service Appeal Board since 1940 and chairman of Local Board 29 for a number of years.

Mr. Beard, who makes his home on Valley Road with his wife, Mabel Virginia Beard, has not worked since last June, when he suffered a heart attack.

Refreshments will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary of Local 26.

Warning Is Issued On Bleach

Officials of the Allegany County Health Department and the State's Attorney's office have issued a warning to residents of the area concerning packages of liquid bleach which are being distributed throughout the section.

The warning was issued so parents can keep the liquid bleach from small children who may find the packages on the door knobs of their homes.

An advertising concern recently has been placing the sample packages on the door of homes in the area. A warning on the package states it contains sodium hypochlorite and should not be taken internally.

The health department said it had reports that five children had taken some of the liquid and a number of complaints also had been received from several physicians.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said last night he spoke with J. Byron Dowling, county sanitarian, and told him to contact the advertising distributor about stopping deliveries until a meeting could be held to discuss the matter.

Man, Wife Sentenced In Court

A local man and his wife received jail sentences yesterday in Juvenile Court after they were found guilty of non-support and neglect of the five minor children.

Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin, sentenced William Harvey Myers, 31, North Mechanic Street, to a year in the House of Correction for non-support, while his wife, Mrs. Anna Mae Myers, 29, of the rear of 427 Virginia Avenue, was given 30 days in the County Jail for neglecting her children.

Magistrate Fatkin noted Myers had been away from home since May 1961 and was "absolutely irresponsible."

The children, who range in age from one to 10, were placed in the foster care program of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Church To Hold Service Today

Good Friday services will be conducted this afternoon at Second Baptist Church, Grand Avenue and Oldtown Road, by members of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

The service will be held from noon until 3 p. m. and the sermon topic will be "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

Taking part in the service will be Rev. Russell E. Fink, Rev. Louis L. Emerick, Rev. James H. Boggs, Rev. Robert C. Nimon, Rev. Connell T. Chaney, Rev. Harold R. McCray and Rev. Dr. E. E. Miller.

Getty Is Chairman For Steers' Campaign

State's Attorney James S. Getty has accepted the chairmanship of the Allegany County campaign for Newton Steers of Montgomery County, Republican candidate for Congress-at-large in Maryland subject to the May 15 primary election.

Davis Memorial Plans Service

Davis Memorial Methodist Church will hold a Good Friday service today at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Richard A. Budden, pastor, will speak on "From Calvary's Vantage Point," and the church choir will provide special music.

Mahoney Links Boone With S&L Association

Maryland Thrift Assets Frozen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Democratic candidate for the governor's nomination found new ammunition in another court case to fire directly at House Floor Leader A. Gordon Boone, D-Balto County, and indirectly at Gov. Tawes.

Mahoney jumped on the disclosure Wednesday that Boone's name was linked with Maryland Thrift Savings and Loan Co. whose assets were frozen on motion by the state. The company was insured by Security Financial Insurance Corp., of which Boone was an organizer.

It was claimed that the savings firm listed mortgages at more than true value with the Southbrook Building Co. Boone was listed as an incorporator of Southbrook.

"If the records show I incorporated it, I did," said Boone. "I have had nothing to do with it since then and this is the first I have heard of it since then. I haven't the slightes idea whom we incorporated it for."

"Again we see the all too familiar pattern beginning to emerge," said Mahoney. "And again the savings and loan scandals move closer to the empty chair in the executive mansion."

Boone is running for re-election as delegate on the Tawes ticket. Boone's law partner, Daniel B. Brewster, is a candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination and he was the target of one of the Republican candidates.

Gleason said that 20 days after the Maryland Legislature last April approved state construction of a bridge to the island, Brewster turned over a $10,000 mortgage and legal interest in a land case to another partner, John H. Cook.

Dave Hume, another candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, urged that the state act immediately to acquire all the land feasible for public use on Assateague.

Hume took notice of an interim recommendation by the National Park Service that the entire island be acquired for public use. The service said the Atlantic Ocean storms of last month "demonstrates its unsuitability for permanent development."

He said the land should be appraised at its actual worth which he said "is virtually nothing without state improvement."

Hume had another suggestion at a luncheon of Maryland Baptist ministers in Washington. He proposed that former governors be named permanent members of the Maryland Senate.

Shrine Temple Will Meet Tonight

Ali Ghan Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., will conduct its regular monthly meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, according to J. Wallace Close, illustrious potentate.

Potentate Close explained that some confusion has arisen about the meeting because today is Good Friday.

New Ballfield Construction Begins Here

Resurfacing Work Set Before Races

The spring construction season of the City of Cumberland opened yesterday as the Hout Construction Company began work on the preparation of a baseball field near the sewage treatment plant.

The company yesterday notified Street Commissioner John J. Long that it was beginning work on the $11,500 project which is financed by the City Recreation Department's construction fund.

The contract involves the moving of some 6,500 cubic feet of earth, the installation of over 800 feet of underdrains for the regulation ballfield and the spreading of some 1,200 yards of topsoil.

Is Staked Out

Some 16,000 square yards of surface will be seeded and mulched, and special work is called for in the preparation of the infield.

The contractor started work on the project yesterday after City Engineering Department staffers staked out the area and furnished grades.

Already in progress is work on the installation of a traffic light system at the intersection of Greene and Allegany streets. The work is being done under contract by the Queen City Electric Company.

The Carl D. Stickley firm of Keyser has informed Mr. Long that present plans call for beginning resurfacing work on a number of downtown streets about May 1.

Street Work Set

He added he plans to complete all of the work before the Sports Car Races.

The firm submitted the low bid of $27,017.40 for placing a smooth-seal bituminous surface on Baltimore, Bedford, Frederick, Liberty, Harrison, Centre, Mechanic, Henry, Union and Polk streets, and a two-inch bituminous concrete surface on Buckingham Road.

Also slated this spring is the resurfacing of Arch and East Third streets under contracts awarded by the Mayor and Council Monday to the Cumberland Contracting Company.

Foley To Head Area Credit Union Chapter

Melvin Foley, of Local 676 UPA-CIO Federal Credit Union of Westernport, was elected president of the Western Maryland Chapter of Credit Unions at the annual meeting held here Tuesday.

Mr. Foley is also chairman of the supervisory committee of his credit union which serves over 2,000 employes of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company with assets of $1,204,000, according to S. J. Domenick, managing director of the Maryland Credit Union League, Inc.

The Western Maryland Chapter of credit unions is composed of 16 credit unions in Allegany County serving over 13,000 members with total assets of $5,800,000 which makes up 10 per cent of the state's credit union movement of $58 million with 162,000 members in the 211 credit unions.

Other officers elected were: Arthur Young, vice president, Kel-co Federal Credit Union; Alleine Courtney, secretary, Amcelle Federal Credit Union; Emogene Little, assistant secretary, Kel-co Federal Credit Union; Donald Andrews, treasurer, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Federal Credit Union, and James Mellon, chapter league director, Cumberland B&O Employes Federal Credit Union.

Past-presidents attending the meeting were Fred B. Griffith, treasurer of the B&O credit union, and Clyde E. O'Baker, of Kel-co credit union.

Youths Guilty In Juvenile Case

William Albert Dayton, 20, of RFD 4, city, Tuesday was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old local girl and was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Juvenile Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin also found the girl guilty of being a delinquent minor and made her a ward of the court.

Dayton and the girl reportedly were with another local youth who stole an automobile recently and drove it to Nashville, Tenn. The car was abandoned near Nashville, and the youths hitchhiked back to Cumberland.

Jurors Will Get Murder Case Today

Mason Begins Closing Argument Before Trial Is Recessed Overnight

The murder case in which Mrs. Garnette Bennett, 39, of 300 Willowbrook Road, is accused of fatally wounding her husband, Moses S. Bennett, 43, on January 31 is expected to go to the petit jury in Allegany County Circuit Court this morning.

Closing arguments in the trial, which opened Wednesday morning, began late yesterday afternoon after Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris gave the instructions to the jurors. The court has been jammed with spectators both days.

This morning, George Thomas, Washington, D.C. and John C. Sullivan, co-counsel for the defendant, will give their closing arguments, which will be followed by the final argument of State's Attorney James S. Getty.

Six Rebuttal Witnesses

Yesterday afternoon six witnesses for the state testified in the rebuttal after the defense had completed its case.

Among the witnesses was Melvin Bible, 219 Willowbrook, a neighbor of the Bennetts with whom the deceased had stayed for a period of time prior to the fatal shooting on the morning of January 31.

He recalled an incident when the accused reportedly threw a jar of face cream at her husband while he was staying at the Bible dwelling. Mr. Bible testified Mr. and Mrs. Bennett had gotten into arguments on various occasions, although he had never seen him assault her.

The face cream jar incident was also recalled by Clifton Bennett, 15, son of the accused. He added that afterward his father grabbed his mother and told her to go home.

"Had Difficulties"

Howard Bennett, Golden Lane, brother of deceased, testified that the couple "had difficulties" in their marital life.

Samuel Clopper, Christie Road, brother of the accused, said that during January, prior to the shooting, he and his mother were driving to town when they saw Mrs. Bennett and stopped the car near the Bible home.

Clopper, who said his sister has a "terrible temper," said she had a knife on that particular day and was "going up home and cut every tire off his car."

He told the court that the four children of the accused thought she should be punished before he had expressed such an opinion in their presence.

Plant Record

Lindsay M. Bray, who keeps employment records at the Kelly Springfield Tire Company plant, where the deceased had been employed, pointed out that Bennett's record at the plant was "average" and he had "no black marks."

The final witness to testify in the case was 17-year-old Raymond Bennett who said his parents had done no "real fighting" but argued. On such occasions, he said, the father would usually walk out.

Raymond said that about five years ago on a New Year's night, his mother had stabbed his father in the arm with a fork. He said they were drinking at that time.

He testified that during the past year his mother would leave the house after Bennett went to work. He said she went "pretty often through the week," and would return about midnight or afterwards although he did not know where she would go.

ACCUSED TESTIFIED

Yesterday morning the accused took the stand and testified for about an hour and a half. She described how she "had been afraid of him" and loaded a shotgun for protection.

She recounted her married life of the past 19 years saying that her husband had beaten her often while he was drunk and neglected her during her pregnancies with their four children.

Under vigorous cross-examination by Mr. Getty, she sobbed and cried out " I don't care what you do to me."

The outburst followed questioning regarding testimony by some witnesses which was against her.

"Are your children against you?" Getty asked.

"Yes," she sobbed, "because they have been 'poisoned' against me."

County Gets $9,000 Fund In Interest

$37,478 Realized This Fiscal Year

Allegany County earned another $9,000 in interest this week on some $400,000 of county funds which had been on interest-bearing deposit since about last July 1, County Commissioner John T. Mason reported last night.

Mr. Mason said that this $9,000 brings to $37,478.62 the interest received so far in this fiscal year. Another $15,000 is anticipated before June 30.

This is the third year that the county has been collecting interest on county funds until they are needed in a program instituted by Mr. Mason, who is in charge of the county's finance department.

The $9,000 received this week brings to $107,191.58 the interest yield in less than three full fiscal years. This year some $2,350,000 was deposited in interest-bearing accounts, primarily funds collected in June when a five per cent discount is allowed on county real estate and personal property taxes.

During the current fiscal year these funds have been deposited in the second National Bank and Cumberland Savings Bank.

Before this program was started the funds were placed in a checking account and no interest was received by the county, Mr. Mason pointed out.

New Optimist Club To Start Next Monday

Official organization of the new Optimist Club of Bowling Green and Potomac Park has been rescheduled for Monday, April 23, according to Bernard DeLisle, chairman pro tem of the new club, and W. Lester Hudson, president of the Optimist Club of Cumberland, sponsor of the new group.

The week's delay was caused by the inability of George Williams, field representative of Optimist International, to attend last Monday. He will be here on Monday, accompanied by Sidney Kaplan, Baltimore, governor of District 33, and Frank Beachley, Braddock Heights, lieutenant governor of Zone B, District 33.

Because of the delay, charter memberships in the new club will be available for the remainder of this week.

At the last meeting of the new club, Ed Daugherty of Frederick, a former president of the Frederick Optimist Club and a past governor of District 16, Optimist International. He spoke on the significance of the Optimist Creed, written by Christian D. Larson in 1922.

Mr. DeLisle requests that men interested in charter membership in the new club contact him immediately.

Frank Small Denies Withdrawal Yarn

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Frank Small Jr., candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said Thursday he believed it would be difficult for the state to reimburse investors who lost funds in savings and loan failures.

But Small, a former congressman from Southern Maryland's 5th District, said there was a definite possibility that persons responsible for the savings and loan scandals could be prosecuted.

Small and two other Republican candidates, Edward T. Miller for U.S. senator and Rogers C. B. Morton for 1st District congressman, spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Dorchester County Republican State Central Committee.

A Clinton businessman, Small said it was unfortunate that soundly operated savings firms were given what he called a black eye by a few financially precarious ones.

Small, himself a director of a savings and loan association, claimed that no candidate in the Democratic and Republican primary campaign was benefitting from the savings and loan scandals.

Small also laid to rest reports that—if he is nominated—he might withdraw from the general election race and pave the way for the statewide GOP organization to name former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin as the nominee.

Small said flatly that he would not withdraw in favor of any other Republican. McKelind, who served two terms from 1950-1958, has said he would run if Small withdrew.

Miller, former congressman from the 1st District, said 1962 would be a good year for the Maryland Republican Party, but Morton seemed doubtful.

Morton, brother of Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said many Maryland Republicans were defeatists and that the state needs a strong two party system.

"I am willing to wager that within three to four years we will have a vigorous Republican Party on the Eastern Shore,' Morton said.

Reminded that unions were working hard for a heavy Democratic registration on the Eastern Shore, Morton said:

"It is easy enough to blame the Republican Party's problems on the unions more than on the Democrats, but our concern is what the Republican Party is going to do to combat them.'

Miller was more optimistic. When the opposition controls the District of Columbia, the Maryland Republican Party is at its best," he said.

Miller said he was concerned with the serious national problems, particularly the size of the federal bureaucrcay. "Creeping socialism is not creeping any any more,' Miller said.

He described the Kennedy Administration's medical are for the aged bill the "most iniquitous bill ever offered' because it would not provide insurance for some 4.5 million needy persons.

Small, Miller and Morton ended a two-day tour on the Eastern Shore Thursday. It wsa the final visit here by Small and Miller before the primary next month.

Meanwhile, another Republican

Extortion Case Will Go Before Grand Jurors

Zihlman Man Out On Bond

A case involving the alleged violation of the Federal Extortion Statute by a 19-year-old Frostburg area youth in March is expected to be presented to a federal grand jury next week in Baltimore.

James William Haupt, Zihlman, was arrested early March 30 by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and was later released under $5,000 bond after being arraigned before U.S. Commissioner James A. Avirett.

If indicted on the federal charge, Haupt is expected to be tried in Baltimore during the first part of May, authorities said.

The U.S. District Attorney's Office and Federal District Court authorities will present the case to the grand jury, they added.

A special agent of the FBI said Haupt had sent three unsigned letters through the mail during the period March 17 to March 26 demanding $25,000 from Joseph H. Kruson, retired executive of Frostburg.

The agent said in the third unsigned letter, Haupt threatened Mr. Kruson's life and directed him to deliver the money at the Kaiser Refractories brickyard in Zihlman at 11:30 p.m. March 29. Mr. Kruson managed the plant until his retirement.

The FBI was notified upon receipt of the letter by Mr. Kruson and Haupt was identified when he appeared at the pay-off scene and was arrested.

The threatening letter was postmarked from Frostburg, according to the agent, who said Haupt was arrested on authority of Assistant U.S. District Attorney Stephen H. Sachs, Baltimore. The complaint was filed the morning of March 30 by he FBI before Mr. Avirett.

Ralph Beard Night Set By Rubber Workers Union

Ralph Beard Night will be observed tomorrow by Local 26, Rubber Workers Union.

The ceremonies honoring Mr. Beord, a veteran member and officer of the Kelly local, will be held in conjunction with the regular membership meeting of the local Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

He will be presented a certificate and plaque by John House, Akron, a member of the staff of the URWA's Education department, according to James Stein, president.

Mr. Beard retired in January after 37 years of service in the Curing department of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here.

His union activities began in 1933 under Federal Labor Union 19007, which became Local 26, URWA, in 1935. He has served continuously in some office of Local 26 since 1935, including two terms as president.

For many years, he served as Executive Board member and Western Maryland vice president of the old Maryland State and District of Columbia Industrial Union Council.

He has served since 1938 on the Advisory Board of the Department of Employment Security and has been a member of Selective Service Appeal Board since 1940 and chairman of Local Board 29 for a number of years.

Mr. Beard, who makes his home on Valley Road with his wife, Mabel Virginia Beard, has not worked since last June, when he suffered a heart attack.

Refreshments will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary of Local 26.

Warning Is Issued On Bleach

Officials of the Allegany County Health Department and the State's Attorney's office have issued a warning to residents of the area concerning packages of liquid bleach which are being distributed throughout the section.

The warning was issued so parents can keep the liquid bleach from small children who may find the packages on the door knobs of their homes.

An advertising concern recently has been placing the sample packages on the door of homes in the area. A warning on the package states it contains sodium hypochlorite and should not be taken internally.

The health department said it had reports that five children had taken some of the liquid and a number of complaints also had been received from several physicians.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said last night he spoke with J. Byron Dowling, county sanitarian, and told him to contact the advertising distributor about stopping deliveries until a meeting could be held to discuss the matter.

Man, Wife Sentenced In Court

A local man and his wife received jail sentences yesterday in Juvenile Court after they were found guilty of non-support and neglect of the five minor children.

Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin, sentenced William Harvey Myers, 31, North Mechanic Street, to a year in the House of Correction for non-support, while his wife, Mrs. Anna Mae Myers, 29, of the rear of 427 Virginia Avenue, was given 30 days in the County Jail for neglecting her children.

Magistrate Fatkin noted Myers had been away from home since May 1961 and was "absolutely irresponsible."

The children, who range in age from one to 10, were placed in the foster care program of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Mahoney Links Boone With S&L Association

Maryland Thrift Assets Frozen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Democratic candidate for the governor's nomination found new ammunition in another court case to fire directly at House Floor Leader A. Gordon Boone, D-Balto County, and indirectly at Gov. Tawes.

Mahoney jumped on the disclosure Wednesday that Boone's name was linked with Maryland Thrift Savings and Loan Co. whose assets were frozen on motion by the state. The company was insured by Security Financial Insurance Corp., of which Boone was an organizer.

It was claimed that the savings firm listed mortgages at more than true value with the Southbrook Building Co. Boone was listed as an incorporator of Southbrook.

"If the records show I incorporated it, I did," said Boone. "I have had nothing to do with it since then and this is the first I have heard of it since then. I haven't the slightes idea whom we incorporated it for."

"Again we see the all too familiar pattern beginning to emerge," said Mahoney. "And again the savings and loan scandals move closer to the empty chair in the executive mansion."

Boone is running for re-election as delegate on the Tawes ticket. Boone's law partner, Daniel B. Brewster, is a candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination and he was the target of one of the Republican candidates.

James T. Gleason declared that Brewster should drop out of the campaign because of his activities in land on Assateague Island.

Gleason said that 20 days after the Maryland Legislature last April approved state construction of a bridge to the island, Brewster turned over a $10,000 mortgage and legal interest in a land case to another partner, John H. Cook.

Brewster had represented the Cecil Amusement Co. which claimed title to some Assateague Island land being sought by the state for a park.

Dave Hume, another candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, urged that the state act immediately to acquire all the land feasible for public use on Assateague.

Hume took notice of an interim recommendation by the National Park Service that the entire island be acquired for public use. The service said the Atlantic Ocean storms of last month "demonstrates its unsuitability for permanent development."

He said the land should be appraised at its actual worth which he said "is virtually nothing without state improvement."

Hume had another suggestion at a luncheon of Maryland Baptist ministers in Washington. He proposed that former governors be named permanent members of the Maryland Senate.

New Ballfield Construction Begins Here

Resurfacing Work Set Before Races

The spring construction season of the City of Cumberland opened yesterday as the Hout Construction Company began work on the preparation of a baseball field near the sewage treatment plant.

The company yesterday notified Street Commissioner John J. Long that it was beginning work on the $11,500 project which is financed by the City Recreation Department's construction fund.

The contract involves the moving of some 6,500 cubic feet of earth, the installation of over 800 feet of underdrains for the regulation ballfield and the spreading of some 1,200 yards of topsoil.

Is Staked Out

Some 16,000 square yards of surface will be seeded and mulched, and special work is called for in the preparation of the infield.

The contractor started work on the project yesterday after City Engineering Department staffers staked out the area and furnished grades.

Already in progress is work on the installation of a traffic light system at the intersection of Greene and Allegany streets. The work is being done under contract by the Queen City Electric Company.

The Carl D. Stickley firm of Keyser has informed Mr. Long that present plans call for beginning resurfacing work on a number of downtown streets about May 1.

Street Work Set

He added he plans to complete all of the work before the Sports Car Races.

The firm submitted the low bid of $27,017.40 for placing a smooth-seal bituminous surface on Baltimore, Bedford, Frederick, Liberty, Harrison, Centre, Mechanic, Henry, Union and Polk streets, and a two-inch bituminous concrete surface on Buckingham Road.

Also slated this spring is the resurfacing of Arch and East Third streets under contracts awarded by the Mayor and Council Monday to the Cumberland Contracting Company.

Foley To Head Area Credit Union Chapter

Mr. Foley is also chairman of the supervisory committee of his credit union which serves over 2,000 employes of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company with assets of $1,204,000, according to S. J. Domenick, managing director of the Maryland Credit Union League, Inc.

The Western Maryland Chapter of credit unions is composed of 16 credit unions in Allegany County serving over 13,000 members with total assets of $5,800,000 which makes up 10 per cent of the state's credit union movement of $58 million with 162,000 members in the 211 credit unions.

Other officers elected were: Arthur Young, vice president, Kel-co Federal Credit Union; Alleine Courtney, secretary, Amcelle Federal Credit Union; Emogene Little, assistant secretary, Kel-co Federal Credit Union; Donald Andrews, treasurer, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Federal Credit Union, and James Mellon, chapter league director, Cumberland B&O Employes Federal Credit Union.

Past-presidents attending the meeting were Fred B. Griffith, treasurer of the B&O credit union, and Clyde E. O'Baker, of Kel-co credit union.

The by-laws were amended under chairmanship of Hugh Robinette, of Local 453 credit union. Credit Union insurance services was presented by George D. Parlette, of Cuna Mutual Insurance Society, and S. J. Domenick, League managing director.
